impact editors Astrid Skjerven and Rachel Gotlieb shed light on the development of national and regional design identities and their historical associations Authors investigate the transnational circulation of ideas throughout the later 20th century and consider the influences on design practices production and consumerism They look at how different countries negotiated and promoted Nordic branding and ideology and offer new perspectives on design in relation to sustainability changing economies and indigenous traditions A range of leading international scholars evaluate the popularity of Nordic style in Soviet material culture the influence on jewellery design in post war Britain the impact of national design conferences exhibitions and education in Europe the USA Canada and Japan Drawing from a wealth of archival material and interviews with designers makers and other stakeholders this book reveals a lesser known history of cross cultural collaborations exhibition production and tensions between mainstream and indigenous design in Scandinavia Transnational Discourses in Nordic Design also provides an insight into some of the authors own design practices and reveals the challenges facing Nordic designers today

The Ecologies of the Building Envelope Alejandro Zaera-Polo, Jeffrey Anderson, 2021-05-11 The Ecologies of the Envelope theorizes the building envelope as a literal embodiment of the social political technological and economic contingencies which have become embedded within it over the last century analyzing the historical lineages heroes and villains that helped define the complex material ecologies we see within the envelope today While the facade is one of the most thoroughly theorized elements of architecture it is also one of the most questioned since the end of the 19th century Within the discipline of architecture the traditional understanding of the facade focuses primarily on semiotic and compositional operations such as proportional laws and linguistic codes which are deployed on the building's surface In contrast to this our material and environmental theory of the envelope proposes that the exponential development of building technologies since the mid 19th century coupled with new techniques of management and regulation have diminished the compositional and ornamental capacities of the envelope in favor of material quantitative and technical performances Rather than producing a stylistic analysis of the facade we investigate the historical lineages of the performances components assembly types and material entanglements that constitute the contemporary building envelope

Mass Customisation and Personalisation in Architecture and Construction Poorang A.E. Piroozfar, Frank T. Piller, 2013-06-19 Challenged by the recent economic crisis the building and construction industry is currently seeking new orientation and strategies Here mass customisation is uncovered as a key strategy in helping to meet this challenge The term mass customisation denotes an offering that meets the demands of each individual customer whilst still being produced with mass production efficiency Today mass customisation is emerging from a pilot stage into a scalable and sustainable strategy The first dedicated publication of its kind this book provides a forum for the concept within an applied and highly innovative context The book includes contributions from some of the most prominent thinkers and practitioners in the field from across the world including Kasper S Vibaek Steve Kendall Martin Bechthold Mitchell M Tseng and Masa Noguchi Bringing together this panel
