strawberry industry as a harm industry and explores author Dvera Saxton s activist ethnographic work with farmworkers in response to health and environmental injustices She argues that dealing with devilish as in deadly depressing disabling and toxic problems requires intersecting ecosocial emotional ethnographic and activist labors Through her work as an activist medical anthropologist she found the caring labors of engaged ethnography take on many forms that go in many different directions Through chapters that examine farmworkers embodiment of toxic pesticides and social and workplace relationships Saxton critically and reflexively describes and analyzes the ways that engaged and activist ethnographic including those related to research conservation and resource management At its core ecological informatics combines dissemination of results to scientists and the public Its conceptual framework links ecological entities genomes organisms populations communities ecosystems landscapes with data management analysis and synthesis and communicates new findings to inform decisions by following the course of a loop In comparison to the 2nd edition published in 2006 the 3rd
