Bland, 2010-06-28 In many ways the history of domestic humor writing is also a history of domestic life in the twentieth century For many years domestic humor was written primarily by females significant contributions from male writers began as times and family structures changed It remains timeless because of its basis on the relationships between husbands and wives parents and children houses and inhabitants pets and their owners chores and their doers and neighbors This work is a historical and literary survey of humorists who wrote about home It begins with a chapter on the social context of and attitudes toward traditional domestic roles and housewives The following chapters beginning with the 1920s and continuing through today cover the different time periods and the foremost American domestic humorists and the humor written by surrogate parents grown children about their childhood families husbands and Canadian and English writers Also covered are the differences among various writers toward traditional domestic roles some like Erma Bombeck and Judith Viorst embraced them while others like Caryl Kristenson and Marilyn Kentz resisted them Common themes such as the isolation and competitiveness of housework home as an idealized metaphysical goal and ongoing physical challenge and the urban suburban and rural life are also explored

Shopping Malls and Other Sacred Spaces Jon Pahl, 2008-12-29 Christian historian Sidney Mead has observed In America space has played the part that time has played in older cultures of the world In Shopping Malls and Other Sacred Spaces Jon Pahl examines this provocative statement in conversation with what he calls the spatial character of American theology He argues that places are always imaginatively constructed by the human beings who inhabit them Sometimes this spatial theology works to our benefit other times it poses spiritual risks What happens when our banal clothing of the sacred violates our genuine need for comfort and intimacy Or when we remember that the fleeting pleasures of a shopping trip or a Disneyland escape are designed to fill someone else's pocket rather than the spiritual emptiness in our own hearts Pahl develops several ways to clothe the divine from within the Christian tradition He introduces a theology of place that reveals aspects of God's character through biblical metaphors drawn from physical spaces such as the true vine the rock and the living water Accessible and thought provoking this enlightening book provides a better grasp of our particularly American way of lending religious significance to spaces of all kinds

Dave Barry Turns Fifty Dave Barry,1999-08-31 From the Pulitzer Prize winning journalist comes a celebration of the aging process Not just Dave s but that of the whole Baby Boom Generation those millions of us who set a standard for whining self absorption that will never be equaled and who gave birth to such stunning accomplishments as Saturday Night Live the New Age movement and call waiting Here Dave pinpoints the glaring signs that you ve passed the half century mark You are suddenly unable to read anything written in letters smaller than Marlon Brando You have accepted the fact that you can t possibly be hip You don t even know if hip is the right word for hip anymore and you don t care You remember nuclear attack drills at school wherein you practiced protecting yourself by crouching under your desk which was apparently made out of some kind of atomic bomb proof wood You can t name the secretary of defense but you can still sing the Mister Clean song So pop open a can of Geritol kick back in that recliner grab those reading glasses and let the good times roll before they roll right over you Home Again Jose Yglesias,2002-09-30 A quietly humorous look at one man s return to his childhood world What are you doing here From the moment the cantankerous narrator Pinpin answers the phone in an empty house in Tampa Florida the question asked by his cousin Tom Tom echoes in his mind Having left the Anglo Saxon gentry of Boston s Louisburg Square and the contentious left wing intelligentsia of New York s Greenwich Village Pinpin a retired novelist wants nothing more than to be left alone His wife dead his books out of print his sons lost to the seductive wiles of word processors and movie development deals until finally at the end of his tether Pinpin goes back to Tampa But he is quick to assert I am not returning touching base none of that Tampa is where I came from that s all you could say for it As soon as Pinpin sets foot back in his parents house against his will and better judgement he finds himself snared in the mire of family politics and demands with one cousin telling him not to trust another Not knowing what to think Pinpin is dragged along on a bizarre and hilarious quest through the back streets of Tampa on a mission to rescue his misguided young grand niece
