We are all overwhelmed with information that claims to be factual, but even the most punctilious researcher, writer, and journalist can sometimes get it wrong, so checking facts has become a more pressing task. Now Sarah Harrison Smith, former New Yorker fact checker and currently head of checking for The New York Times Magazine, explains exactly how to read for accuracy. Determine what to check, research the facts, assess sources (people, newspapers, and magazines, books, the Internet, etc.), check quotations, understand the legal liabilities, look out for and avoid the dangers of plagiarism. For everyone from students to journalists to editors, the methods and practices outlined in The Fact Checker's Bible provide both a standard and a working manual for how to get the facts right.
