Seven Myths of Africa in World History David Northrup, 2017-09-01 Northrup's highly accessible book breaks through the most common barriers that readers encounter in studying African history. Each chapter takes on a common myth about Africa and explains both the sources of the myth and the research that debunks it. These provocative chapters will promote lively discussions among readers while deepening their understanding of African and world history. The book is strengthened by its incorporation of actors and issues representing the African diaspora and African Americans in particular. Rebecca Shumway, College of Charleston

Hanna-Barbera Jared Bahir Browsh, 2022-01-11 With careers spanning eight decades, William Hanna and Joseph Barbera were two of the most prolific animation producers in American history. In 1940 the two met at MGM and created Tom and Jerry, who would earn 14 Academy Award nominations and seven wins. The growth of television led to the founding of Hanna-Barbera's legendary studio that produced countless hours of cartoons with beloved characters from Fred Flintstone, George Jetson, and Scooby Doo to the Super Friends and the Smurfs. Prime time animated sitcoms, Saturday morning cartoons, and Cartoon Network's cable animation are some of the many areas of television revolutionized by the team. Their productions are critical to our cultural history, reflecting ideologies and trends in both media and society. This book offers a complete company history and examines its productions' influences, changing technologies, and enduring cultural legacy with careful attention to Hanna-Barbera's problematic record of racial and gender representation.

The Book in Africa C. Davis, D. Johnson, 2015-03-02 This volume presents new research and critical debates in African book history and brings together a range of disciplinary perspectives by leading scholars in the subject. It includes case studies from across Africa ranging from third-century manuscript traditions to twenty-first-century internet communications.

The Banana Girls Hirji, Karim F., 2017-07-19 Two talented high school girls who are also best friends have resolved to eat bananas everyday. Together with their devotion to the truth and idealistic spirit, this addiction slowly propels them far into the lands of ideas and action. From reserved science students, they evolve to be steadfast fighters for justice and ultimately find themselves behind bars, convicted of terrorism-related charges. This action-packed novel traces that evolution through a wide cast of characters that range from school mates, teachers, family members, street vendors to state officials and businessmen, both national and international. It is a story based in Africa of true friendship and the struggle for a decent human existence in the face of powerful adversaries. Though otherwise entirely fictional, it derives from existent and historical realities. Interspersed within its pages, you will find enticing entities from the plant kingdom as well as songs, photos, and mathematical ideas relating to bananas. The supplementary material at the end provides an introduction to the factual basis of the story.

Global NATO and the Catastrophic Failure in Libya Horace Campbell, 2013-03-01 In this incisive account, scholar Horace Campbell investigates the political and economic crises of the early twenty-first century through the prism of NATO's intervention in Libya. He traces the origins of the conflict, situates it in the broader context of the Arab Spring uprisings, and explains the expanded role of a post Cold War NATO This military organization he argues is the instrument through which the capitalist class of North America and Europe seeks to impose its political will on the rest of the world however warped by the increasingly outmoded neoliberal form of capitalism The intervention in Libya characterized by bombing campaigns military information operations third party countries and private contractors exemplifies this new model Campbell points out that while political elites in the West were quick to celebrate the intervention in Libya as a success the NATO campaign caused many civilian deaths and destroyed the nation s infrastructure Furthermore the instability it unleashed in the forms of militias and terrorist groups have only begun to be reckoned with as the United States learned when its embassy was attacked and personnel including the ambassador were killed Campbell s lucid study is essential reading for anyone seeking to understand this complex and weighty course of events

Indirect Subjects Matthew H. Brown,2021-08-23 In Indirect Subjects Matthew H Brown analyzes the content of the prolific Nigerian film industry s mostly direct to video movies alongside local practices of production and circulation to show how screen media play spatial roles in global power relations Scrutinizing the deep structural and aesthetic relationship between Nollywood as the industry is known and Nigerian state television Brown tracks how several Nollywood films in ways similar to both state television programs and colonial cinema productions invite local spectators to experience liberal capitalism not only as a form of exploitation but as a set of expectations about the future This mode of address which Brown refers to as periliberalism sustains global power imbalances by locating viewers within liberalism but distancing them from its processes and benefits Locating the wellspring of this hypocrisy in the British Empire s practice of indirect rule Brown contends that culture industries like Nollywood can sustain capitalism by isolating ordinary African people whose labor and consumption fuel it from its exclusive privileges 365 Days of Real Black History Supreme Understanding,Robert
