

HOW TO PARK A CAR PROPERLY

PARALLEL PARKING

1. Choose a space large enough for your vehicle with adequate room to maneuver.
2. Use your right turn signal and slow down to indicate your intent to park in the space.
3. Stop when you are even with the rear bumper of the parking space.

4. Shift into reverse, checking mirrors and blind spots for oncoming traffic.
5. Back up slowly, turning the steering wheel sharply right when the rear wheels are just past the front of the parking space.

6. Continue backing to level your rear bumper to near the curb and your passenger side mirror to the rear of the car in front.
7. Straighten your vehicle, as you slowly back up, and when the rear of the car is parallel to the curb.

8. Watch the car behind you closely, and reverse back as farward as needed to make yourself in the parking space. Then shift into drive and pull out.
9. Exit the car with caution, as you drive away into approaching traffic.

ANGLED PARKING

1. As you approach an angled parking space, make sure the space is wide enough to park your vehicle safely within the space.
2. Use your turn signal to indicate you are taking the space.

3. Reverse slowly until your rear wheel is about 10 to 15 feet from the curb.
4. Steer sharply right, or left, driving the rear of the car into the space.

5. Pull forward until your front bumper is about 10 to 15 feet from the curb, and your car is safely out of the flow of traffic.
6. Shift into drive and pull out, backing out of the space when you are ready.

PERPENDICULAR PARKING

1. To park in 90-degree parking spaces, make sure the space is wide enough to park your vehicle safely within the space.
2. Signal the direction of the parking space and pull up slowly.

3. Turn the wheel sharply when the front of the car reaches the parking line.
4. Carefully adjust your turn to avoid the cars on both sides.

5. Straighten your wheel when the front of your car reaches the center of the space.
6. Pull forward until your front bumper is just past the end of the space and the rear of your vehicle is safely out of traffic.
7. Park with your wheels straight so that you can back out in a straight line.

REVERSE PERPENDICULAR PARKING (BACKING IN)

1. Use your signal to indicate the parking space you are backing into.
2. Pull past the parking space until your side mirror reaches the front end of the next parking space.

3. Steer sharply away from the space, and when the rear wheel is at an angle to the next parking spot, shift into reverse and check mirrors and blind spots.
4. Back slowly, checking for parked cars and corners of adjacent vehicles in your mirrors.

5. Back up straight until your rear bumper is just past the end of the space.
6. Back up slowly to center your vehicle in the space, about a foot from the end of the space.
