Governing The Commons The Evolution Of Institutions For Collective Action Canto Classics:

Governing the Commons Elinor Ostrom, 2015-09-23 The governance of natural resources used by many individuals in common is an issue of increasing concern to policy analysts Both state control and privatization of resources have been advocated but neither the state nor the market have been uniformly successful in solving common pool resource problems After critiquing the foundations of policy analysis as applied to natural resources Elinor Ostrom here provides a unique body of empirical data to explore conditions under which common pool resource problems have been satisfactorily or unsatisfactorily solved Dr Ostrom uses institutional analysis to explore different ways both successful and unsuccessful of governing the commons In contrast to the proposition of the tragedy of the commons argument common pool problems sometimes are solved by voluntary organizations rather than by a coercive state Among the cases considered are communal tenure in meadows and forests irrigation communities and other water rights and fisheries The Evolution of Knowledge

Jürgen Renn, 2022-05-03 A fundamentally new approach to the history of science and technology This book presents a new way of thinking about the history of science and technology one that offers a grand narrative of human history in which knowledge serves as a critical factor of cultural evolution Jürgen Renn examines the role of knowledge in global transformations going back to the dawn of civilization while providing vital perspectives on the complex challenges confronting us today in the Anthropocene this new geological epoch shaped by humankind Renn reframes the history of science and technology within a much broader history of knowledge analyzing key episodes such as the evolution of writing the emergence of science in the ancient world the Scientific Revolution of early modernity the globalization of knowledge industrialization and the profound transformations wrought by modern science He investigates the evolution of knowledge using an array of disciplines and methods from cognitive science and experimental psychology to earth science and evolutionary biology The result is an entirely new framework for understanding structural changes in systems of knowledge and a bold new approach to the history and philosophy of science Written by one of today's preeminent historians of science The Evolution of Knowledge features discussions of historiographical themes a glossary of key terms and practical insights on global issues ranging from climate change to digital capitalism This incisive book also serves as an invaluable introduction to the history of knowledge The Routledge Handbook of Anti-Corruption Research and Practice

Joseph Pozsgai-Alvarez, Roxana Bratu, 2025-06-30 The Routledge Handbook of Anti Corruption Research and Practice takes a multidisciplinary and multidimensional approach to provide a comprehensive exploration of the processes conditions and activities that hold the potential to control corruption Building on existing knowledge gathered from a variety of social science sources it strives to provide analytical emancipation of and coherence to anti corruption studies Anti corruption transcends the traditional boundaries of state actors involving individual and organizational business actors civil society groups members of the media accounting and legal professions as well as sports associations and other non traditional actors

This handbook adopts a holistic approach to reflect the rich nature of the manifestations of anti corruption past and present and the possible shapes it may still take in the future This handbook is a key reference for scholars students and practitioners engaged in the study and practice of anti corruption corruption democracy public administration comparative politics as well as more broadly to the wider social sciences Chapter 2 and Chapter 46 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

The Socioeconomic Dynamics of Settling Down Gary M. Feinman, Victor D. Thompson, 2025-10-09 The foundation of larger and more permanent communities and the cooperative nature of this process of sedentism was one of the most consequential transitions in human history Decades of archaeological research across the globe now indicate clearly that this process was not necessarily tied to a greater reliance on domesticated resources nor was it generally linked to a cessation of individual or household mobility For this reason the process of establishing larger and denser networks of social interaction was not necessarily unidirectional irreversible nor driven strictly by resource availability The process was highly social and the long term sustainability of these denser social aggregations and networks co occurred with the advent of new institutions and affiliations that often served to solidify the expanded interpersonal ties engendered by novel and more populated social contexts Yet consequentially the institutions modes of leadership affiliations and behaviors associated with settling down were markedly variable across time and space with variance often tied to the heritability concentration and distribution of the resources that sustained and financed these communities and their institutional components Resources and power were distributed to different degrees and were often situational Here we highlight and endeavor to account for variability in the tempo and timing of this process as well as the diverse paths that were taken in this key transformational episode in which the modes and scale of human cooperation often were reconfigured

Moving Crops and the Scales of History Francesca Bray, Barbara Hahn, John Bosco Lourdasamy, Tiago Saraiva, 2023-02-14 A bold redefinition of historical inquiry based on the cropscape the people creatures technologies ideas and places that surround a crop Human efforts to move crops from one place to another have been a key driving force in history Crops have been on the move for millennia from wildlands into fields from wetlands to dry zones from one imperial colony to another This book is a bold but approachable attempt to redefine historical inquiry based on the cropscape the assemblage of people places creatures technologies and other elements that form around a crop The cropscape is a method of reconnecting the global with the local the longue durée with microhistory and people plants and places with abstract concepts such as tastes ideas skills politics and economic forces Through investigating a range of contrasting cropscales spanning millennia and the globe the authors break open traditional historical structures of period geography and direction to glean insight into previously invisible actors and forces

Transformation Literacy Petra Künkel, Kristin Vala Ragnarsdóttir, 2022-03-02 This open access book brings science and practice together and inspires a global movement towards co creating regenerative civilizations that work for 100% of humanity and the Earth as a whole With its conceptual foundation of the concept of transformation literacy it enhances the knowledge and capacity of decision makers change agents and institutional actors to steward transformations effectively across institutions societal sectors and nations Humanity is at crossroads Resource depletion and exponential emissions that not only cause climate change but endanger the health of people and planet call for a decisive turnaround of human civilization A new and transformative paradigm is emerging that advocates for regenerative civilizations in which a narrative of systemic health as much as individual and collective vitality guide the interaction of socio economic ecological systems Truly transformative change must go far beyond technical solutions and instead envision what can be termed a new operating system that helps humankind to live well within the planetary boundaries and partner with life's evolutionary processes. This requires transformations at three different levels: Mindsets that reconnect with a worldview in which human agency acknowledges its co-evolutionary pathways with each other and the Earth; Political, social and economic systems that are regenerative and foster the care-taking for Earth life support systems; Competencies to design and implement effective large-scale transformative change processes at multiple levels with multiple stakeholders. This book provides key ingredients for enhancing transformation literacy from various perspectives around the globe. It connects the emerging practice of stewarding transformative change across business, government institutions and civil society actors with the most promising scientific models and concepts that underpin human action to shape the future collectively in accordance with planetary needs.

World Public Sector Report 2023 Department of Economic and Social Affairs, 2023-10-25. This report examines the role that national institutional and governance innovations and changes that emerged during the COVID-19 pandemic can play in advancing progress towards the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. The consequences of the pandemic threaten to derail progress and make the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) more difficult to achieve. Yet the pandemic also sparked rapid innovation in government institutions and public administration that could be capitalized on. Against this backdrop, the report focuses on how governments can reshape their relationship with people and other actors to enhance trust and promote the changes required for more sustainable and peaceful societies. How they can assess competing priorities and address difficult policy trade-offs that have emerged since 2020. And what assets and innovations they can mobilize to transform the public sector and achieve the SDGs. The e-book for this publication has been converted into an accessible format for the visually impaired and people with print reading disabilities. It is fully compatible with leading screen reader technologies such as JAWS and NVDA.
