Saving the Security State Inderpal Grewal, 2017-10-27 In Saving the Security State Inderpal Grewal traces the changing relations between the US state and its citizens in an era she calls advanced neoliberalism. Marked by the decline of US geopolitical power, endless war and increasing surveillance, advanced neoliberalism militarizes everyday life while producing the exceptional citizens: primarily white Christian men who reinforce the security state as they claim responsibility for protecting the country from racialized others. Under advanced neoliberalism, Grewal shows others in the United States strive to become exceptional by participating in humanitarian projects that compensate for the security state's inability to provide for the welfare of its citizens. In her analyses of microfinance programs in the global South, security moms, the murders at a Sikh temple in Wisconsin and the post 9/11 crackdown on Muslim charities, Grewal exposes the fissures and contradictions at the heart of the US neoliberal empire and the centrality of race, gender and religion to the securitized state.

TRANSLATING Coaching Codes of Practice - Leading the way into the personal knowledge bases of everyday practitioners Yvonne Thackray, 2017-09-22 Leading the way into the personal knowledge bases of everyday practitioners is the third book in the Translating Coaching Codes of Practice series. Our latest edited volume continues to be packed with refreshingly candid and insightful experiences. Over thirty established practitioners, both new and regular, share their realised insights and patterns from their unique code of practice. They report on key events that have influenced how they practice. They may be working from within an organisation. They may be working from a portfolio of service contracts with professionals in various organisations. They are all working with an individual, directly with groups and/or teams in different locations all around the world. Their insights and patterns of practice will be valuable to anyone seeking to make sense of how their coaching approach works in their own space. Importantly, the real knowledge of how coaching works lives in the heads of practitioners.

Repowering Cities Sara Hughes, 2019-11-15 The conceptualization and execution of Repowering Cities are terrific and provides readers with a deep understanding of why, how and to what effect cities have mobilized to mitigate the effects of climate change. Michael J. Rich, Emory University coauthor of Collaborative Governance for Urban Revitalization. City governments are rapidly becoming society's problem solvers. As Sara Hughes shows, nowhere is this more evident than in New York City, Los Angeles and Toronto where the cities' governments are taking on the challenge of addressing climate change. Repowering Cities focuses on the specific issue of reducing urban greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions and develops a new framework for distinguishing analytically and empirically the policy agendas city governments develop for reducing GHG emissions, the governing strategies they use to implement these agendas and the direct and catalytic means by which they contribute to climate change mitigation. Hughes uses her framework to assess the successes and failures experienced in New York City, Los Angeles and Toronto as those agenda-setting cities have addressed climate change. She then identifies strategies for moving from incremental to transformative change by pinpointing governing strategies able to mobilize the needed resources and actors build participatory institutions create capacity for climate smart governance and broaden coalitions for urban climate change policy
