How Canadians Communicate Consumption Controversy:

How Canadians Communicate VI Charlene Elliott, 2016-03-31 Food nourishes the body but our relationship with food extends far beyond our need for survival Food choices not only express our personal tastes but also communicate a range of beliefs values affiliations and aspirations sometimes to the exclusion of others In the media sphere the enormous amount of food related advice provided by government agencies advocacy groups diet books and so on compete with efforts on the part of the food industry to sell their product and to respond to a consumer driven desire for convenience As a result the topic of food has grown fraught engendering sometimes acrimonious debates about what we should eat and why By examining topics such as the values embedded in food marketing the locavore movement food tourism dinner parties food bank donations the moral panic surrounding obesity food crises and fears about food safety the contributors to this volume paint a rich and sometimes unsettling portrait of how food is represented regulated and consumed in Canada With chapters from leading scholars such as Ken Albala Harvey Levenstein Stephen Kline and Valerie Tarasuk the volume also includes contributions from food insiders bestselling cookbook author and food editor Elizabeth Baird and veteran restaurant reviewer John Gilchrist The result is a timely and thought provoking look at food as a system of communication through which Canadians articulate cultural identity personal values and social distinction Contributors include Ken Albala Elizabeth Baird Jacqueline Botterill Rebecca Carruthers Den Hoed Catherine Carstairs Nathalie Cooke Pierre Desrochers Josh Greenberg Stephen Kline Jordan Lebel Harvey Levenstein Wayne McCready Irina Mihalache Eric Pateman Rod Phillips Sheilagh Quaile Melanie Rock Paige Schell and Valerie Tarasuk

Canadian Culinary Imaginations Shelley Boyd, Dorothy Barescott, 2022-03-30 In the twenty first century food is media it is not just on plates but in literature and on screens displayed in galleries studios and public places Canadian Culinary Imaginations provokes new conversations about the food related concepts memories emotions cultures practices and tastes that make Canada unique This collection brings together academics writers artists journalists and curators to discuss how food mediates our experiences of the nation and the world Together the contributors reveal that culinary imaginations reflect and produce the diverse bodies contexts places communities traditions and environments that Canadians inhabit as well as their personal and artistic sensibilities Arranged in four thematic sections Indigeneity and foodways urban suburban and rural environments cultural and national lineages and subversions of categories the essays in this collection indulge a growing appetite for conversations about creative engagements with food and the world at large As the essays and images in Canadian Culinary Imaginations demonstrate food is more than sustenance as language and as visual and material culture it holds the power to represent and remake the world in unexpected ways

The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Health Şebnem Susam-Saraeva, Eva Spišiaková, 2021-05-09 The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Health provides a bridge between translation studies and the burgeoning field of health humanities which seeks novel ways of understanding health and illness As discourses around health and illness are dependent on languages for their transmission impact spread acceptance and rejection in local settings translation studies offers a wealth of data theoretical approaches and methods for studying health and illness globally Translation and health intersect in a multitude of settings historical moments genres media and users This volume brings together topics ranging from interpreting in healthcare settings to translation within medical sciences from historical and contemporary travels of medicine through translation to areas such as global epidemics disaster situations interpreting for children mental health women s health disability maternal health queer feminisms and sexual health and nutrition Contributors come from a wide range of disciplines not only from various branches of translation and interpreting studies but also from disciplines such as psychotherapy informatics health communication interdisciplinary health science and classical Islamic studies Divided into four sections and each contribution written by leading international authorities this timely Handbook is an indispensable resource for all students and researchers of translation and health within translation and interpreting studies as well as medical and health humanities Introduction and Chapter 18 of this book are freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Food, Environment, and Climate Change Erinn Gilson, Sarah Kenehan, 2018-10-18 This volume takes up the pressing issues of justice and responsibility that arise at the intersection of food and agricultural systems environmental degradation and global climate change The diverse contributions examine both the various ways that food and agricultural practices contribute to environmental degradation especially climate change and the impact that climate change is having and will have on food and agricultural practices Central questions include How can the connections between food and agriculture environmental issues and climate change best be understood What are the ethical and political responsibilities of various parties in relation to this nexus of problems Whose knowledge concerns and voices are and should be valued in making global climate policy and agricultural and food policy What are the limitations of existing policies practices and theoretical frameworks for understanding and responding to these complex problems

Food and Communication Mark McWilliams, 2016 The papers explored the use of food and cookery to explore the past and the exotic and food in corporations

Canadian Literary Fare Nathalie Cooke, Shelley Boyd, 2023-05-15 When writers place food in front of their characters who after all do not need sustenance they are asking readers to be alert to the meaning and implication of food choices As readers begin to listen closely to these cues they become attuned to increasingly layered stories about why it matters what foods are selected prepared served or shared and with whom where and when In Canadian Literary Fare Nathalie Cooke and Shelley Boyd explore food voices in a wide range of Canadian fiction drama and poetry drawing from their formational blog series with Alexia Moyer Thirteen short vignettes delve into metaphorical taste sensations telling of how single ingredients such as garlic or ginger or food items such as butter tarts or bannock can pack a hefty symbolic punch in literary contexts A chapter on Canada s public markets finds literary food voices sounding a largely positive note just as Canadian journalists trumpet Canada's bountiful and diverse foodways But in chapters on literary representations of bison and Kraft Dinner Cooke and Boyd bear witness to narratives of hunger food scarcity and social inequality with poignancy and insistence Canadian Literary Fare pays heed to food voices in the works of Tomson Highway Rabindranath Maharaj Alice Munro M NourbeSe Philip Eden Robinson Fred Wah and more inviting readers to listen for stories of foodways in the literatures of Canada and beyond Be Wise! Be Healthy! Catherine Carstairs, Bethany Philpott, Sara Wilmshurst, 2018-05-01 Lose weight Quit smoking Exercise more For over a century governments and voluntary groups have run educational campaigns encouraging Canadians to adopt healthy habits in order to prolong lives cost the state less and produce more efficient workers Be Wise Be Healthy explores the history of public health in Canada from the 1920s to the 1970s Through the Health League of Canada people were urged to drink pasteurized milk immunize their children and avoid extramarital sex Health was presented as a responsibility of citizenship and doctors and dentists as expert guides Public health campaigns have reduced preventable deaths But such campaigns can also stigmatize marginalized populations by implying that poor health is due to inadequate self care despite clear links between health and external factors such as poverty and trauma This clear eyed study demonstrates that while we may well celebrate the successes of public health campaigns they are not without controversy history adding a perspective of visual medium that is often neglected As such it should be interesting for food and media historians as well as those interested in European postwar history and culture We Eat What? Jonathan Deutsch,2018-05-25 This entertaining and informative encyclopedia examines American regional foods using cuisine as an engaging lens through which readers can deepen their study of American geography in addition to their understanding of America s collective cultures Many of the foods we eat every day are unique to the regions of the United States in which we live New Englanders enjoy coffee milk and whoopie pies while Mid Westerners indulge in deep dish pizza and Cincinnati chili Some dishes popular in one region may even be unheard of in another region This fascinating encyclopedia examines over 100 foods that are unique to the United States as well as dishes found only in specific American regions and individual states Written by an established food scholar We Eat What A Cultural Encyclopedia of Bizarre and Strange Foods in the United States covers unusual regional foods and dishes such as hoppin Johns hush puppies shoofly pie and turducken Readers will get the inside scoop on each food s origins and history details on how each food is prepared and eaten and insights into why and how each food is celebrated in American culture In addition readers can follow the recipes in the book s recipe appendix to test out some of the dishes for themselves Appropriate for lay readers as well as high school students and undergraduates this work is engagingly written and can be used to learn more about United States geography Meatsplaining Jason Hannan,2020-10-01 The animal agriculture industry like other profit driven industries aggressively seeks to shield itself from public scrutiny To that end it uses a distinct set of rhetorical strategies to deflect criticism These tactics are fundamental to modern animal agriculture but have long evaded critical analysis In this collection academic and activist contributors investigate the many forms of denialism perpetuated by the animal agriculture industry What strategies does the industry use to avoid questions about its inhumane treatment of animals and its impact on the environment and public health What narratives myths and fantasies does it promote to sustain its image in the public imagination powerful timely and essential David Nibert author of Animal Oppression and Human Violence Domestication Capitalism and Global Conflict Meatsplaining equips us to identify the lies at the heart of animal agriculture It s an excellent and timely compilation on an exceedingly vexing problem Carol J Adams author of The Sexual Politics of Meat and Burger Meatsplaining is the first book to give an apt name to the animal agriculture industry s relentless campaign of disinformation and denialism Written in a clear lively and accessible style Meatsplaining will surely educate the public about the horrors of animal agriculture Marc Bekoff author of The Animals Agenda Freedom Compassion and Coexistence in the Human Age Cruelty thrives in secrecy and the meat industry is highly skilled at concealing the routine abuse and misery that flourishes on modern farms Meatsplaining cuts through the spin and exposes the meat industry s massive PR machine It explores how Big Meat uses language obfuscation and denial to misdirect the public s attention away from its commodification of sentient animals environmental devastation and the looming health crisis caused by eating animals This book is a must read for animal advocates and anyone else who no longer wants to be lied to Camille Labchuk Executive Director Animal Justice This book provides a necessary corrective to the fantasy world created by meat industry propaganda As we grapple with a global zoonotic pandemic and biodiversity crisis it is urgent for us to start thinking clearly about who and what is on our plates John Sorenson Brock University Social Communication in Advertising William Leiss,Stephen Kline,Sut Jhally,Jackie Botterill,Kyle Asquith,2018-06-14 Newly updated for the digital era this classic textbook provides a comprehensive historical study of advertising and its function within contemporary society by tracing advertising s influence throughout different media and cultural periods from early magazines through to social media With several new chapters on the rise of the Internet mobile and social media this fourth edition offers new insights into the role of Google Facebook Snapchat and YouTube as both media and advertising companies as well as examining the role of brand culture in the 21st century How Canadians Communicate V David

Taras,Christopher Waddell,2016-03-15 Fewer Canadians than ever are lacing up skates swimming lengths at the pool practicing their curve ball and experiencing the thrill of competition However despite a decline in active participation Canadians spend enormous amounts of time and money on sports as fans and followers of sporting events and sports culture Never has media coverage of sports been more exhaustive and never has it been more driven by commercial interests and the need to fuel consumerism on which corporate profits depend But the power plays now occurring in the arena of sports are by no means solely a matter of money At issue as well in the media capture of sports are the values that inform our daily lives the physical and emotional health of the population and the symbols so long central to a sense of Canadian identity Writing from a variety of perspectives the contributors to this collection set out to explore the impact of the media on our reception of and attitudes toward sports to unpack the meanings that sports have for us as citizens and consumers Some contributors probe the function of sports as spectacle the escalation of violence controversies over drug use and the media s coverage of tragic deaths while others shed light on the way in which the media serve to transform sports into a vehicle for the expression of identity and nationalism The goal is not to score points but to prompt critical discussion of why sports matter in Canadian life and culture and how they contribute to the construction of identity How Canadians

Communicate III Bart Beaty,Derek Briton,2003 What does Canadian popular culture say about the construction and negotiation of Canadian national identity This third volume of How Canadians Communicate describes the negotiation of popular culture across terrains where national identity is built by producers and audiences government and industry history and geography ethnicities and citizenships Canada does indeed have a popular culture distinct from other nations How Canadians Communicate III gathers the country s most inquisitive experts on Canadian popular culture to prove its thesis

Food Promotion, Consumption, and Controversy Charlene Elliott,2015 Food nourishes the body but our relationship with food extends far beyond our need for survival We use food choices not only to express our personal tastes but also and perhaps more importantly to declare our affiliation with certain groups to the exclusion of others Thanks to a newly global system of food production however coupled with rising concerns about the nutritional value of the foods we consume and the impact of our increasingly sedentary lifestyles the modern foodscape has become remarkably difficult to navigate A single food item may for example be labelled with health related claims made by the manufacturer that do not dovetail with the information provided in the Nutrition Facts label In the media sphere the enormous amount of food related advice provided by government agencies assorted advocacy groups diet books and so on compete with efforts on the part of the food industry to sell their product and to respond to a consumer driven desire for convenience As a result the topic of food has grown fraught engendering sometimes acrimonious debates about what we should eat and why This volume is the latest to emerge from a series of workshops about the role of media in Canadian popular culture By examining topics such as the values embedded in food advertising the meaning of organic and natural the locavore movement food tourism dinner parties food bank donations the moral panic surrounding obesity food crises and fears about food safety the contributors to this volume paint a rich if at times disturbing portrait of how food is represented regulated and consumed in Canada We also hear from food insiders bestselling cookbook author and food editor Elizabeth Baird veteran restaurant reviewer and food writer John Gilchrist executive chef and culinary tourism provider Eric Pateman who provide valuable insights about the way that Canadians cook eat and experience food The result is a thought provoking look at food as a system of communication through which Canadians articulate cultural identity personal values and social class

Body Talk Mary M. Lay, 2000 This text explores the rhetoric of reproductive technology throughout the 20th century examining the ways discourse about these technologies has shaped thinking about reproduction and women's bodies framed public policy and empowered or marginalized points of view

Talk is Cheap Robert W. Crandall, Leonard Waverman, 2010-12-01 The rapid pace of technological change is placing the world's telephone companies in a very difficult position Fiber optics cables wireless telephones digital signal compression and sophisticated new switching equipment are lowering the cost of providing service and opening the gates to new competition At the same time these new technologies are providing the telephone companies with a wide array of new market opportunities Unfortunately their status as regulated carriers makes it difficult to exploit these new opportunities and to fend off competitive assaults on their traditional telephone business As long as they are regulated they can be accused of using their monopoly services to cross subsidize new competitive ventures But partial deregulation and open entry would be a catastrophe for them unless they were allowed to revise their rate structure There is a widespread misconception that the U S telecommunications industry has been deregulated and that Canadian authorities are following the U S lead In fact most services remain regulated even though some markets such as long distance services equipment sales and rentals and local services have been opened up This book reviews the recent changes in the structure of U S and Canadian telecommunications industries and the changes in regulatory policy on both sides of the border The authors analyze the effects of these changes in regulation on telephone rates in both the local and long distance markets with particular emphasis on the impacts of regulatory reforms and competition on long distance rates They use their results to suggest how regulation should be structured to allow competition to replace monopoly on the road to the information superhighway The authors contend that for decades misguided regulation of the telephone sector in both Canada and the U S denied consumers the benefits of competition distorted local and long distance telephone rates and blocked entry of new carriers and new technologies They warn that the continued regulation of the telecommunications industry could be responsible for slowing the transition from plain old telephone service to a telecommunications marketplace that offers a wide variety of services They conclude by outlining the choices open to policymakers and calling for liberalized competition all along the information superhighway The Effects of the 1986 Federal Budget on Agriculture and Rural America United States.
