Elementary Literacy Lessons Janet C. Richards, Joan P. Gipe, 2012-11-12 Innovative and practical this text helps prepare teachers to support the literacy learning needs of all children in grades K-6 including academically linguistically and culturally diverse students It features original teaching cases written by preservice teachers enrolled in field-based reading language arts methods courses accompanied by commentaries written by experienced teacher educators and skilled classroom teachers High interest content and a reader-friendly format encourage critical and reflective thinking about topics important to effective literacy instruction By promoting reflection about case issues the text helps prepare future teachers to respond to teaching narratives presented on the practical applications section of the PRAXIS II an examination required in most states for teacher licensure The authentic cases candidly and poignantly describe preservice teachers' plans problems hopes disappointments dilemmas and reflective thinking as they address the multilayered complexities and ambiguities associated with learning to teach reading and language arts in elementary classrooms These teaching stories reveal glimpses of literacy instruction and allow us to enter real classrooms and experience the wide varieties of situations that reading language arts teachers encounter daily Although the cases are grouped according to specific dimensions of literacy theory and pedagogy just as in real classrooms other issues are woven through each case as well The commentaries provide scholarly and sometimes contrasting perspectives and approaches through which readers might consider the issues presented in the cases The commentaries represent only particular perspectives but readers are encouraged to explore and consider as many perspectives and issues as possible regarding each case Each chapter includes helpful pedagogical features New or critical concepts and terms listed at the beginning of each chapter alert readers to what might be unfamiliar vocabulary Applications and Reflections pages help readers take an active part in analyzing documenting and talking about the particular issues portrayed in the case narratives Using the questions on these pages the cases and accompanying commentaries can be read and discussed as a whole class activity in small collaborative groups or by individuals The questions can also be used by readers to guide their own case writing initiatives Margin References direct readers to correlated readings for the strategies and parallel concepts mentioned in the cases and commentaries Suggested readings can be discussed within the format of literacy study groups Annotated Bibliographies at the end of each chapter help readers construct more in depth knowledge for the instructional strategies and activities discussed in the teaching cases The cases commentaries and pedagogical features in this distinctive text provide rich opportunities for readers to discover what they need to know and how they need to think in order to teach reading and language arts effectively and successfully

Intelligent Help Systems for UNIX Stephen J. Hegner, Paul Mc Kevitt, Peter Norvig, Robert L. Wilensky, 2012-12-06 In this international collection of papers there is a wealth of knowledge on artificial intelligence AI and cognitive science CS techniques applied to the problem of providing help systems mainly for the UNIX operating system The research described here involves the representation of technical computer concepts but also the representation of how users conceptualise such concepts The collection looks at computational models and systems such as UC Yucca and OSCON programmed in languages such as Lisp Prolog OPS 5 and C which have been developed to provide UNIX help These systems range from being menu based to ones with natural language interfaces some providing active help intervening when they believe the user to have misconceptions and some based on empirical studies of what users actually do while using UNIX Further papers investigate planning and knowledge representation where the focus is on discovering what the user wants to do and figuring out a way to do it as well as representing the knowledge needed to do so There is a significant focus on natural language dialogue where consultation systems can become active incorporating user modelling natural language generation and plan recognition modelling metaphors and users mistaken beliefs Much can be learned from seeing how AI and CS techniques can be investigated in depth while being applied to a real test bed domain such as help on UNIX Tell Me How to Write a Story E.J. Runyon, 2013-11-01 Too many books tell you what you need to do during a round of editing but they very rarely explain why that need exists Without explanation and examples to help your understanding craft basics can feel restrictive and unbearable You might have already begun writing something you ve had a great idea for But a great story requires more than the gift of inspiration Tell Me A Story takes you through the first steps of what you need to know to write well and how to improve your editing technique This book lets you learn with Hows and Whys through writing examples from real novices This will allow you to jump into storytelling with solid practices for getting your ideas from your mind to the page Praise for E J Runyon E J has done much more than prove to me that writing is a mosaic skill worthy of a myriad of effort but also that it is a sharp bladed pillow from which we all draw a precise dream V Pittsenbargar E J s done exactly what I wanted and been searching for Help about storytelling and the English language Not just as in punctuation and grammar but about the craft I wanted to get my readers more engaged in my story In swoops E J to save the day D Chapman I m glad I found E J she s a wonderful coach It s like being a kid getting on a bike for the first time and realizing what the pedals do The revisions I m doing now are helping me tell the story that I want to tell C Murphy
