THE STAGES OF GRIEF FOR CHILDREN

Adaptation of the Kübler-Ross Model (1969)

Grief is an overwhelming feeling that happens when big changes happen in our lives, such as a person or a pet dying. We can understand grief as being like a hilly journey with 6 stages. Everyone experiences these slightly differently.

STAGE 1

Shock, Denial and Loneliness
"This is not happening. I am so alone, no one understands."

STAGE 2

Anger
"This is my fault. Why is this happening to me? This is not fair!"

STAGE 3

Bargaining
"If only I had done something about it. What if we tried something different or done things differently?"

STAGE 4

Depression
"I feel empty and numb inside. I feel nothing."

STAGE 5

Acceptance
"They are not coming back and that is okay. I know I may still feel sad but I understand why I feel this way. It is okay to feel upset and angry sometimes."

STAGE 6

Healing
"I have people around me who I can talk to. These people will support me when I need them. I can cope."

Emswiler, Mary Ann Emswiler, 2000-08-01 Give your child the help and support needed to cope with grief and loss Guiding Your Child Through Grief by the founders of the New England Center for Loss Transition and The Cove a highly praised program for grieving children takes away the uncertainty and helpless feelings we commonly feel as we reach out to children who mourn This caring and compassionate guide offers expert advice during difficult days to help a child grieve the death of a parent or sibling Based on their experience as counselors and as parents of grieving children the authors help readers to understand The many ways children grieve often in secret Changes in family dynamics after death and straightforward effective ways to ease the transition Ways to communicate with children about death and grief How to cope with the intense sorrow triggered by holidays The signs grief has turned to depression and where to find help And more insights information and advice that can help a child heal

Children and Grief J. William Worden, 1996 Drawing upon extensive interviews and assessments of school age children who have lost a parent to death this book offers a richly textured portrait of the mourning process in children The volume presents major findings from the Harvard Child Bereavement Study and places them in the context of previous research providing insights on both the wide range of normal variation in children's experience of grief and the factors that put bereaved children at risk The book also compares parentally bereaved children with those who have suffered loss of a sibling to death or of a parent through divorce exploring similarities and differences in these experiences of loss A concluding section explores the clinical implications of the findings and includes a review of intervention models and activities as well as a screening instrument designed to help identify high risk bereaved children

Life and Loss Linda Goldman, 2021-08-04 For decades Life and Loss has been the book clinicians have relied on for a full and nuanced presentation of the many issues with which grieving children grapple as well as an honest exploration of the interrelationship between unresolved grief educational success and responsible citizenry This classic edition which includes a new preface from the author brings this exploration firmly into the twenty first century and makes a convincing case that children's grief is no longer restricted only to loss identified children Children's grief is now endemic it is global Life and Loss is not just the book mental health professionals need to understand grief in the twenty first century it's the book they need to work with grief in a practical and constructive way

Children Also Grieve Linda Goldman, 2006-01-16 Children Also Grieve is an imaginative resource fully illustrated with color photographs that offers support and reassurance to children coming to terms with the loss of a close friend or relative and to adults who are supporting them through their bereavement The first part of the book is designed to be read and worked through by children The story tells of the experiences of Henry the dog of a family whose grandfather has died During Henry's progress through the different stages of bereavement he learns strategies for coping with his grief At various stages of the story Goldman provides readers with the opportunity to share their own reactions to loss through words and pictures using specific prompt questions that encourage the exploration of different facets of grief The second part includes a list of useful vocabulary to help children express their feelings about bereavement a bibliography of other useful resources for both children and adults and a section that will help adults to understand and aid children throughout the grief process This last section also explains the approach taken in the story details typical responses to bereavement and discusses useful ways in which adults can discuss and share grief with children This book is an invaluable tool for bereaved children and those who care for them

Helping Children Cope With Grief Alan

Wolfelt,2013-08-21 First published in 1984 A common myth is that that young children say around three years of age do not understand death or give the death of friend pet brother sister parent grandparent other relative or give it a Raggedy Ann doll meaning However research has indicated that they do If it is difficult for us to think about our death it is the author s hypothesis that to think of the death of our children is an even greater difficulty We dread the thought of our children suffering pain dying and death Similarly the thought of our children suffering grief is difficult for us to comprehend Helping Children Cope With Grief is more universal to more than the area of grief and is a valuable tool for parents teachers and counselors when their goal is to develop happier more loving children

Grief in Children Atle Dyregrov,2008-03-15 This fully updated second edition of Grief in Children provides an overview of children s understanding of death at different ages and outlines how the adults around them can best help them cope The author provides guidance on handling loss and bereavement at school and discusses the value of bereavement groups and support for child and caregiver

Children, Adolescents, and Death Robert G. Stevenson,Gerry R. Cox,2017-02-02 The topic of death and related issues such as grief often begin with questions When the questions come from or are about children or adolescents they bring an additional component the fear some adults have of giving a wrong answer In this context a wrong answer is one that can cause more harm than good for the child or adolescent who asked the question This book provides information that can be used to address the death related questions from children and adolescents It also looks at questions from caring adults about the way children or adolescents view death and the grief that follows a death or any major loss Children Adolescents and Death covers topics that start with early studies of childhood grief and progress to expression of grief in cyberspace There is no one answer to most of the questions in this book There are contributors from a number of continents countries cultures and academic disciplines each of whom brings a unique view of the topic issues they discuss There are presentations of practical interventions that others may copy upon which they can build There are a number of chapters that look at death education in both family and school settings This work contains ideas and techniques that can be of value to parents educators counselors therapists spiritual advisors caring adults and of course will be of the most benefit to those who ask the most questions the children and adolescents themselves

Children Mourning, Mourning Children Kenneth J. Doka,2014-01-21 Based on the Hospice Foundation of America s second annual teleconference this book explores three basic themes in children s grief Firstly it maintains that children are always developing therefore their understanding of death and their reactions to illness and loss are also multifaceted and constantly undergoing change Secondly children grieve in ways that are both different from and similar to adults While they may need different therapeutic approaches from their elders each loss is different and the grief experience will be affected by many of the same factors that affect adults Thirdly it holds that they need significant support as they grieve Talking to children about loss and illness is too important to wait until a crisis rather it is essential to provide opportunities to discuss loss in times that are not so Emotionally Laden This Book Aims To Demonstrate That Open Communication between parents and children will lead to skills and understanding that are essential to the child for coping with loss and reaffirming that death is part of the process of living

The ABC's of Grief Jessica Correnti, 2023-10-15 Grief is messy and complicated Yet many children find themselves grieving at a young age due to illness death of a significant person moving deployment of a family member pet loss divorce mental health issues within the family foster care or other major changes or losses within their life The ABCs of Grief takes a complex multifaceted topic and breaks it down into a relatable and digestible language for young children Each letter of the alphabet explores a different aspect of the grief experience providing space for children to process the complex emotions and experiences encountered while grieving A is for Anything I can grieve any type of change An illness accident move divorce death or other difficult experiences B is for Bursts I do not feel grief all the time but when I feel it I feel it BIG Bursts of feelings and memories flood my mind and stop me in my tracks C is Coping I can cope and move through my difficult experiences in many ways This is the perfect conversation starter book for parents caregivers and professionals who support grieving children teens and even adults

How Children Grieve Corinne Masur, 2024-10-03 An informative empathetic and accessible guide to understanding childhood grief at every age which will help caretakers to support children mourning after loss From Dr Corinne Masur an award winning clinical psychologist specialising in grief and mourning comes a necessary and impactful guide to understanding children's grief from the inside and to guiding children through loss from the death of a parent and other family members to the loss of friends pets and even the family home Dr Masur describes how to understand help and guide children at each age and stage of development and uses her own childhood experience with loss through empathetic yet clinically informed advice When Dr Masur was fourteen years old her father died Like most children and teens facing loss Masur didn't know how to handle her grief and she was never encouraged to acknowledge or share what she was feeling with her family teachers or friends Her experience of shock and emotional paralysis around her loss is what led her to become an expert in childhood grief in order to help grieving children and to help others to support the children in their lives who have experienced loss As a psychologist and child psychoanalyst Dr Masur has helped many children recognise and express their feelings after loss In How Children Grieve Masur shares her expertise with caregivers of all kinds giving them the tools they need to help a child or teenager to mourn to move forward and to make meaning of terrible loss

Children's Encounters with Death, Bereavement, and Coping Charles Corr, David Balk, 2010-01-15

Children's Encounters with Death Bereavement and Coping is a very well researched document and well written by an impressive cadre of scholars. The book is a must read for marriage and family therapists, clergy and pediatric care givers whose work intersects the lives of children and the social and environmental systems in which they live. NCFR's Certified Family Life Educators Newsletter F or the resource that offers one of the best bibliographies and guides to resources for the book that contains theory, definitions, treatment modalities, helps, warnings, integration of people and programs, cultural diversity. When it comes to all of this, we turn to Charles A. Corr and David E. Balk, editors of Children's Encounters with Death Bereavement and Coping. It is a book you must have on your shelf but don't let it sit there for too long without making good use of it. Illness, Crisis and Loss is current, filled with sound theory, wise clinical acumen, sound research, terrific resources and a multicultural perspective. This book will be a necessary resource for clinicians and educators. Kenneth J. Doka, PhD, Senior Consultant, The Hospice Foundation of America. Corr and Balk's book will help adults find many ways to lead bereaved children to a hopeful belief in their future despite their considerable losses. This book is a real contribution to the growing literature in this field. Nancy Boyd Webb, DSW, LICSW, RPT, S, Distinguished Professor of Social Work, Emerita, Fordham University. Children struggling with death-related issues require care and competent assistance from the adults around them. This book serves as a guide for care providers including counselors, social workers, nurses, educators, clergy and parents who seek to understand and help children as they attempt to cope with loss. This book comprehensively discusses death and grieving within the context of the physical, emotional, social, behavioral, spiritual and cognitive changes that children experience while coping with death. The chapters also explore new, critical, imaginative, conceptual models and interventions including expressive arts therapy, resilience-based approaches, new psychotherapeutic approaches and more. Key features: Presents guidelines for assisting children coping with the loss of parents, siblings, friends or pets; Discusses ethical issues in counseling bereaved and seriously ill children; Provides guidelines for helping children manage their emerging awareness and understanding of death; Emphasizes research-based, culturally sensitive and global implications as well as current insights in thanatology.

Grief in Young Children Atle Dyregrov, 2008-03-15. It is a common misconception that pre-school children are not capable of experiencing grief in the same way that older children do. Grief in Young Children challenges this assumption, demonstrating that although young children may not express grief in the same way as older children, they still need to be supported through loss.
