out into broader issues such as courtship marriage kinship globalization and the meaning of the West and Western cultural images of beauty Bonnie Adrian argues that in compiling enormous bridal albums full of photographs of brides and grooms in varieties of finery posed in different places and exuding romance Taiwanese brides engage in a new rite of passage one that challenges the terms of marriage set out in conventional wedding rites In Framing the Bride we see how this practice is also a creative response to U S domination of transnational visual imagery how bridal photographers and their subjects take the project of globalization into their own hands defining its terms for their lives even as they expose the emptiness of its images
