Routledge Encyclopedia of Translation Studies Mona Baker, Gabriela Saldanha, 2019-09-20 The Routledge Encyclopedia of Translation Studies remains the most authoritative reference work for students and scholars interested in engaging with the phenomenon of translation in all its modes and in relation to a wide range of theoretical and methodological traditions This new edition provides a considerably expanded and updated revision of what appeared as Part I in the first and second editions Featuring 132 as opposed to the 75 entries in Part I of the second edition it offers authoritative critical overviews of additional topics such as authorship canonization conquest cosmopolitanism crowdsourced translation dubbing fan audiovisual translation genetic criticism healthcare interpreting hybridity intersectionality legal interpreting media interpreting memory multimodality nonprofessional interpreting note taking orientalism paratexts thick translation war and world literature Each entry ends with a set of annotated references for further reading Entries no longer appearing in this edition including historical overviews that previously appeared as Part II are now available online via the Routledge Translation Studies Portal Designed to support critical reflection teaching and research within as well as beyond the field of translation studies this is an invaluable resource for students and scholars of translation interpreting literary theory and social theory among other disciplines

Positionalities of Translation Studies Garda Elsherif, Joanna Sobesto, 2025-06-12 This volume explores historical cultural linguistic and anthropocentric influences on Translation Studies TS It brings together nuanced individual self reflexive case studies and juxtaposes them in order to provoke discussion on the role of contemporary researchers in the discipline of TS As well as reflecting on the historical and geographical dimensions of the situatedness of TS the book builds on existing reflections on the local political and linguistic positions of TS and examines the practical and methodological consequences of these discussions By considering insights and perspectives from various disciplines the contributors refer to the current state of the art in TS and reconstruct the discussions held on Eurocentrism anthropocentrism and the historicity of TS that have been discussed in isolation so far This volume maps potential relations between them and introduces an analytical concept of positionality that highlights commonalities among various discourses As well as theoretical and historical analysis the contributors ask how to methodologically deal with this inevitable positioning of research in contemporary research practice The contributions cover various aspects of positionalities and its influences on translation research including gender anthropocentrism experiential knowledge and geopolitics They also explore various histories of translation studies in different temporal spatial and linguistic settings such as China Chinese Iran Persian the Netherlands

English Ukraine Ukrainian Russian and France French thereby highlighting that TS as a discipline is not a monolith but consists of various histories interconnected with each other

Translation Competence and Language Contrast - A Multi-Method Study Iryna Kloster, 2021-10-07 Experience in translation does not always correlate with the quality of the target text Also the evaluations of translation work vary considerably among evaluators Why not shifting the focus of attention from the final translation to the underlying translation process when assessing translation competence Iryna Kloster applies a multi method approach to model the translation competence based on empirical parameters such as gaze behavior dictionary use revisions as well as subjective evaluations of comprehension and translation difficulty Eye tracking keystroke logging screen recording and retrospective interviews were applied to collect data in the experimental groups consisting of novice and semi professional translators As a consequence the author suggests using language contrasts for researching translation competence She draws conclusions based on hypotheses testing provides justification by triangulating quantitative and qualitative data and discusses the results in the light of empirical translation studies as well

Hybrid Englishes and the Challenges of and for Translation Karen Bennett, Rita Queiroz de Barros, 2019-03-13 This volume problematizes the concept and practice of translation in an interconnected world in which English despite its hegemonic status can no longer be considered a coherent unified entity but rather a mobile resource subject to various kinds of hybridization Drawing upon recent work in the domains of translation studies literary studies and socio linguistics it explores the centrality of translation as both a trope for the analysis of contemporary transcultural dynamics and as a concrete communication practice in the globalized world The chapters range across many geographic realities and genres including fiction memoir animated film and hip hop and deal with subjects as varied as self translation translational ethics and language change As a whole the book makes an important contribution to our understanding of how meanings are generated and relayed in a context of super diversity in which traditional understandings of language and translation can no longer be sustained

The Translation of Violence in Children's Literature Marija Todorova, 2021-11-29 Considering children s literature as a powerful repository for creating and proliferating cultural and national identities this monograph is the first academic study of children s literature in translation from the Western Balkans Marija Todorova looks at a broad range of children s literature from fiction to creative non fiction and picture books across five different countries in the Western Balkans with each chapter including detailed textual and visual analysis through the predominant lens of violence These chapters raise questions around who initiates and effectuates the selection of children s literature from the Western Balkans for translation into English and interrogate the role of different stakeholders such as translators publishers and cultural institutions in the representation and construction of these countries in translated children s literature both in text and visually Given the combination of this study s interdisciplinary nature and Todorova s detailed analysis this book will prove to be an essential resource for professional translators researchers and students in courses in translation studies children's literature or area studies especially that of countries in the Western Balkans Translating Chinese Fiction

Tan Yesheng, 2024-06-28 Drawing on the cognitive translational paradigm this book introduces a situation embedded in a cognitive construction model of translation and explores the thinking portfolios of British and American sinologists cum translators to re-examine their multiple voices and cognition in translating Chinese fiction By placing sinologists cum translators in the same discourse space the study transcends the limitations of previous case studies and offers a comprehensive cognitive panorama of how Chinese novels are rendered The author explores the challenges and difficulties of translating Chinese fiction from the insider perspectives of British and American sinologists and cross-validates their multiple voices by aligning them with cross-cultural communication scenarios Based on the cognitive construction model of translation the book provides a systematic review of the translation thoughts and ideas of the community of sinologists in terms of linguistic conventions narrative styles contextual and cultural frames readership categories and metaphorical models of translation It envisions a new research path to enhance empirical research on translators' cognition in a dynamic translation ecosystem The title will be an essential read for students and scholars of translation studies and Chinese studies It will also appeal to translators and researchers interested in cognitive stylistics literary studies and intercultural communication studies Models of Change in Medieval Textual Culture Jonatan Pettersson, Anna Blenow, 2024-12-30

Change is a matter of central concern and interest in the study of history and it has been approached with various methodological and theoretical means in different historical disciplines The concept is however rarely addressed per se despite its fundamental role for historical insight This book addresses different kinds of change in medieval textual culture as examples or models of change A model can take different forms it consists of abstract representations like a flowchart or a series of stages within a development it might be a concept like paradigm shift or a single but telling historical example In their different forms models serve as conceptual tools to enlighten historical instances of change The contributions of this volume gather cases from a series of aspects of medieval textual culture which are subject to change physical books the acoustics of performed text textualized worlds scribes and authorship genre the choice of language in texts and paleographic variance The book also addresses problems of thinking in models and metaphors of change as they also as idols of the market have the power to lead us astray if not carefully meditated What Is Cultural Translation? Sarah Maitland, 2017-02-09

What Is Cultural Translation In this book Sarah Maitland uncovers processes of negotiation and adaptation closely associated with the translation of languages behind the cultural phenomena of everyday life For globalized societies confronted increasingly with the presence of difference in all its forms translation has become both a metaphor for thoughtful encounter and a touchstone act for what we see do and say and who we are Drawing on examples from across cultural domains theatre film TV and literature this work illuminates the elusive concept of cultural translation Focusing on the built environment current affairs international relations and online media this book arrives at a view of translation in its broadest sense It is a means for decoding how we shape the cultural realm and serves as a vehicle for new ways of seeing and being that question the received ideas that structure the communities in which we live Written in a clear and engaging style this is the first book length study of cultural translation It builds a powerful case for expanding the remit of translation to cover the experience of living and working in a globalized multicultural world and is of interest to all involved in the academic study of representation and contestation in contemporary cultural practice Book Diplomacy in the Cultural Cold War

,2025-06-26 Broadly speaking book diplomacy covers the use of books to achieve certain objectives related to the foreign policy interests of a given country usually involving state private partnerships of varying degrees In this volume scholars from different disciplines examine in detail how books functioned as tools of soft power and cultural diplomacy during the cultural Cold War This study also introduces a 10 point typology to examine the many forms and practices of Cold War book diplomacy and the diversity of objectives and outcomes that they involved Looking beyond the Cold War this volume stresses the continuing importance of books as a distinct form of material culture used to convey information around the world
