During this year, correct letter formation should become an automatic habit. Don't encourage your child to write too small or too quickly. Trying to enforce small handwriting too soon can lead to a very cramped style, which is then difficult to make fluent. At the very end of this year, children will begin to join some pairs of letters within a word.

As a reminder, correct letter formation for lower-case letters is as follows. The arrows show the direction of your child's pencil:

a b c d e f g h i j k l m n o p q r s t u v w x y z

Capital letters are formed as follows:

A B C D E F G H I J K L M N
P Q R S T U V W X Y Z

Letter families

Your child will still be thinking about the four letter families (similar letter shapes grouped together to help children form letters consistently).

Making Progress in Writing Eve Bearne, 2003-08-29. Children's achievements in writing lag behind their achievements in reading, speaking, and listening. National tests are beginning to expose this gap, and inevitably it is raising concerns. The issue is not without controversy, but regardless of the politics of the situation, national progress in children's writing is both needed and possible. This new book from Eve Bearne makes a valuable contribution towards helping teachers close this gap. Uniquely, it follows the structure of the National Literacy Strategy whilst examining key areas such as bridging KS2 and KS3 writing and writing skills beyond the Literacy Hour. Such a structure makes the book incredibly practical and easy to use, providing essential information for both practitioners and academics.
