Dury and Andrews' Map of Hertfordshire Andrew Macnair, Anne Rowe, Tom Williamson, 2015-11-30 This book is about the map of an English county Hertfordshire which was published in 1766 by two London mapmakers Andrew Dury and John Andrews For well over two centuries from the time of Elizabeth I to the late 18th century the county was the basic unit for mapping in Britain and the period witnessed several episodes of comprehensive map making The map which forms the subject of this book followed on from a large number of previous maps of the county but was greatly superior to them in terms of quality and detail It was published in a variety of forms in nine sheets with an additional index map over a period of 60 years No other maps of Hertfordshire were produced during the rest of the century but the Board of Ordnance later the Ordnance Survey established in the 1790s began to survey the Hertfordshire area in 1799 publishing the first maps covering the county between 1805 and 1834 The OS came to dominate map making in Britain but of all the maps of Hertfordshire that produced by Dury and Andrews was the first to be surveyed at a sufficiently large scale to really allow those dwelling in the county to visualize their own parish local topography and even their own house and its place in the wider landscape The first section examines the context of the map s production and its place in cartographic history and describes the creation of a new digital version of the map which can be accessed online The second part describes various ways in which this electronic version can be interrogated in order to throw important new light on Hertfordshire s landscape and society both in the middle decades of the eighteenth century when it was produced and in more remote periods The attached DVD contains over a dozen maps which have been derived from the digital version and which illustrate many of the issues discussed in the text as well as related material which should likewise be useful to students of landscape history historical geography and local history Joseph Conrad: 'The Secret Agent' Cedric Watts, A biographical chapter relates The Secret Agent to Conrad s career Next the work s process of composition is discussed and differences between the serial the book version and the stage version are explained An analysis of the plot gives particular attention to its ironic strategies and to the character of the narrator Various themes and contexts are explored conceptions of time and topography anarchistic and Fenian politics anti Semitism evolution Lombroso and criminology Literary influences and analogues are illustrated Dickens Zola Ibsen terrorist fiction The characters are considered from various viewpoints A critical survey summarises the work s reception since its first publication The bibliography provides a guide to further reading Not Hockey Angie Abdou, Jamie Dopp, 2023-08-29 In this carefully curated collection of essays editors Jamie Dopp and Angie Abdou go beyond their first collection Writing the
