Liminal Spaces in Children's and Young Adult Literature Mark I. West,2024-03-12 Scholars in the field of children s literature studies began taking an interest in the concept of liminal spaces around the turn of the 21st century For the first time Liminal Spaces in Children s and Young Adult Literature Stories from the In Between brings together in one volume a collection of original essays on this topic by leading children s literature scholars The contributors in this collection take a wide variety of approaches to their explorations of liminal spaces in children s and young adult literature Some discuss how children s books portray the liminal nature of physical spaces such as the children s room in a library Others deal with more abstract portrayals such as the imaginary space where Max goes to escape the reality of his bedroom in Maurice Sendak's Where the Wild Things Are. All of the contributors however provide keen insights into how liminal spaces figure in children's and young adult literature

Teaching the Sustainable Development Goals to Young Citizens (10-16 years) Anne M.

Dolan, 2024-05-31 With the current climate and economic crises education for sustainability has never been more critical. This timely and essential book encourages readers to rethink our current values systems and to interrogate common assumptions about our world. Written for all educators with an interest in sustainability, chapters address several possible future scenarios for our planet, allowing readers to make more educated choices about sustainability and to transfer this knowledge to students within the classroom. Each chapter focuses on a specific Sustainable Development Goal. Beginning with a brief historical and theoretical introduction to contextualise the goal, chapters then showcase the practical activities, case studies, and exemplars that teachers can adopt when teaching. Topics explored include but are not limited to Poverty, Renewable energy, Climate change, Peace and justice, Human rights, Access to education. This book is an essential classroom resource for any teacher or student teacher wishing to promote the Sustainable Development Goals and to teach for a better and brighter future.

Teaching Globally Kathy Short, Deanna Day, Jean Schroeder, 2023-10-10 With the world visibly present in students' lives through technology, mass and social media's economic interdependency and global mobility, it is more important than ever to develop curriculum that is intercultural. In Teaching Globally: Reading the World Through Literature, a community of educators show us how to use global children's literature to help students explore their own cultural identities. Edited by Kathy Short, Deanna Day, and Jean Schroeder, this book explains why global curriculum is important and how you can make space for it within district and state school mandates. Teaching Globally is built around a curriculum framework developed by Short and can help teachers integrate a global focus into existing literacy and social studies curricula, evaluate global resources, guide students as they investigate cross-cultural issues, and create classroom activities with an intercultural perspective. Filled with vignettes from K-8 urban, suburban, and rural schools that describe successes and struggles, Teaching Globally aims to integrate global literature into classrooms and challenge students to understand and accept those different from themselves. The book also includes extensive lists of recommendations, websites, professional books, and an appendix of global text sets as mentioned by the authors.

Children of Afghanistan Jennifer Heath, Ashraf Zahedi, 2014-11-15 The first comprehensive look at youth living in a country attempting to rebuild itself after three decades of civil conflict, Children of Afghanistan relies on the research and fieldwork of twenty-one experts to cover an incredible range of topics. Focusing on the full scope of childhood from birth through young adulthood, this edited volume examines a myriad of issues: early childhood socialization in war and peace, education, literacy, vocational training and apprenticeship, refugee life, mental and physical health, including disabilities and nutrition, children's songs, folktales, and art, sports and play, orphans' life on the streets, child labor, and children as family breadwinners, child soldiers, and militarization, sexual exploitation, growing up in prison, marriage, family violence and other issues vital to understanding empowerment and transformation Children of Afghanistan is the first volume that not only attempts to analyze the range of challenges facing Afghan children across class gender and region but also offers solutions to the problems they face With nearly half of the population under the age of fifteen the future of the country no doubt lies with its children Those who seek peace for the region must find solutions to the host of crises that have led the United Nations to call Afghanistan the worst place on earth to be born The authors of Children of Afghanistan provide child centered solutions to rebuilding the country's cultural social and economic institutions
