"The" Works of William Shakespeare: Much ado about nothing. Love's labour's lost. A midsummer-night's dream. The merchant of Venice. As you like it William Shakespeare, 1863 Shakespeare, Elizabeth and Ivan Rima Greenhill, 2023-04-03 Shakespeare's comedy Love's Labour's Lost has perplexed scholars and theatergoers for over 400 years due to its linguistic complexity obscure topical allusions and decidedly non-comedic ending According to traditional interpretations it is Shakespeare's French play based on events and characters from the French Wars of Religion This work argues that the play's French surface conceals a Russian core It outlines an interpretation of Love's Labour's Lost rooted in diplomatic and trade relations between Russia and Elizabethan England during the dramatic decades following England's discovery of a northern trade route to Muscovy in 1553 Drawing on original research of 16th century sources in English Latin and French the text also surveys Russian sources previously unavailable in translation This analysis provides new explanations for some of the play's previously most enigmatic elements such as its unconventional ending the significance of its secondary characters linguistic anomalies and the Masque of the Muscovites itself The Works of William Shakespeare William Shakespeare, 1902 Shakespeare, Bacon And The Great Unknown Andrew Lang, 2012 The theory that Francis Bacon was in the main the author of Shakespeare's plays has now been for fifty years before the learned world Its advocates have met with less support than they had reason to expect Their methods their logic and their hypotheses closely resemble those applied by many British and foreign scholars to Homer and by critics of the very Highest School to Holy Writ Yet the Baconian theory is universally rejected in England by the professors and historians of English literature and generally by students who have no profession save that of Letters The Baconians however do not lack the countenance and assistance of highly distinguished persons whose names are famous where those of mere men of letters are unknown and in circles where the title of Professor is not duly respected
