An Inconstant Landscape Thomas G. Garrison, Stephen Houston, 2019-01-15 Presenting the results of six years of archaeological survey and excavation in and around the Maya kingdom of El Zotz An Inconstant Landscape paints a complex picture of a dynamic landscape over the course of almost 2 000 years of occupation El Zotz was a dynastic seat of the Classic period in Guatemala Located between the renowned sites of Tikal and El Per Waka it existed as a small kingdom with powerful neighbors and serves today as a test case of political debility and strength during the height of dynastic struggles among the Classic Maya In this volume contributors address the challenges faced by smaller polities on the peripheries of powerful kingdoms and ask how subordination was experienced and independent policy asserted Leading experts provide cutting edge analysis in varied topics and detailed discussion of the development of this major site and the region more broadly The first half of the volume contains a historical narrative of the cultural sequence of El Zotz tracing the changes in occupation and landscape use across time the second half provides deep technical analyses of material evidence including soils ceramics stone tools and bone The ever changing inconstant landscapes of peripheral kingdoms like El Zotz reveal much about their more dominant and better known neighbors An Inconstant Landscape offers a comprehensive multidisciplinary view of this important but under studied site an essential context for the study of the Classic Maya in Guatemala and a premier reference on the subject of peripheral kingdoms at the height of Maya civilization Contributors Timothy Beach Nicholas Carter Ewa Czapiewska Halliday Alyce de Carteret William Delgado Colin Doyle James Doyle Laura Gomez Jose Luis Garrido Lopez Yeny Myshell Guti rrez Castillo Zachary Hruby Melanie Kingsley Sheryl Luzzadder Beach Cassandra Mesick Braun Sarah Newman Rony Piedrasanta Edwin Rom n and Andrew K Scherer

Models for Planning Wildlife Conservation in Large Landscapes Joshua Millspaugh, Frank R. Thompson, 2011-04-28 A single resource volume of information on the most current and effective techniques of wildlife modeling Models for Planning Wildlife Conservation in Large Landscapes is appropriate for students and researchers alike The unique blend of conceptual methodological and application chapters discusses research applications and concepts of modeling and presents new ideas and strategies for wildlife habitat models used in conservation planning The book makes important contributions to wildlife conservation of animals in several ways 1 it highlights historical and contemporary advancements in the development of wildlife habitat models and their implementation in conservation planning 2 it provides practical advice for the ecologist conducting such studies and 3 it supplies directions for future research including new strategies for successful studies Intended to provide a recipe for successful development of wildlife habitat models and their implementation in conservation planning the book could be used in studying wildlife habitat models conservation planning and management techniques Additionally it may be a supplemental text in courses dealing with quantitative assessment of wildlife populations Additionally the length of the book would be ideal for graduate student seminar course Using wildlife habitat models in conservation planning is of considerable interest to wildlife biologists With ever tightening budgets for wildlife research and planning activities there is a growing need to use computer methods Use of simulation models represents the single best alternative However it is imperative that these techniques be described in a single source Moreover biologists should be made aware of alternative modeling techniques It is also important that practical guidance be provided to biologists along with a demonstration of utility of these procedures Currently there is little guidance in the wildlife or natural resource planning literature on how best to incorporate wildlife planning activities particularly community based approaches Now is the perfect time for a synthetic publication that clearly outlines the concepts and available methods and illustrates them Only single resource book of information not only on various wildlife modeling techniques but also with practical guidance on the demonstrated utility of each based on real world conditions Provides concepts methods and applications for wildlife ecologists and others within a GIS context Written by a team of subject area experts

Annual Report of the New York State College of Agriculture and Life Sciences at Cornell University & the Cornell University Agricultural Experiment Station New York State College of Agriculture,1956 Hudson-Raritan Estuary, Liberty State Park Ecosystem Restoration ,2005 Designing Low Carbon Societies in Landscapes Nobukazu Nakagoshi, Jhonamie A. Mabuhay,2014-05-09 This book focuses on three major means of achieving a low carbon society conservation of the ecosystem complex changes of arrangement of landscapes and creation of biodiversity There are specific countermeasures to be taken for carbon absorption in the three types of landscapes urban cultural and natural because their carbon balances differ Urban landscapes are promising sites because they have the potential for greening and the creation of biodiversity Cultural landscapes in the tropics had not been actively researched until recently but this book now presents a collection of several cases focused on those areas Natural landscapes had existed in abundance in developing countries later nature protection areas were designated to coexist with development Now however developmental pressure has penetrated into those nature protection areas and landscape ecological projects are urgently required to preserve them As a result of global warming abnormal weather phenomena including super typhoons have occurred frequently in recent years The major underlying cause is the higher concentration of greenhouse gases released by human activities As well major natural absorbers of CO₂ such as forests wetlands and coral reefs are shrinking and the human impact is causing the ecological balance to deteriorate Controlling CO₂ emissions and expanding the CO₂ absorbers are keys to reducing total CO₂ Low carbon societies can be established by maintaining the original CO₂ balance through integration of multiple tools with contributions from diverse fields such as physics and chemistry physiology and humanities and education On the basis of an international consensus the environment must be protected no matter what sacrifices are required As this book demonstrates achieving a low carbon society is a top priority and landscape conservation is the first step in ecological research toward that goal

Forested Landscapes in Perspective National Research Council,Board on Agriculture,Committee on Prospects and Opportunities for Sustainable Management of America's Nonfederal Forests,1998-05-01 The federal role in the management of nonfederal U S forests was once relatively simple to assist in the prevention and control of wildfires The administrative structure to carry out this role was similarly uncomplicated with most programs under the aegis of the U S Department of Agriculture In recent years however both the management and administrative landscapes have changed dramatically Responsibility for the federal role in nonfederal forests has been expanded to include a number of cabinet departments and independent agencies which must address critical issues such as reforestation wetlands disruption and biodiversity protection With two thirds of all U S forests on nonfederal lands these issues are becoming increasingly more important Now a first of its kind examination of the federal role in nonfederal forest management Forested Landscapes in Perspective presents a comprehensive look at the current landscape and recommends improvements that best serve public and private interests This timely volume includes an insightful description of the current situation and recent trends followed by a thorough examination of major policy and program issues affecting nonfederal forests Among these are emerging environmental concerns such as forest fragmentation and large scale climate change as well as issues of economic importance such as the availability of timber supplies

General Technical Report PSW. ,1978 Knitting Food: Food and Eco-textiles Manuel Gausa,Giorgia Tucci,2024-10-22 This book focuses on the emerging field of food waste based eco textiles Eco textiles eco leathers and bio skins are now an important category of biomaterials with immediate applications in sustainable industrial production and the circular economy In this sense the book brings together new collaborative and interdisciplinary projects and artistic crossovers specialised in eco textile research re design and functional use of organic and food waste in a vision that starts from the product dimension and reaches the urban scale Routledge Handbook of Landscape and Food Joshua Zeunert,Tim Waterman,2018-02-02 Since the turn of the millennium there has been a burgeoning interest in and literature of both landscape studies and food studies Landscape describes places as relationships and processes Landscapes create people s identities and guide their actions and their preferences while at the same time are shaped by the actions and forces of people Food as currency medium and sustenance is a fundamental part of those landscape relationships This volume brings together over fifty contributors from around the world in forty profoundly interdisciplinary chapters Chapter authors represent an astonishing range of disciplines from agronomy anthropology archaeology conservation countryside management cultural studies ecology ethics geography heritage studies landscape architecture landscape management and planning literature urban design and architecture Both food studies and landscape studies defy comprehension from the perspective of a single discipline and thus such a range is both necessary and enriching The Routledge Handbook of Landscape and Food is intended as a first port of call for scholars and researchers seeking to undertake new work at the many intersections of landscape and food Each chapter provides an authoritative overview a broad range of pertinent readings and references and seeks to identify areas where new research is needed though these may also be identified in the many fertile areas in which subjects and chapters overlap within the book Landscape Boundaries Andrew J. Hansen,Francesco DiCasteri,2012-12-06 The emergence of landscape ecology during the 1980s represents an important maturation of ecological theory Once enamored with the conceptual beauty of well balanced homogeneous ecosystems ecologists now assert that much of the essence of ecological systems lies in their lumpiness Patches with differing properties and behaviors lie strewn across the landscape products of the complex interactions of climate disturbance and biotic processes It is the collective behavior of this patchwork of eco systems that drives pattern and process of the landscape is not an end point This realization of the importance of patch dynamics in itself however Rather it is a passage to a new conceptual framework the internal workings of which remain obscure The next tier of questions includes What are the fundamental pieces that compose a landscape How are these pieces bounded To what extent do these boundaries influence communication and interaction among patches of the landscape Will consideration of the interactions among landscape elements help us to understand the workings of landscapes At the core of these questions lies the notion of the ecotone a term with a lineage that even predates ecosystem Late in the nineteenth century F E Clements realized that the transition zones between plant communities had properties distinct from either of the adjacent communities Not until the emergence of patch dynamics theory however has central significance of the ecotone concept become apparent Proceedings of

Our National Landscape, 1979 State Secrecy and Security William Walters, 2021-05-03 In State Secrecy and Security Refiguring the Covert Imaginary William Walters calls for secrecy to be given a more central place in critical security studies and elevated to become a core concept when theorising power in liberal democracies Through investigations into such themes as the mobility of cryptographic secrets the power of public inquiries the connection between secrecy and place making and the aesthetics of secrecy within immigration enforcement Walters challenges commonplace understandings of the covert and develops new concepts methods and themes for secrecy and security research Walters identifies the covert imaginary as both a limit on our ability to think politics differently and a ground to develop a richer understanding of power State Secrecy and Security offers readers a set of thinking tools to better understand the strange powers that hiding revealing lying confessing professing ignorance and many other operations of secrecy put in motion It will be a valuable resource for scholars and students of security secrecy and politics more broadly Proceedings of Our National Landscape Gary H. Elsner, Richard C. Smardon, 1979 Report of Investigations Maryland Geological Survey, 1965
Resources in Education, 2001-10 The Renewable Energy Landscape Dean Apostol, James Palmer, Martin Pasqualetti, Richard Smardon, Robert Sullivan, 2016-08-19 Winner of the 2017 EDRA Great Places Award Research Category Winner of the 2017 VT ASLA Chapter Award of Excellence Communications Category The Renewable Energy Landscape is a definitive guide to understanding assessing avoiding and minimizing scenic impacts as we transition to a more renewable energy future It focuses attention for the first time on the unique challenges solar wind and geothermal energy will create for landscape protection planning design and management Topics addressed include Policies aimed at managing scenic impacts from renewable energy development and their social acceptance within North America Europe and Australia Visual characteristics of energy facilities including the design and planning techniques for avoiding or mitigating impacts or improving visual fit Methods of assessing visual impacts or energy projects and the best practices for creating and using visual simulations Policy recommendations for political and regulatory bodies A comprehensive and practical book The Renewable Energy Landscape is an essential resource for those engaged in planning designing or regulating the impacts of these new critical energy sources as well as a resource for communities that may be facing the prospect of development in their local landscape City of Forests, City of Farms Lindsay K. Campbell, 2017-10-15 City of Forests City of Farms is a history of recent urban forestry and agriculture policy and programs in New York City Centered on the 2007 initiative PlaNYC this account tracks the development of policies that increased sustainability efforts in the city and dedicated more than 400 million dollars to trees via the MillionTreesNYC campaign Lindsay K Campbell uses PlaNYC to consider how and why nature is constructed in New York City Campbell regards sustainability planning as a process that unfolds through the strategic interplay of actors the deployment of different narrative frames and the mobilizing and manipulation of the physical environment which affects nonhuman animals and plants as well as the city's residents Campbell zeroes in on a core omission

in PlaNYC's original conception and funding. Despite NYC having a long tradition of community gardening, particularly since the fiscal crisis of the 1970s, the plan contained no mention of community gardens or urban farms. Campbell charts the change of course that resulted from burgeoning public interest in urban agriculture and local food systems. She shows how civic groups and elected officials crafted a series of visions and plans for local food systems that informed the 2011 update to PlaNYC. City of Forests, City of Farms is a valuable tool that allows us to understand and disentangle the political decisions, popular narratives, and physical practices that shape city greening in New York City and elsewhere.

The Top Books of the Year Landscapes Of New York State Lab Answer Key The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous captivating novels enthralling the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of top-selling books, exploring the fascinating narratives that have charmed audiences this year. The Must-Read : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This touching tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover masterfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can succeed. Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This intriguing historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids absorbing storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Landscapes Of New York State Lab Answer Key : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This mesmerizing coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens crafts a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These top-selling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of captivating stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Pape, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and thrilling novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
