Last Things Vintage Contemporaries:

Last Things Jenny Offill, 2015-03-17 Grace's father believes in science and builds his daughter a dollhouse with lights that really work Grace's mother takes her skinny dipping in the lake and teaches her about African hyena men who devour their wives in their sleep Grace's world of fact and fiction marvels and madness is slowly unraveling because her family is coming apart before her eyes Now eight year old Grace must choose between her two very different very flawed parents a choice that will take her on a dizzying journey away from her home in Vermont to the boozy flooded streets of New Orleans and into the equally wondrous and frightening realm of her own imagination With eloquence and compassion Jenny Offill weaves a luminous story of a wounded family and of a young girl yearning to understand the difference between fiction fact and hope A novel of vibrant imagination and searing intelligence Last Things is a stunning literary achievement Vintage

Contemporaries Dan Kois, 2023-01-17 Vintage Contemporaries is about being young and becoming less young exploring friendship sometimes magical sometimes messy parenthood ditto and how to reconcile youthful ambition and ideals with real life It's a warm and big hearted coming of age story that made me wistful for my own twenties set in a vividly rendered and long vanished New York City Rumaan Alam New York Times bestselling author of Leave the World Behind Slate editor Dan Kois makes his fiction debut with this stunning coming of age novel set in New York City about the joys of unexpected life altering friendships the power of finding ourselves in the moment and the importance of forgiving ourselves when we inevitably mess everything up It's 1991 Em moved to New York City for excitement and possibility but the big city isn't quite what she thought it would be Working as a literary agent's assistant she's down to her last nineteen dollars but has made two close friends Emily a firebrand theater director living in a Lower East Side squat and Lucy a middle aged novelist and single mom Em's life revolves around these two wildly different women and their vividly disparate yet equally assured views of art and the world But who is Em and what does she want to become It's 2004 Em is now Emily a successful book editor happily married and barely coping with the challenges of a new baby And suddenly Lucy and Emily return to her life Her old friend Lucy's posthumous book needs a publisher and her ex friend Emily wants to rekindle their relationship As they did once before these two women one dead one very alive force Emily to reckon with her decisions her failures and what kind of creative life she wants to lead A sharp reflective and funny story of a young woman coming into herself and struggling to find her place Vintage Contemporaries is a novel about art parenthood loyalty and fighting for a cause the times we do the right thing and the times we fail set in New York City on both sides of the millennium A Companion to Contemporary

Design since 1945 Anne Massey, 2019-03-26 A critical overview of contemporary design and its place within the broader context of art history A Companion to Contemporary Design since 1945 introduces readers to a collection of specially commissioned essays exploring the complex areas of design that emerged through the latter half of the twentieth century design history design methods design studies and more recently design thinking The book delivers a thoughtful overview of all design disciplines and also strives to stimulate inter disciplinary debate and examine unconsidered convergences among design applications in different fields By offering a new perspective on design the articles assembled here present a challenging account of the boundaries between design history and its cognate disciplines especially art history The volume comprises five sections Time Place Space Objects and Audiences that discuss environments for design and how we interact with designed objects and spaces Notable features include 24 new essays reflecting the current state of design history and theory and examining developments on a global basis Contributions by eminent scholars and practitioners from around the globe Enriched throughout with illustrations A Companion to Contemporary Design since 1945 provides a new and thought provoking revision of our conception and understanding of contemporary design that will be essential reading for students at both undergraduate and graduate levels as well as researchers and teachers working in design history theory and practice and in related fields

What It Doesn't Have to Do With Lindsay Bernal, 2018-09-15 Lindsay Bernal's What It Doesn't Have to Do With explores through sculpture painting pornography and performance art changing views on gender and sexuality The elegiac meditations throughout this collection link the objectification of women in art and life to personal narratives of heartbreak urban estrangement and suicide Haunted by the notions of femininity and domesticity the protagonist struggles to define the self in shifting cultural landscapes Ezra Pound Louise Bourgeois and Morrissey coexist within the unruly feminist imagination of these poems Through quick turns and juxtapositions Lindsay Bernal navigates the paradoxical states of grief and love alternating between vulnerability and irony despair and humor Her wry contemporary voice confronts serious subjects with unpredictable wit

Eighties People Kevin L. Ferguson, 2016-05-01 Through an examination of 1980s America cultural texts and media Kevin L Ferguson examines how new types of individuals were created in order to manage otherwise hidden cultural anxieties during the American 1980s Exploring a variety of strategies for fashioning self knowledge in the decade this book illuminates the hidden lives of surrogate mothers crack babies persons with AIDS yuppies and brat packers These seemingly simple stereotypes in fact concealed deeper cultural changes in issues relating to race class and gender Through a range of texts Eighties People shows how the commonplace reading of the 1980s as a superficial period of little importance disguises the decade's real imperative a struggle for self definition outside of the limited set of options given by postmodern theorizing

Theatres of Memory Raphael Samuel, 2012-09-11 When Theatres of Memory was first published in 1994 it transformed the debate about what is to be considered history and questioned the role of heritage that lies at the heart of every Western nation's obsession with the past Today in the age of Downton Abbey and Mad Men we are once again conjuring historical fictions to make sense of our everyday lives In this remarkable book Samuel looks at the many different ways we use the unofficial knowledge of the past Considering such varied areas as the fashion for retrofitting the rise of family history the joys of collecting old photographs the allure of reenactment societies and televised adaptations of Dickens Samuel transforms our understanding of the uses of history He shows us that history is a living practice something constantly

Asian Martial Arts in Literature and Movies Michael DeMarco, M.A.,2016-08-05 Most learn about martial arts through movies and print publications primarily fictional Fiction is drama the blood of drama is conflict and martial arts are rooted in conflict writes James Grady in chapter one Good fiction uses martial arts well while poor writing skills can be plain boring This anthology is a collection of fifteen articles that cover

the richness and depth of Asian martial arts in both movies and literature After look over the array of topics I decided to utilize writings by James Grady for the two introductory chapters Grady is an internationally renowned writer and investigative journalist known for his nail biting thriller novels His early novel was adapted to film as Three days of the Condor 1975 starring Robert Redford Grady has since written over a dozen wonderful novels and in between wrote two excellent pieces for the Journal of Asian Martial Arts one dealing with movies and another with literature The following chapters are greatly enriched by the informative contents in Grady s chapters Details about movie making are provided in the interview with producer Andre Morgan Enter the Dragon Walter Texas Ranger Martial Law etc plus the inside scoop in the publishing and film industries in the interview with multifaceted Curtis Wong Actor producer kickboxing champion Don Wilson provides insights from both sides of the camera in his interview Among the chapters are Albert Dalia s exposition of China s wandering martial hero stories that have roots reaching back two thousand years Christopher Bates excerpt from Xiang Kairan s Tales of Chivalrous and Altruistic Heroes and Olivia Mok s research and translations of sections of Fox Volant of the Snowy Mountain a Louis Cha s novel of 1959 In the latter Mok extricates references to dianxue the methods of attacking vital points We also have fiction focusing on Japanese and Chinese martial traditions by John Donohue Peter Graebner John DeRose and John Gilbey s aka Robert W Smith each highlighting combative experience theory and technique with cultural trimmings Interviews with Barry Eisler and Author Rosenfeld give insight into scholar practitioners whose published novels contain text colored by their knowledge of the martial arts and culture We hope you ll find this book captivating exciting heroic spellbinding content rich fascinating penetrating

Emerging Afrikan Survivals Kemayo Kamau,2004-08-02 This work sets forth the guidelines for an Afrocentric literary theory and goes on to apply that theory to three novels Invisible Man Song of Solomon and The Chaneyville Incident Signs and Wonders Alix Ohlin,2012-06-05 These sixteen stories by the much celebrated Alix Ohlin illuminate the connections between all of us connections we choose to break those broken for us and those we find and make in spite of ourselves

Collection of Modern and Contemporary Voyages and Travels Sir Richard Phillips,1810 Big Fiction Dan Sinykin,2023-10-24 Shortlisted 2024 SHARP Book History Book Prize Society for the History of Authorship Reading and Publishing In the late 1950s Random House editor Jason Epstein would talk jazz with Ralph Ellison or chat with Andy Warhol while pouring drinks in his office By the 1970s editors were poring over profit and loss statements The electronics company RCA bought Random House in 1965 and then other large corporations purchased other formerly independent publishers As multinational conglomerates consolidated the industry the business of literature and literature itself transformed Dan Sinykin explores how changes in the publishing industry have affected fiction literary form and what it means to be an author Giving an inside look at the industry s daily routines personal dramas and institutional crises he reveals how conglomeration has shaped what kinds of books and writers are published Sinykin examines four different sectors of the publishing industry mass market books by brand name

authors like Danielle Steel trade publishers that encouraged genre elements in literary fiction nonprofits such as Graywolf that aspired to protect literature from market pressures and the distinctive niche of employee owned W W Norton He emphasizes how women and people of color navigated shifts in publishing arguing that writers such as Toni Morrison allegorized their experiences in their fiction Big Fiction features dazzling readings of a vast range of novelists including E L Doctorow Judith Krantz Renata Adler Stephen King Joan Didion Cormac McCarthy Chuck Palahniuk Patrick O Brian and Walter Mosley as well as vivid portraits of industry figures Written in gripping and lively prose this deeply original book recasts the past six decades of American fiction

States of Exception in the Contemporary Novel Arne De Boever, 2012-03-01 In the aftermath of the September 11 terror attacks the political situation in both the United States and abroad has often been described as a state of exception an emergency situation in which the normal rule of law is suspended In such a situation the need for good decisions is felt ever more strongly This book investigates the aesthetics ethics and politics of various decisions represented in novels published around 9 11 Martel s Life of Pi Eugenides Middlesex Coetzee s Disgrace and Sebald s Austerlitz De Boever s readings of the novels revolve around what he calls the aesthetic decision Which aesthetics do the characters and narrators in the novels adopt in a situation of crisis How do these aesthetic decisions relate to the ethical and political decisions represented in the novels What can they reveal about real life ethical and political decisions This book uncovers the politics of allegory autobiography focalization and montage in today s planetary state of exception
