Understanding Hubert Selby, Jr James Richard Giles, 1998 Since the publication in 1964 of his novel Last Exit to Brooklyn which arguably achieved the status of a cult classic Hubert Selby Jr has held a place as one of the foremost exponents of American underground literature His work has yet to receive extensive critical attention in part because of its deliberately shocking subject matter and its resistance to precise classification In Understanding Hubert Selby Jr James R Giles examines the writer's four novels and one collection of short stories to make the case that the full complexity of his fiction has not previously been understood Giles contends that Selby's writings which are usually labelled as either naturalistic or surrealistic represent an innovative merger of both narrative modes

The United Stories of America Rolf Lundén, 2022-06-08. This book discusses the American short story composite or short story cycle, a neglected form of writing consisting of autonomous stories interlocking into a whole. The critical work done on this genre has so far focused on the closural strategies of the composites on how unity is accomplished in these texts. This study takes into consideration to a greater degree than earlier criticism the short story composite as an open work, emphasizing the tension between the independent stories and the unified work between the discontinuity and fragmentation on the one hand and the totalizing strategies on the other. The discussion of the genre is illustrated with references to numerous American short story composites.

Zu: Hubert Selby, Jr. - Last Exit to Brooklyn Gritt Hönighaus, 2002-04-16. Seminar paper from the year 2000 in the subject American Studies Literature grade 1.3. A Humboldt University of Berlin American Studies course Hauptseminar Words of the City City of Words The City in American Literature III 1950-1980 language English abstract: Hubert Selby Jr. short biography: Hubert Selby Jr. was born in Brooklyn, New York, in 1928. In 1944, at the age of fifteen, he joined the US Marines. After a few months on harbor duties, he sailed to join the closing stages of World War II. Two years later, in Germany, he was taken off ship suffering from tuberculosis. The doctors said he could not live more than two months; both lungs were totally shot. He got back to the US and spent the next four years in hospital. That was the time he started reading. By the time he got out of the hospital, he had ten ribs removed, one lung collapsed, and a piece of the other one removed. A couple of years later, he had to go to the hospital again. The doctors were telling him again that he is going to die; that he should just go home and sit quietly, and he would soon be dead. His response to this statement was: "Fuck you, no one tells me what to do." After that, he realized that someday he was going to die. He knew two things were going to happen before he died: Number one, he would regret his entire life; Number two, he would want to live his life over again. And he would die. That absolutely terrified him to think he would live his entire life, look at it, and say: "Jeez, I blew it, I blew the whole thing." So he got a typewriter and started writing. This didn't make him a writer, but provided the incentive to discover that he is a writer. So during this time of bad health, he returned to Brooklyn, started to drink and take drugs, and wrote his first book, Last Exit to Brooklyn, which he finished after six years and was published in the US in 1964.
