Landscape As Urbanism A General Theory:

Landscape as Urbanism Charles Waldheim, 2022-03-15 A definitive intellectual history of landscape urbanism It has become conventional to think of urbanism and landscape as opposing one another or to think of landscape as merely providing temporary relief from urban life as shaped by buildings and infrastructure But driven in part by environmental concerns landscape has recently emerged as a model and medium for the city with some theorists arguing that landscape architects are the urbanists of our age In Landscape as Urbanism one of the field's pioneers presents a powerful case for rethinking the city through landscape Charles Waldheim traces the roots of landscape as a form of urbanism from its origins in the Renaissance through the twentieth century Growing out of progressive architectural culture and populist environmentalism the concept was further informed by the nineteenth century invention of landscape architecture as a new art charged with reconciling the design of the industrial city with its ecological and social conditions In the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries as urban planning shifted from design to social science and as urban design committed to neotraditional models of town planning landscape urbanism emerged to fill a void at the heart of the contemporary urban project Generously illustrated Landscape as Urbanism examines works from around the world by designers ranging from Ludwig Hilberseimer Andrea Branzi and Frank Lloyd Wright to James Corner Adriaan Geuze and Michael Van Valkenburgh The result is the definitive account of an emerging field that is likely to influence the design of cities for decades to come

NESS. Docs 2 Landscape As Urbanism in the Americas Magdalena Tagliabue, 2020-03-27 The second issue of NESS docs titled Landscape as Urbanism in the Americas convenes a series of discussions lead by Office for Urbanization at Harvard GSD directed by Charles Waldheim on the potentials for Landscape as a medium for urban intervention in the specific social cultural economic and ecological contexts of Latin American cities It features more than twenty projects developed by Latin American practices such as Tatiana Bilbao Estudio Groundlab F brica de Paisaje and gathers original texts by them as well as essays by Luis Callejas Alfredo Ramirez and Manuel Gausa among others from URBAN DESIGN to LANDSCAPE URBANISM Sariyya ARSLAN, Erkan POLAT, 2025-04-16 Landscape Urbanism is a planning and design theory and a model of practice that argues that the best way to organize cities is through the design of the city's landscape rather than just the design of built or unbuilt areas In this context it is positioned within larger scale cultural historical and theoretical formations Landscape Urbanism is a response to the limited perception or depiction of the current project and site context by both Urban Planners and Architects and Landscape Architects It is also a concept that has been strategically introduced by these design and planning oriented professions and jobs especially in terms of Urban Design as a way to differentiate the context and is used more in a Western oriented way and has been put forward as a response to the increasingly undefined role that Landscape Architects find themselves in Landscape Urbanism describes the ability to produce urban effects that have traditionally been achieved through the construction of buildings on built up areas simply through the organization of horizontal surfaces Although first coined in the mid 1990s the term Landscape Urbanism has adopted many different uses but is most often associated with Urban Design and as a Postmodernist or even New Modernist response to the spatial scale failures of the New Urbanism the departure from comprehensive visions and demands for Modern architecture and Urban Planning The Routledge Companion to Landscape Studies Peter Howard,Ian Thompson,Emma Waterton,Mick Atha,2018-09-03 This new edition of The Routledge Companion to Landscape Studies contains an updated and expanded selection of original chapters which explore research directions in an array of disciplines sharing a concern for landscape a term which has many uses and meanings It features 33 revised and or updated chapters and 14 entirely new chapters on topics such as the Anthropocene Indigenous landscapes challenging landscape Eurocentrism photography and green infrastructure planning The volume is divided into four parts Experiencing landscape Landscape heritage and culture Landscape society and justice and Design and planning for landscape Collectively the book provides a critical review of the various fields related to the study of landscapes including the future development of conceptual and theoretical approaches as well as current empirical knowledge and understanding It encourages dialogue across disciplinary barriers and between academics and practitioners and reflects upon the implications of research findings for local national and international policy in relation to landscape The Companion provides a comprehensive and up to date guide to current thinking about landscapes and serves as an invaluable point of reference for scholars researchers and graduate students alike Building Meaning Tamara Metz,2021-12-30 Building Meaning An Architecture Studio Primer on Design Theory and History is an essential introduction to the complex relationship between form making historical analysis and conceptual explorations This book focuses on the relationship and interdependence between design theory and history for an innovative and holistic studio approach Rather than suggest a singular narrative this book draws from a diverse range of thinkers and designers to highlight the many interpretations of key architectural concepts and provides readers with the context essential for developing their own approaches to any design problem Building Meaning is organized to reflect the typical studio process with stand alone chapters that provide flexibility for use at any stage of design The ideal book for beginning and intermediate architecture students it gives specific methods to apply in the studio to make the most of the design process as well as focused exercises to creatively explore each concept presented Illustrated with more than 250 color images it enables readers to engage and understand critically the genesis of architectural ideas and their role in our social and cultural experience Climate Bridge Wolfram Höfer,Arianna Lindberg,Sebastian Schlecht,Angela Oberg,Frank Gallagher,2025-06-17 Climate change is creating new challenges for spatial and environmental planning on both sides of the Atlantic Planning and policy must balance moderating climate change impact from rising temperatures extreme precipitation and sea level rise with social equity and environmental justice Climate Bridge compares New Jersey and the German Ruhr region to build an international perspective on how to enact climate action at the government public interface The book grew from fifteen years of collaboration between scholars in New Jersey and Germany through summer programs a landscape architecture design studio internships for Rutgers University students and joint publications Notably settlement patterns and brownfield issues reveal similarities between the underserved in both regions The first section compares international environmental planning approaches and outlines different approaches to common problems The second section presents case studies that highlight adaptation strategies for uncertainties caused by climate change Finally the closing section reminds us of our dependence on ecological systems for physical mental and emotional well being Contributors to this landmark volume include planners designers scholars public administrators and decision makers on both sides of the Atlantic Together the chapters bring interdisciplinary approaches and diverse perspectives to the environmental economic political and social dimensions of planning and design in the context of climate change

Urban and Regional Agriculture Peter Droege, 2022-12-03 Urban and Regional Agriculture Building Resilient Food Systems explores the sustainable integration of food provision distribution and consumption through urban farms agricultural systems user communities and structural facilities designed to optimize food production and consumption The book addresses the fundamental and pressing challenges of urban planning problems waste minimization food sourcing access and equity issues and multiple land use optimization Sections cover the need and opportunities of urban agriculture discuss tradition and transition space and regulatory topics explore the range of urban agriculture options aquaculture to urban permaculture discuss support structures and constructs of physically creating urban agricultural areas and much more Edited and authored by leading experts in the field this volume will be valuable for those working to address issues of food security in urban environments Integrates agriculture and urban settings to improve food security Examines relevant considerations from development to the regulation of food system architectures Provides regionally specific considerations to guide effective and efficient implementation

Spatial Transformation Milad Abassiharofteh, Jessica Baier, Angelina Göb, Insa Thimm, Andreas Eberth, Falco Knaps, Vilja Larjosto, Fabiana Zebner, 2022 What can be understood by spatial transformation how does it manifest itself and what are the characteristics of transformation processes This Research Report addresses these questions and presents current research projects and approaches from an academic and practical planning perspective A central point of reference is the concept of a Great Transformation which stems from an expert report by the German Advisory Council on Global Change WBGU It outlines the profound changes in the economy and society towards sustainability that will become necessary in the future describing them as a Great Transformation Likewise social upheavals also manifest themselves in space enabling spatial changes to be understood as spatial transformations However on a detailed level it remains unclear what is to be understood by spatial transformation processes and how they manifest themselves Against the background of this need for further research this Research Report addresses concrete issues in the research and shaping of spatial transformation processes The aim is to systematise the largely unordered or disordered knowledge of spatial transformation processes and to contribute to a common understanding of the associated concepts which can form the basis for further research and for the steering of these processes The articles on the following topics show how spatial and social transformation processes are mutually dependent and what opportunities and challenges inter and transdisciplinary research designs can offer in this context Perspectives on transformation processes Social and settlement structures in change Regional development and innovation Transformation processes in the so called Global South New challenges for planning processes and stakeholders Research on transformation The contributions to theoretical methodological and practical approaches are intended to stimulate a critical discussion on spatial transformation that is open to new interdisciplinary perspectives The Routledge Companion to Twentieth and Early Twenty-First Century Urban Design Jon Lang, 2020-11-09

The Routledge Companion to Twentieth and Early Twenty First Century Urban Design is a fully illustrated descriptive and explanatory history of the development of urban design ideas and paradigms of the past 150 years The ideas and projects hypothetical and built range in scale from the city to the urban block level The focus is on where the generic ideas originated the projects that were designed following their precepts the functions they address and or afford and what we can learn from them The morphology of a city its built environment evolves unselfconsciously as private and governmental investors self consciously erect buildings and infrastructure in a pragmatic piecemeal manner to meet their own ends Philosophers novelists architects and social scientists have produced myriad ideas about the nature of the built environment that they consider to be superior to those forms resulting from a laissez faire attitude to urban development Rationalist theorists dream of ideal futures based on assumptions about what is good empiricists draw inspirations from what they perceive to be working well in existing situations Both groups have presented their advocacies in manifestoes and often in the form of generic solutions or illustrative designs This book traces the history of these ideas and will become a standard reference for scholars and students interested in the history of urban spaces including architects planners urban historians urban geographers and urban morphologists Eating, Building, Dwelling David Arredondo Garrido, Juan

Calatrava, Marta Sequeira, 2024-11-26 The intricate relationship between food city and architecture spanning from ancient civilizations to the present serves as a focal point for interdisciplinary discourse This book delves into a diverse set of cases throughout history in which processes related to food significantly influenced architectural or urban designs This book delineates three spatial levels city home and intermediate spaces illuminating their dynamic interplay within the construct of a continually evolving food space Featuring 12 contributions from Mediterranean Europe this publication explores historical legacies and contemporary challenges Divided into urban territorial and architectural scales it offers nuanced insights into urban dynamics domestic life and gastronomic tourism Supported by a prestigious introductory study this research advances a comprehensive understanding of food s role in shaping urban environments Through the chapters of this book those interested in cultural studies of food urban history and architecture will be able to reflect on our relationship with food and its processes and how it affects the way we live and design our cities and their architectures Proceedings of the 2022 International Conference on Green Building, Civil Engineering and Smart City Wei Guo,Kai Qian,2022-09-07 This book of the conference proceedings focuses on innovative design technology and methods in the fields of building civil engineering and smart city It contains a large number of detailed design construction and performance analysis charts benefited to students teachers research scholars and other professionals in related fields As well readers will encounter new ideas for realizing more safe intelligent and economical buildings

Informality through Sustainability Antonino Di Raimo,Steffen Lehmann,Alessandro Melis,2020-12-30 Informality through Sustainability explores the phenomenon of informality within urban settlements and aims to unravel the subtle links between informal settlements and sustainability Penetrating its global profile and considering urban informality through an understanding of local implications the authors collectively reveal specific correlations between sites and their local inhabitants The book opposes simplistic calls to legalise informal settlements or to view them as problems to be solved It comes at a time when common notions of informality are being increasingly challenged In 25 chapters the book presents contributions from well known scholars and practitioners whose theoretical or practical work addresses informality and sustainability at various levels from city planning and urban design to public space and architectural education Whilst previous studies on informal settlements have mainly focused on cases in developing countries approaching the topic through social cultural and material dimensions the book explores the concept across a range of contexts including former Communist countries and those in the so called Global North Contributions also explore understandings of informality at various scalar levels region precinct neighbourhood and individual building Thus this work helps reposition informality as a relational concept at various scales of urbanisation This book will be of great benefit to planners architects researchers and policymakers interested in the interplay between informality and sustainability

Handbook of Infrastructures and Cities Olivier Coutard,Daniel Florentin,2024-04-12 Contributing towards a thriving research area this comprehensive Handbook presents a broad discussion of infrastructure as social phenomena It compiles diverse perspectives to delineate the current infrastructural turn and assess policy and research challenges relating to contemporary forms of infrastructural development

Approaching Regeneration of the Built Environment Saimir Shtylla,Hamid Rabiei,2025-06-02 This book approaches three important aspects related with urban regeneration such as research innovation and challenges In light of its growing interdisciplinarity the selected contributions extend the debate to the importance of the cooperation between various disciplines attention to the latest design and technological trends as well major inclusivity of citizens for a correct decision making process leading afterwards into successful development test and implementation of innovative solutions An important focus will be set on the important role innovations play in the preservation and management of heritage sites in response to the climate and urban challenges encountered Also this contribution aims to transmit the importance of local interventions in the achievement of urban regeneration as an impulse for the achievement of the common global climate goals in the years ahead

Ludwig Hilberseimer Scott Colman, 2023-07-27 The German American architect art critic and urban planner Ludwig Hilberseimer was central to avant garde art and architecture in the Weimar Republic an important Bauhaus teacher and long standing collaborator of leading modern architect Ludwig Mies van der Rohe Despite being internationally known for his work on Lafayette Park in Detroit Hilberseimer s legacy as a whole has been obscured in the history of modern architecture Whether this is due to the intense shadow cast by Mies or by his oeuvre being split between the differing languages and contexts of interwar Germany and postwar North America this book argues that the time is now right for a critical reassessment of Hilberseimer s work and writings Published as part of the Bloomsbury Studies in Modern Architecture series which brings to light the work of significant yet overlooked modernist architects this study clarifies and situates Hilberseimer s ideas both as an architect and writer and examines their influence on modern and contemporary architecture and urbanism The first synthetic account of Hilberseimer in English it provides a contextual account of Hilberseimer s works which have until now been subject to fragmentary or highly specialized interpretations By demonstrating the influence of Hilberseimer s ideas on the architecture of Mies van der Rohe the book also lends Mies s work a newfound urban significance

The Spatialities of Radio Astronomy Guy Trangoš, 2023-04-28 The Spatialities of Radio Astronomy examines the multidisciplinary overlap between the spatial disciplines and the studies of science and technology through a comparative study of four of the world s most important radio telescopes Employing detailed analysis historical research interviews personal observations and various conceptual manoeuvres Guy Trango reveals the depth of spatial process active at these scientific sites and the territories they traverse Through the conceptual frameworks of territory hyper concentration and contingency Trango interprets the telescope as exploded across space and time present in multiple connected sites simultaneously and active in the production of space He develops a historiographic and contemporary analysis of the Atacama Large Millimeter submillimeter Array ALMA Chile the Five hundred meter Aperture

Spherical radio Telescope FAST China the Arecibo Observatory Puerto Rico and the MeerKAT SKA South Africa These case studies are global exemplars of the different spatial transformations that occur through science Their relationships to surrounding communities and landscapes reveal deeper constitutional processes embodied in each institutional and spatial form This book spans the modern history of architecture and science the studies of science technology and society and urban theory It is of specific interest to architects and designers expanding their analysis of spatial production scholars in the study of geography landscape science technology and astronomy and people fascinated with how these radio telescopes were conceptualised built and operate today

Seoul Rafael Luna, 2024-04-30 This book focuses on understanding how a megacity like Seoul can be read as a formal architectural composition and not an endless urban sprawl In a broader sense the book discusses the dichotomy between city and urbanization city being an architectural problem of bounded forms while urbanism is an infrastructural project of expansion It is an uncontested reality that urbanization is a continuous global process that has produced nebulous conurbations labeled as megacities These expand beyond the virtual administrative boundary of any said city producing a discrepancy between an area of administrative control and the real physical condition of human settlement If there were a better formal understanding of megacities through their typological architectural conditions then there could be a better assessment of the qualitative state of urbanization Avant garde groups from the 1950s 1960s and 1970s such as Team X the Situationist the Structuralist and the Metabolist worked with ideas of megaforms and megastructures to address this issue Although most of these proposals remained as paper architecture this book reevaluates some of these ideas for the 21st century megacity using Seoul as a case study due to its clear typological formations produced over its different periods of governance The aim is to present the concept for an infra architectural hybrid model of typological islands and subterranean megastructure that organizes Seoul as a flexible multi linear city This book will be of interest to academics and students of architecture urban geography and Asian studies

Future Cities Nick Dunn, Paul Curreton, 2020-12-10 What might our cities look like in ten twenty or fifty years How may future cities face global challenges Imagining the city of the future has long been an inspiration for many architects artists and designers This book examines how cities of the future have been visualised what these projects sought to communicate and what the implications may be for us now It provides a visual history of the future and explores the relationships between different visualisation techniques and ideologies for cities Thinking about what futures are who they are for why they are desirable and how and when they are to be brought into being is central to this book Through visualisation we are able to experiment in ways that would be impractical and potentially hazardous in the real world and this book therefore aims to contribute toward a better understanding of the power and agency of visualisations for future cities In this lavishly illustrated text the authors apply several critical lenses to consider the subject in different ways technological futures social futures and global futures providing a comprehensive survey and analysis of visions for future cities and engaging creatively with how we perceive

tomorrow s world and future studies more widely City on a Hill Alex Krieger, 2019-10-29 A sweeping history of American cities and towns and the utopian aspirations that shaped them by one of America s leading urban planners and scholars The first European settlers saw America as a paradise regained The continent seemed to offer a God given opportunity to start again and build the perfect community Those messianic days are gone But as Alex Krieger argues in City on a Hill any attempt at deep understanding of how the country has developed must recognize the persistent and dramatic consequences of utopian dreaming Even as ideals have changed idealism itself has for better and worse shaped our world of bricks and mortar macadam parks and farmland As he traces this uniquely American story from the Pilgrims to the smart city Krieger delivers a striking new history of our built environment The Puritans were the first utopians seeking a New Jerusalem in the New England villages that still stand as models of small town life In the Age of Revolution Thomas Jefferson dreamed of citizen farmers tending plots laid out across the continent in a grid of enlightened rationality As industrialization brought urbanization reformers answered emerging slums with a zealous crusade of grand civic architecture and designed the vast urban parks vital to so many cities today The twentieth century brought cycles of suburban dreaming and urban renewal one generation s utopia forming the next one s nightmare and experiments as diverse as Walt Disney s EPCOT hippie communes and Las Vegas Krieger s compelling and richly illustrated narrative reminds us as we formulate new ideals today that we chase our visions surrounded by the glories and failures of dreams gone by
