Is Landscape ...? Gareth Doherty, 2015 Landscape, Heritage and National Identity in Modern Europe Hans Renes, 2022-10-06 This book describes the way in which landscape and landscape heritage have been and still are used to define national identities It shows how national narratives use different types of landscapes Some nations use nature as their main point of reference partly to circumscribe conflicts between different ethnic groups Other nations use agrarian landscapes that are often described as timeless and rooted Again other nations use history as a major source for defining identities In these cases myths of origins Golden Ages or wars and conflicts deliver the materials for national narratives The final section describes how nation states developed new urban as well as rural landscapes as national showpieces As landscapes are an important but under researched aspect of nation building this book fills a gap in the study of nationalism

Landscape and Identity Wendy Joy Darby, 2020-08-20 In England perhaps more than most places people's engagement with the landscape is deeply felt and has often been expressed through artistic media The popularity of walking and walking clubs perhaps provides the most compelling evidence of the important role landscape plays in people's lives Not only is individual identity rooted in experiencing landscape but under the multiple impacts of social fragmentation global economic restructuring and European integration membership in recreational walking groups helps recover a sense of community Moving between the 1750s and the present this transdisciplinary book explores the powerful role of landscape in the formation of historical class relations and national identity The author's direct field experience of fell walking in the Lake District and with various locally based clubs includes investigation of the roles gender and race play She shows how the politics of access to open spaces has implications beyond the immediate geographical areas considered and ultimately involves questions of citizenship

Landscape Fieldwork Gareth Doherty, 2025-05-05 Refocusing on human inhabitants in landscape architecture Landscape architecture is at a crossroads The ability to draw upon interdisciplinary perspectives and generate insights from the combined vantage points of design environmental studies and the social sciences puts it in a prime position to address the most pressing issues of our time such as climate change and social inequality Its current reliance on digital and technological solutions however has increasingly caused landscape architects to lose sight of the ways in which humans actually use spaces And while landscapes are designed all over the world the discipline remains inordinately centered on the Global North Landscape Fieldwork alters that long standing paradigm through real life examples that provide tools for practitioners to engage more deeply with multidimensional diverse landscapes and the communities that create live in and use them Cultural

Landscapes of India Amita Sinha, 2020-11-10 Most people view cultural heritage sites as static places frozen in time In Cultural Landscapes in India Amita Sinha subverts the idea of heritage as static and examines the ways that landscapes influence culture and that culture influences landscapes The book centers around imagining enacting and reclaiming landscapes as subjects and settings of living cultural heritage Drawing on case studies from different regions of India Sinha offers new interpretations of links between land and culture using different ways of seeing transcendental romantic and utilitarian The idea of cultural landscape can be seen in ancient practices such as circumambulation and immersion in bodies of water that sustain engagement with natural elements Pilgrim towns medieval forts religious sites and contemporary memorial parks are sites of memory where myth and history converge Engaging with these spaces allows us to reconstruct collective memory and reclaim not only historic landscapes but ways of seeing making and remembering Cultural Landscapes in India makes the case for reclaiming iconic landscapes and rethinking conventional approaches to conservation that take into consideration performative landscape as heritage The Cultural Landscape & Heritage Paradox Tom

Bloemers, Henk Kars, Arnold Van der Valk, 2010 The basic problem is to what extent we can know past and mainly invisible landscapes and how we can use this still hidden knowledge for actual sustainable management of landscape s cultural and historical values It has also been acknowledged that heritage management is increasingly about the management of future change rather than simply protection This presents us with a paradox to preserve our historic environment we have to collaborate with those who wish to transform it and in order to apply our expert knowledge we have to make it suitable for policy and society The answer presented by the Protection and Development of the Dutch Archaeological Historical Landscape programme pdl bbo is an integrative landscape approach which applies inter and transdisciplinarity establishing links between archaeological historical heritage and planning and between research and policy The Routledge

Companion to Landscape Studies Peter Howard, Ian Thompson, Emma Waterton, Mick Atha, 2013-02-15 Landscape is a vital synergistic concept which opens up ways of thinking about many of the problems which beset our contemporary world such as climate change social alienation environmental degradation loss of biodiversity and destruction of heritage As a concept landscape does not respect disciplinary boundaries Indeed many academic disciplines have found the concept so important it has been used as a qualifier that delineates whole sub disciplines landscape ecology landscape planning landscape archaeology and so forth In other cases landscape studies progress under a broader banner such as heritage studies or cultural geography Yet it does not always mean the same thing in all of these contexts The Routledge Companion to Landscape Studies offers the first comprehensive attempt to explore research directions into the many uses and meanings of landscape The Companion contains thirty nine original contributions from leading scholars within the field which have been divided into four parts Experiencing Landscape Landscape Culture and Heritage Landscape Society and Justice and Design and Planning for Landscape Topics covered range from phenomenological approaches to landscape to the consideration of landscape as a repository of human culture from ideas of identity and belonging to issues of power and hegemony and from discussions of participatory planning and design to the call for new imaginaries in a time of global and environmental crisis Each contribution explores the future development of different conceptual and theoretical approaches as well as recent empirical contributions to knowledge and understanding Collectively they encourage dialogue across disciplinary barriers and reflection upon the implications of research findings for local national and international policy in relation to landscape This Companion provides up to date critical reviews of state of the art perspectives across this multifaceted field embracing disciplines such as anthropology archaeology cultural studies geography landscape planning landscape architecture countryside management forestry heritage studies ecology and fine art It serves as an invaluable point of reference for scholars researchers and graduate students alike engaging in the field of landscape studies

Street Naming and the Politics of Greek-Cypriot Identity Stella Theodorou, 2024-04-23 This book is the first to explore street names and street naming in the formation of a Greek Cypriot identity in the cityscape of Nicosia between 1878 and 1975 Rather than treating toponymy as a direct linguistic act of spatial orientation the book approaches street naming as a contested practice involving those shared symbols and representations used to depict official history and collective identity as part of a political process It considers how street names are part of the symbolic politics of space and how authorities transformed the streets of Nicosia into arenas of struggle for the control of symbolic and material space It documents historical efforts over the course of a century to impose a geography of forgetting to buttress national identity and to cast out the other from space both literally and symbolically so as to achieve territorial dominance and political legitimacy The book is another step towards the development of a global perspective on the critical study of street naming thereby refining and expanding our knowledge of the political dynamics involved in the process In their commemorative capacity street names belong to the politics of public memory and identity

Mysticism, Myth and Celtic Identity Marion Gibson, Shelley Trower, Garry Tregidga, 2013 Mysticism Myth and Celtic Identity explores how the mythical and mystical past informs national imaginations Building on notions of invented tradition and myths of the nation it looks at the power of narrative and fiction to shape identity with particular reference to the British and Celtic contexts The authors consider how aspects of the past are reinterpreted or reimagined in a variety of ways to give coherence to desired national groupings or groups aspiring to nationhood and its defence The coverage is unusually broad in its historical sweep dealing with work from prehistory to the contemporary with a particular emphasis on the period from the eighteenth century to the present The subject matter includes notions of ancient deities Druids Celticity the archaeological remains of pagan religions traditional folk tales racial and religious myths and ethnic politics and the different types of returns and hauntings that can recycle these ideas in culture Innovative and interdisciplinary the scholarship in Mysticism Myth and Celtic Identity is mainly literary but also geographical and historical and draws on religious studies politics and the social sciences Thus the collection offers a stimulatingly broad number of new viewpoints on a matter of great topical relevance national identity and the politicization of its myths Europe's Living Landscapes Bas Pedrolí, Anne van Doorn, Geert de Blust, 2014-12-22 This book is the result of three symposia of the Dutch Society for Landscape Ecology The first symposium in 2005 was about the National Ecological Network in the Netherlands The reason was that the implementation of the NEN decided upon in 1990 was halfway The second symposium in 2006 was about urban ecology and the third one to be held in 2007 will be about civil infrastructure This book does not cover the conferences completely and new contributions are added The three themes are important contexts in which landscape ecologists do their research and apply their knowledge and skills Of course there are many more subjects to hold conferences about for example climate change urbanisation agriculture landscape ecology itself etc The focus of the conferences is on the Netherlands with its urbanisation intensive land use and water management as characteristic features Although many WLO members do their work abroad or in an international context these conferences offer a window on what happens in the Dutch context The experiences may be of value for other contexts and that is why we present the results in English The selected themes and the focus on the Dutch context are serious demarcations of what landscape ecology in the Netherlands is all about The book does not represent all research and applications of landscape ecology Geographies of Myth and Places of Identity Marco Benoît Carbone, 2022-01-13 Turning to a region of South Italy associated with Greater Greece and the geographies of Homer's Odyssey Marco Benoit Carbone delivers a historical and ethnographic treatment of how places defined in public imagination and media by their associated histories become sites of memory and identity as their landscape and mythologies turn into insignia of a romanticised antiquity For the ancient Greeks Homer had set the marine monsters of the Odyssey in the Strait between Calabria and Sicily Since then this passage has been glowing with the aura of its mythological landmarks Travellers and tourists have played Odysseus by re-enacting his journey Scholars and explorers have explained the myths as metaphors of whirlpools and marine fauna The iconic Strait and village of Scilla have turned into place myths and playgrounds defined by the region's heritage Carbone observes the enduring impact of Hellas on the real Strait today The continuous rekindling of cultural and visual traditions of place in the arts media travel and tourism have intersected with philhellenic historiographies shaping local policies public histories views of development and forms of Hellenicist identitarianism Elements of society have celebrated the landscape of the Odyssey appropriated Homer as their imagined heirs and purported themselves as the original Europeans pandering to outdated ideological appropriations of classical antiquity and exclusionary West-centric views of the Mediterranean World Heritage Cultural Landscapes: A Handbook for Conservation and Management gratuit, 2009
