Honoring Identities Donna L. Miller, 2021-02-15 Honoring Identities argues that creating culturally responsive learning communities is a process which begins with building community cultivating certain student and teacher dispositions nurturing social justice leveraging the power of talk and dialogic exchange using Cultural Identity Literature CIL to build bridges and to normalize difference and fostering a culture of civil discourse Honoring Identities provides both theory and practice to advance the important mission of building culturally responsive mindsets and to ensure that all students feel like they have a place at the learning table CIL reflects and honors the lives of all young people and GREEN APPLE questions focus their reading on key facets of identity multiplying the effectiveness of the reading experience GREEN APPLE questions also provide a lens for anyone else wishing to select CIL The questions not only illuminate different perspectives of a text but make readers aware that individual experiences color the reading of a text Self- and Other-Reference in Social

Contexts Minna Nevala, Minna Palander-Collin, 2024-03-15 The chapters in this volume study the construction representation and negotiation of a variety of social roles through self and other reference markers or the discussion of reference as a tool for identification The chapters uncover new insights both from a historical and present day perspective and show how positioning the self and other varies what kind of reference choices language users make and what follows from these choices The data come from a variety of public texts private encounters and questionnaires and the methodologies range from macro to micro perspectives including combinations of qualitative close reading and quantitative corpus methods and synchronic and diachronic perspectives The findings enhance our understanding and use of reference practices in the context of global institutional political and multicultural as well as media texts Sippings from the Slipper of a
