Language Learners in Study Abroad Contexts Margaret A. DuFon, Eton E. Churchill, 2006-01-18 Examining the overseas experience of language learners in diverse contexts through a variety of theoretical and methodological approaches studies in this volume look at the acquisition of language use socialization processes learner motivation identity and learning strategies In this way the volume offers a privileged window into learner experiences abroad while addressing current concerns central to second language acquisition

Learning context effects Carmen Pérez Vidal, Sonia López-Serrano, Jennifer Ament, Dakota J. Thomas-Wilhelm, 2018 This book deals with the effects of three different learning contexts mainly on adult but also on adolescent learners language acquisition The three contexts brought together in the monograph include i a conventional instructed second language acquisition ISLA environment in which learners receive formal instruction in English as a Foreign Language EFL ii a Study Abroad SA context which learners experience during mobility programmes when the target language is no longer a foreign but a second language learnt in a naturalistic context iii the immersion classroom also known as an integrated content and language ICL setting in which learners are taught content subjects through the medium of the target language more often than not English used as the Lingua Franca ELF The volume examines how these contexts change language learners linguistic performance and also non linguistic that is it throws light on how motivation sense of identity interculturality international ethos and affective factors develop To our knowledge no publication exists which places the three contexts on focus in this monograph along a continuum as suggested in P rez Vidal 2011 2014 with SA as the most naturalistic context on one extreme ISLA on the other and ICL somewhere in between while framing them all as international classrooms Concerning target languages the nine chapters included in the volume analyze English and one chapter deals with Spanish as the target language As for target countries in SA programmes data include England Ireland France Germany and Spain in Europe but also Canada China and Australia While the main bulk of the chapters deal with tertiary level language learners a language learning population which has received less attention by research thus far one chapter deals with adolescent learners Carmen P rez Vidal Sonia L pez Jennifer Ament and Dakota Thomas Wilhelm all served on the organizing committee for the EUROSIA workshop held at the Universitat Pompeu Fabra Barcelona in May 2016 It is from this workshop that this monograph was inspired

Study Abroad Contexts for Enhanced Foreign Language Learning Velliari, Donna M., 2018-04-13 Popular opinion has long assumed that learning a foreign language requires not only traditional classroom instruction but also immersion among native speakers of the language This opinion is so strongly held that students who study through immersion are believed to become more proficient than those who do not Study Abroad Contexts for Enhanced Foreign Language Learning is a critical scholarly publication that explores the importance and efficacy of international travel in the learning of a second or additional language Including various topics such as auditory orthographic training grammatical ability and learner autonomy this book is geared toward academicians students and professionals seeking current and relevant research on language acquisition through immersion and its value

The Acquisition of Sociolinguistic Competence in a Study Abroad Context Vera Regan, Martin Howard, Isabelle Lemée, 2009-05-11 This volume explores the relationship between study abroad and the acquisition of sociolinguistic competence the ability to communicate in socially appropriate ways The volume looks at language development and use during study abroad in France by examining patterns of variation in the speech of advanced L2 speakers Within a variationist paradigm fine grained empirical analyses of speech illuminate choices the L2 speaker makes in relation to their new identity gender patterns closeness or distance maintained in the social context in which they find themselves Using both cross sectional and longitudinal data four variable features of contemporary spoken French are analysed in a large population of advanced Irish English speakers of French This close up picture provides empirical evidence by which to evaluate the wide spread assumption that Study Abroad is highly beneficial for second language learning

Social and Cultural Aspects of Language Learning in Study Abroad Celeste Kinginger, 2013-07-31 The papers in this volume offer a sampling of contemporary efforts to update the portrayal of study abroad in the applied linguistics literature through attention to its social and cultural aspects The volume illustrates diversification of theory and method refinement of approaches to social interactive language use and expansion in the range of populations and languages under scrutiny Part I offers a topical orientation outlining the rationale for the project Part II presents six qualitative case studies adopting sociocultural activity theoretical poststructuralist or discourse analytic methodologies The four chapters in Part III illustrate a variety of approaches and foci in research on the pragmatic capabilities of study abroad participants in relation to second language identities The volume will be of interest to a broad audience of applied linguistics researchers language educators and professionals engaged in the design oversight and assessment of study abroad programs      Language Learning in Study Abroad Wenhao Diao,Emma Trentman,2021-03-04 Vestiges of monolingual bias are present in the portrayal of study abroad as an idealized monolingual immersion experience and the steps many programs take to encourage or enforce target language monolingualism In reality study abroad is often inherently multilingual This book addresses the need for a recognition of the multilingual realities of study abroad across a variety of traditional and non traditional national contexts and target languages The chapters examine multilingual socialization and translanguaging with peers local hosts and instructors how the target language is necessarily entwined in global local and historical contexts and how students negotiate the use of local and global varieties of English Together the chapters present a powerful argument for scholars and study abroad practitioners to consider and critically incorporate multilingual realities into their research and planning      Study Abroad and the Second Language Acquisition of Sociolinguistic Variation in Spanish Sara L. Zahler,Avizia Y. Long,Bret Linford,2023-06-06 This volume offers a comprehensive snapshot of the breadth of empirical research currently being conducted on the second language acquisition of sociolinguistic variation in Spanish during study abroad Research on this topic spans diverse methodological approaches types of programs linguistic structures and learner characteristics which is reflected in the contributions in this volume This diversity of approaches illustrates how the second language development of sociolinguistic variation during study abroad depends crucially on a number of linguistic and extralinguistic factors and can be measured in distinct ways Thus this collection will be an indispensable resource to researchers and students of second language acquisition sociolinguistics applied linguistics education and other fields interested in language development during study abroad      Exploring
