Vegas, and the Strip Eugene P. Moehring, 2014-09-15 Eugene P Moehring analyzes the development of Reno and Las Vegas since 1945 with special emphasis on the years after 1970 Major factors that shaped the development of both cities were the growth of corporate gaming and megaresorts and increased personal leisure and affluence Moehring provides an engaging informative and readable history of the divergent paths that Reno and Las Vegas took over the past forty years Reno the nation's gambling mecca in the 1950s led the way developing the successful tourist economy that Las Vegas later embraced Through the 1970s the two cities resembled each other greatly but Las Vegas grew to achieve global significance while Reno slowly declined searching for new industries to power its future Moehring shows that the development of the Las Vegas Strip was crucial to southern Nevada's success The casinos hotels and entertainments of the Strip and the workers they supported formed a new urban center ringed by offices residences shopping and a major university In effect it became a third metropolis governed by county commissioners larger than Reno and Las Vegas combined Moehring brings the story of the three cities to the present day examining lessons learned from the Great Recession and the efforts under way in all three metropolises to diversify their economies Moehring makes an important contribution with the only current study of Nevada's cities focusing on urban development issues rather than social history or the gaming industry As the service economy continues to grow not only in Nevada but throughout the United States Moehring's work has many implications for urban studies and particularly the study of urban development in other metropolitan areas
