

TEMA: ÉTICA EN LA MODA

La moda ética abarca varios aspectos, como la mano de obra, los materiales textiles, aquellos de origen animal y, por último, que tan sustentables/sostenibles son estos materiales. Los aspectos de una marca ética son varios y pocas de ellas cumplen con todos estos.

La sustentabilidad y sostenibilidad de las piezas, estas palabras son usadas como sinónimos en el mundo de la moda, pero en realidad no lo son. La moda sostenible, se refiere a aquel modelo de producción que podría existir a largo plazo sin causar efectos negativos en nuestro planeta; la moda sustentable, se enfoca más en la regularización de los procesos de moda

Charnon-Deutsch,1985 Gender and Nation in the Spanish Modernist Novel Roberta Johnson,2003 Offering a fresh revisionist analysis of Spanish fiction from 1900 to 1940 this study examines the work of both men and women writers and how they practiced differing forms of modernism As Roberta Johnson notes Spanish male novelists emphasized technical and verbal innovation in representing the contents of an individual consciousness and thus were more modernist in the usual understanding of the term Female writers on the other hand were less aesthetically innovative but engaged in a social modernism that focused on domestic issues gender roles and relations between the sexes Compared to the more conventional even reactionary ways their male counterparts treated such matters Spanish women's fiction in the first half of the twentieth century was often revolutionary The book begins by tracing the history of public discourse on gender from the 1890s through the 1930s a discourse that included the rise of feminism Each chapter then analyzes works by female and male novelists that address key issues related to gender and nationalism the concept of intrahistoria or an essential Spanish soul modernist uses of figures from the Spanish literary tradition notably Don Quixote and Don Juan biological theories of gender prevalent in the 1920s and 1930s and the growth of an organized feminist movement that coincided with the burgeoning Republican movement This is the first book dealing with this period of Spanish literature to consider women novelists such as Maria Martinez Sierra Carmen de Burgos and Concha Espina alongside canonical male novelists including Miguel de Unamuno Ramon del Valle Inclan and Pio Baroja With its contrasting conceptions of modernism Johnson's work provides a compelling new model for bridging the gender divide in the study of Spanish fiction WIPO Magazine, Issue 4/2018 (August)

Migrations in Spanish and Latin American Culture and Literature is a collective aesthetic historical literary and cultural analysis of how biopolitical cultural and economic trends have impacted narratives about migration in the Hispanic world. Considering migrants as protagonists of their stories, the book approaches the migrant as a subject of cultural patrimony and knowledge. The different articles written by scholars from the United States, Japan, Norway, the United Kingdom, and Ecuador examine how Hispanic art and narratives of migrancy allow us to re-evaluate the cultural understanding of borders.

The Monument of Tomorrow Miguel Caballero, 2025-07-15. Rupture, iconoclasm, and tabula rasa are concepts commonly used to describe the approach to cultural heritage associated with the avant-garde and revolutionary politics during the early twentieth century. Highlighting artists and radical intellectuals who worked to protect public monuments in 1910-1950s Spain, The Monument of Tomorrow challenges the persistent narrative imposed by Francoism of an iconoclastic Second Republic in Spain. Author Miguel Caballero draws on a wide range of sources to examine how artists, architects, writers, and activists transformed monument and heritage conservation into a progressive experimental cause in their fight against fascism. During the Spanish War, with its devastating air raids, these individuals were motivated by the defense of culture to become determined conservationists. Caballero's research incorporates surviving monuments, architectural plans, propaganda posters, and literary works, including novels, plays, and poetry. The war became a laboratory for experiments in conserving and redefining monuments and national heritage. Modernist style protective structures, for example, were built atop Madrid's historic monuments, including statues of Cybele, Neptune, and Phillip III in Plaza Mayor. Such innovations later influenced strategies for safeguarding monuments during the Second World War. This history, Caballero argues, makes the Spanish War pivotal to the development of the concept of World Heritage. Ultimately, The Monument of Tomorrow demonstrates that heritage conservation does not have to be politically conservative. Those interested in anti-fascism, art history, modern architecture, modernism, cultural heritage conservation, and preservation, Iberian studies, and war studies should find valuable insights in this innovative original work.

Re/humanizing Education, 2022-05-16. Teaching and learning are profoundly personal experiences, yet systems of education often prioritize agendas that alienate people rather than engage them. Reconceptualizing teaching and learning as a co-constructed praxis places individuals at the heart of education, and in so doing, regards knowledge acquisition as a process of understanding that is dynamically and personally negotiated at the intersection of self, subject, and relationality. This approach, at once pedagogical and practical, has the capacity to transform the classroom from a place of containment to one of expansiveness. Through critical, qualitative, creative, and arts-integrated approaches, this collection aims to explore the co-curricular capacity of lived experience to re-humanize education. This is a timely project given the multiple race, health, environmental, and socio-political crises playing out on the world stage. Contributions include works by authors who explore co-curricular inclusion of lived experience for its potential to create more equitable and representative curricula, co-curricular capacity of lived experience to advance relationality, both human and more than human and co curricular potential of lived experience to un privilege the current prioritization of the quantifiable in favour of more inclusive and holistic epistemologies Entrepreneurship in the Fourth Sector María Isabel Sánchez-Hernández,Luísa Carvalho,Conceição Rego,Maria Raquel Lucas,Adriana Noronha,2021-06-09 The fourth sector is a relatively new sector that consists of for benefit organizations that combine market based approaches of the private sector with the social and environmental aims of the public and non profit sectors This book examines trends of entrepreneurship in the fourth sector describes specific ecosystems fostering new ventures around the world and characterizes the most common and innovative business models It covers as well the main effects among others of technological change innovation and institutional behavior on the sector in the last years Empowerment, Transparency, Technological Readiness and their Influence on Financial Performance, from a Latin American Perspective Martha Ríos Manríquez,2021-08-23 Empowerment Transparency Technological Readiness and their Influence on Financial Performance from a Latin American Perspective showcases in depth analysis allowing companies to obtain information for a broader vision to help make decisions about intervention market performance and strategy development possibilities RESPONSABILIDAD SOCIAL CORPORATIVA.  Based on years of archival research in Madrid and Barcelona this interdisciplinary study offers a fresh approach to understanding how men visualized themselves and their place in a nation that struggled to modernize after nearly a century of civil war colonial entanglement and imperial loss Masculine Figures is the first study to provide a comprehensive overview of competing models of masculinity in nineteenth century Spain and it is particularly novel in its treatment of Catalan texts and previously unstudied evidence e.g. department store catalogs commercial advertisements fashion plates and men's tailoring journals Fictional masculinity performs a symbolic role in representing and negotiating the contradictions male novelists often encountered in their attempts to professionalize not only as writers but also as businessmen professors lawyers and politicians Through specific and recurring figures like the student the priest the businessman and the heir male novelists portray and represent an increasingly middle class world at odds with the values and virtues it inherited from an imperial Spanish past and those it imported from more industrialized nations like England and France The visual culture of the time and place marks the material turn in middle class masculinity and sets the stage for discussions of race and sexuality
