Manuscript Found in Accra - Limited Edition Paulo Coelho, 2013-04-02 A deluxe limited edition signed by the author with a silk ribbon marker illustrated endpapers and foil stamped case in a special presentation box of the latest novel from the 1 internationally best selling author of The Alchemist There is nothing wrong with anxiety Although we cannot control God's time it is part of the human condition to want to receive the thing we are waiting for as quickly as possible Or to drive away whatever is causing our fear Anxiety was born in the very same moment as mankind And since we will never be able to master it we will have to learn to live with it just as we have learned to live with storms July 14 1099 Jerusalem awaits the invasion of the crusaders who have surrounded the city's gates There inside the ancient city's walls men and women of every age and every faith have gathered to hear the wise words of a mysterious man known only as the Copt He has summoned the townspeople to address their fears with truth Tomorrow harmony will become discord Joy will be replaced by grief Peace will give way to war None of us can know what tomorrow will hold because each day has its good and its bad moments So when you ask your questions forget about the troops outside and the fear inside Our task is not to leave a record of what happened on this date for those who will inherit the Earth history will take care of that Therefore we will speak about our daily lives about the difficulties we have had to face The people begin with questions about defeat struggle and the nature of their enemies they contemplate the will to change and the virtues of loyalty and solitude and they ultimately turn to questions of beauty love wisdom sex elegance and what the future holds What is success poses the Copt It is being able to go to bed each night with your soul at peace Now these many centuries later the wise man's answers are a record of the human values that have endured throughout time And in Paulo Coelho's hands The Manuscript Found in Accra reveals that who we are what we fear and what we hope for the future come from the knowledge and belief that can be found within us and not from the adversity that surrounds us

Therapeutic Worlds Daniel Nehring,Dylan Kerrigan,2019-02-04 This book builds a fresh perspective on therapeutic narratives of intimate life Focusing on the question of how popular psychology organises everyday experiences of intimacy its argument is grounded in qualitative research in Trinidad in the Anglophone Caribbean Against the backdrop of Trinidad s colonial and postcolonial history the authors map the development of therapeutic institutions and popular therapeutic practices and explore how transnationally mobile commercial forms of popular psychology mostly originating in the Global North have taken root in Trinidadian society through online social networks self help books and other media In this sense the book adds to social research on the transnational spread of a digital attention economy and its participation in the proliferation of popular psychological discourse Drawing on in depth interviews with self help readers the book considers how popular psychology organises their everyday experiences of intimate life It argues that the proliferation of self help media contributes to the psychologisation of intimate relationships and obscures the social dimensions of intimacy in terms of gender race ethnicity and other social structures and inequalities At the same time the book draws on anthropological arguments about the colonisation of consciousness in the Global South to interpret the insertion of transnationally mobile popular psychology into Trinidadian society An innovative contribution to scholarship on therapeutic cultures which explores the widely under researched dissemination of popular psychology in the Global South the book adds to a sociological understanding of the ways in which therapeutic narratives of self and intimate relationships come to be incorporated into everyday experience As such it will appeal to scholars of cultural studies anthropology and the sociology of gender sexuality families and personal life
