Hamilton, Barbara Lynne Milgram, 2007 Winner of the R L Shep Ethnic Textiles Award sponsored by the Textile Society of America Asia is renowned for the production of fine handwoven cottons and luxurious silks important items of trade for centuries In addition to these celebrated fabrics however weavers throughout the region produced cloth from ramie hemp pina and banana fibers including Philippine abaca and Okinawan ito basho as well as a number of lesser known plant fibers Over the course of the twentieth century many of these Asian plant fiber weaving traditions became marginalized or hovered on the brink of extinction given the advent of synthetic fabrics growing industrialization and increased international textile trade As the essays in this book testify however they have not vanished altogether Rather in recent times weavers have purposefully chosen to pursue various efforts directed at their preservation revival or reinvention In many cases the production of bast and leaf fiber textiles is now thriving in newly globalized situations. This volume presents eight essays documenting the current state of bast and leaf fiber weaving traditions in Vietnam Borneo Korea Burma Okinawa the Philippines Japan and Micronesia The processes that have nurtured or buffeted attempts to preserve or revive the production of these textiles are examined and abundantly illustrated with color photographs The Bamboo Basket Art of Higashi Takesonosai Lloyd E. Martin,2019-01-03 Japanese bamboo baskets have a very long history Until the 16th century they were primarily utilitarian and rustic items Those with an aesthetic value were imported from China Mirror of the Confucian values they displayed perfectly symmetrical shapes and a surprisingly regular weaving The turning point came from the codification of the tea ceremony in the 16th century Due to their extreme refinement the Japanese bamboo vases hanakago containing floral arrangements ikebana are elevated to the rank of works of art The masters of the golden era founders of this art constituted

Iizuka Rokansai 1890 1958 called the Picasso of the basket with his forty pieces The post war period is crucial in the diffusion of this art across the world especially in the USA in private collections or museums This resulted in the use of new shapes by contemporary artists but also in attempts at blending bamboo with new materials The main question is then about the artistic status of contemporary or modern artists whose work requires great technical and artisanal skills Inspired by classical formalism which vocabulary was set up thoroughly by Iizuka Rokansai the baskets of young contemporary artists are now becoming sculptures Devoid of any function they open up a unique artistic field Contemporary Japanese Bamboo Arts
