Habitat Marocain Documents Dynamics Informal:

Habitat Marocain Documents Sascha Roesler, 2015 The Habitat Marocain housing project was built in Casablanca between 1954-56 by two Swiss architects Jean Hentsch 1921-84 and Andr  Studer 1926-2007 The complex was part of the reconstruction and expansion scheme for the city under the French colonial administration in Morocco after World War II and meant to house local inhabitants rather than European expatriates This led to a culturally specific architectural approach Habitat Marocain is a prime example for the interplay between formal and informal building This book investigates the contradictions between the architects' cultural assumptions and the actual way of life of inhabitants It documents the ethnographic influence on the design for the entire dwelling and shows the various transformations to the buildings later made by the residents The rich material presented including many photographs by architect Andr  Studer plans and other documents illustrates the complex relations between ethnographic imagination design synthesis and the increasingly informal further development once construction was completed Habitat Marocain Documents tells the project's entire history from early planning stage to first occupancy and beyond The book reveals a complex process of research design construction and inhabitation that continues until the present day

Improvised Cities Helen Gyger, 2019-03-12 Beginning in the 1950s an explosion in rural-urban migration dramatically increased the population of cities throughout Peru leading to an acute housing shortage and the proliferation of self-built shelters clustered in barriadas or squatter settlements Improvised Cities examines the history of aided self-help housing or technical assistance to self-builders which took on a variety of forms in Peru from 1954 to 1986 While the postwar period saw a number of trial projects in aided self-help housing throughout the developing world Peru was the site of significant experiments in this field and pioneering in its efforts to enact a large-scale policy of land tenure regularization in improvised unauthorized cities Gyger focuses on three interrelated themes the circumstances that made Peru a fertile site for innovation in low-cost housing under a succession of very different political regimes the influences on and movements within architectural culture that prompted architects to consider self-help housing as an alternative mode of practice and the context in which international development agencies came to embrace these projects as part of their larger goals during the Cold War and beyond

Urban Agriculture for Growing City Regions Undine Giseke, Maria Gerster-Bentaya, Frank Helten, Matthias Kraume, Dieter Scherer, Guido Spars, Fouad Amraoui, Abdelaziz Adidi, Said Berdouz, Mohamed Chlaïda, Majid Mansour, Mohamed Mdafai, 2015-09-07 This book demonstrates how agriculture can play a determining role in integrated climate-optimised urban development Agriculture within urban growth centres today is more than an economic or social left-over or a niche practice It is instead a complex system that offers multiple potentials for interaction with the urban system Urban open space and agriculture can be linked to a productive green infrastructure this forms new urban-rural linkages in the urbanizing region and helps shape the city But in order to do this agriculture has to be seen as an integral part of the urban fabric and it has to be put on the local agenda Urban Agriculture

for Growing City Regions takes the example of Casablanca one of the fastest growing cities in North Africa to investigate this approach The creation of synergies between the urban and rural in an emerging megacity is demonstrated through pilot projects design solutions and multifunctional modules These synergies assure greater resource efficiency particularly regarding the use and reuse of water and they strengthen regional food security and the social integration of multiple spheres A transdisciplinary research approach brings together different scientific disciplines and local actors into a process of integrated knowledge production The book will have a long lasting legacy and is essential reading for researchers planners practitioners and policy makers who are working on urban development and urban agricultural strategies
