Handbook of Multicultural Mental Health Miguel E. Gallardo, Nahal Kaivan, 2013-07-19 This chapter provides a review of the literature on multicultural curriculum development including the ethics of intersection and culturally responsive practices We argue that the integration of the fourth multicultural and fifth social justice forces in mental health must be the epicenter of our training paradigms Despite our best efforts to ensure that training programs continue to evolve to solidify an academic environment that reflects the environmental and contextual changes in society many programs are unable to mirror their educational efforts with the ever evolving demographic changes As we continue to situate our training programs and students in ways that reflect the needs of ethnocultural communities our desire to separate the personal from the political will no longer be an acceptable approach to training The continued challenges in bridging much needed gaps in these areas are further discussed in this chapter and specific training models are presented Educational Research Ken

Springer, 2009-10-05 Clearly organized well written and user friendly Educational Research provides a comprehensive look at quantitative qualitative and mixed method approaches to research Using concrete examples throughout the book features a Spotlight on Research section providing an extended look at three published articles per chapter The book has been created with a breadth and depth fitting a higher level course yet is clear enough to accommodate students in advanced undergraduate classes Set up in a modular format this easy to read text can be followed in chronological order or chapters
