Why is this resource split by strand and overall expectations when there is only one mark for Language?

In order to be generic and suitable for use by many teachers, this resource is organized by strand and overall expectation. This allows you to pick and choose the comments that are most relevant to your students' progress. This resource is organized by strand and overall expectation. This allows you to pick and choose the comments that are most relevant to your students' progress. This resource is organized by strand and overall expectation. This allows you to pick and choose the comments that are most relevant to your students' progress.

How do I provide specific examples in the comments?

To include specific examples in the report card comments, you can refer to particular assignments, projects, or class activities where the student demonstrated improvement in grammar or highlighted a presentation where they contributed to the class. You can also mention a recent writing assignment where the student showed improvement in grammar or highlighted a presentation where they contributed to the class.

Some of these comments use too many characters... what should I do?

Yes, some comments are longer than others. Sentences can be removed or rearranged in order to make these comments shorter and more concise.
