Reclaiming American Catholicism John Gehring, 2025-08 The Catholic Church in the United States stands at a crossroads between crisis and opportunity At a time when only the second Catholic President in U.S. history is shaped by the culture and many social justice teachings of his faith the most vocal leaders in the U.S. Catholic hierarchy embrace a culture war Catholicism that pits them against President Biden the pastoral priorities of Pope Francis and many Catholics in the pews This book based on many interviews and the author's own reporting makes the argument that recalibrating the church's engagement with politics and public life is vital for both the Church and the country Yet American Catholicism is not simply defined by church politics theological disputes or the latest Catholic controversy in the headlines The Church that Pope Francis envisions bruised hurting and dirty because it has been out on the streets can be found every day among Catholic advocates working on the border in the lives of young Catholics who question the church's teachings but who are active in social justice campaigns in the persistence of LGBTQ Catholics who carve out tenuous shelters in a church that doesn't accept their full humanity and in the experiences of seminarians who work in the fields with migrants as part of their religious formation Throughout the book incorporates profiles of these Catholics weaves in on the ground reporting and examines trends that are essential in understanding the Catholic experience in the United States By illuminating the stories of these Catholics the book provides a richer portrait of American Catholicism than most people see in the media as well as offering living examples of a pastoral and prophetic Catholicism that can serve as inspiration for more systemic reform and renewal of information on determinants of disease disability and death at major stages of a woman's lifespan and the excess morbidity and premature mortality that this engenders has important adverse social and economic ramifications not only for Sub Saharan Africa but also for other regions of the world as well. Women bear much of the weight of world production in both traditional and modern industries. In Sub Saharan Africa for example women contribute approximately 60 to 80 percent of agricultural labor. Worldwide it is estimated that women are the sole supporters in 18 to 30 percent of all families and that their financial contribution in the remainder of families is substantial and often crucial. This book provides a solid documentary base that can be used to develop an agenda to guide research and health policy formulation on female health both for Sub Saharan Africa and for other regions of the developing world. This book could also help facilitate ongoing collaboration between African researchers on women's health and their U.S. colleagues. Chapters cover such topics as demographics, nutritional status, obstetric morbidity and mortality, mental health problems, and sexually transmitted diseases including HIV.
