Renn, Robert D. Reason, 2023-07-03. In this book, the authors bring together in one place essential information about college students in the US in the 21st century. Substantially revised and updated, this new edition addresses contemporary and anticipated student demographics and enrollment patterns, a wide variety of campus environments such as residential, commuter, online, hybrid, and a range of outcomes including learning, development, and achievement. The book is organized around Alexander Astin's Inputs-Environment-Outputs (I-E-O) framework. Student demographics, college preparation, and enrollment patterns are the inputs; Transition to college and campus environments are the substance of the environment; The outputs are student development, learning, and retention, persistence, completion. The authors build on this foundation by providing relevant contemporary information and analysis of students' environments and outcomes. They also provide strategies for readers to project forward in anticipation of higher education trends in a world where understanding college students in the United States is an ongoing project. By consolidating foundational and new research and theory on college students, their experiences, and college outcomes in the US, the book provides knowledge to inform policies, programs, curriculum, and practice. As a starting point for those who seek a foundational understanding of the diversity of students and institutions in the US, the book includes discussion points, learning activities, and further resources for exploring the topics in each chapter. Identity in Supervision Roger 'Mitch' Nasser, 2023-06-01.
