New Legal Approaches to Studying the Court of Justice Claire Kilpatrick, Joanne Scott, 2020-12-16 At the beginning of 2015 the Court of Justice opened its archives which created a new and challenging primary source for those studying the Court of Justice the dossiers de proc dure which contain much more than the contemporary documents published by the Court This volume includes five chapters which analyse the activities of the Court of Justice from a highly diverse range of non doctrinal perspectives However they also highlight significant new developments at the Court itself which attract attention and deserve analysis Thus the idea behind this volume is to make available new tools and approaches through which the activities of the Court of Justice can be studied It shows a more intense engagement with scholars across disciplines to reflect on law and courts with the Court of Justice as a central focus and new methods such as network citation analysis and sources such as the Court s archives being discovered and developed

It also shows a more intense and deeply knowledgeable engagement with EU law and the Court of Justice by non legal scholars such as the new sociologies and histories of the Court of Justice These and other new approaches have spawned productive and ongoing conversations across disciplines Interdisciplinary Comparative Law Husa, Jaakko, 2022-05-17 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 License It is free to read download and share on Elgaronline.com This insightful and timely book introduces an explanatory theory for surveying global and international politics Describing the nature and effects of democracy beyond the state Hans Agn explores peace and conflict migration politics resource distribution regime effectiveness foreign policy and posthuman politics through the lens of democratism to both supplement and challenge established research paradigms Legal Realism to Law in Action William Clune, 2021-12-16 This is a book of papers and interviews about innovative law school courses developed by faculty of the Wisconsin Law School from 1950 to 1970 that forged a path from legal realism to law and social science These courses took a law in action approach to the study of law which became a signature feature of the school's tradition from that time to the present day The Legal Realists of the 1920s and 30s taught that the law that mattered was the law in action as applied by ordinary officials and experienced by ordinary people But they mostly failed to get their program adopted as part of professional education alongside the study of appellate cases Only at Wisconsin thanks to a cluster of great scholar teachers in Willard Hurst Frank Remington Herman Goldstein Stewart Macaulay Bill Whitford and their collaborators has the Realist vision been fully and splendidly realized in law teaching This is the story of that thrilling experiment Robert W Gordon Professor of Law Emeritus Stanford University Chancellor Kent Professor Emeritus of Law and Legal History Yale Law School This book is a must read for anyone interested in the history of the law and society movement and the unique role that the University of Wisconsin Law School has played in that tradition In a series of essays by and interviews of current and former Wisconsin law teachers the creativity of Wisconsin's challenge to the traditional legal academy comes alive Lauren Edelman Agnes Roddy Robb Professor of Law and Professor of Sociology University of California Berkeley In a time when an increasing number of law schools characterize themselves as bastions of law in action this volume provides a bracing reminder of a more precise vision That vision was rooted in the legal realist tradition during an earlier golden age of sociolegal thought at the University of Wisconsin Law School In this important book we hear vivid accounts of the innovative law teaching during that time which took realist discoveries seriously in Contracts Legal Process Legal History and Criminal Law Elizabeth Mertz Research Professor American Bar Foundation John and Rylla Bosshard Professor Emerita UW Madison Law School
