After a long day on safari, Ernest Hemingway liked to kick back beside the campfire with a glass of cider. And Robert Frost saluted his favorite beverage with a poem titled "In A Glass of Cider." Neck and neck with brewing beer at home is the resurgence of making cider. Whether sweet, hard, blended, or sparkling, trend watchers say cider, once the preferred beverage of early America, could very well become the drink of the future. Hard cider is the fastest growing segment of the beverage industry. Keeping pace with the commercial cider producers are small-scale and individual cider makers who have discovered how easy it is to make their own. After all, the only ingredient you need is an apple. In this updated edition of Cider, Annie Proulx and Lew Nichols take you step by step through the process that renders fruit into a refreshing drink. In addition to learning about the equipment you'll need to make a glorious cider, Proulx and Nichols also discuss the pros and cons of various types of apple presses, from traditional heavy grinders to sleek hydraulic presses. You'll also learn about the glass bottles vs. wooden barrels debate, how to filter fine, and rack your cider, and where and how to store it. Proulx and Nichols provide detailed recipes for making six types of cider: still, sparkling, champagne, barrel French, and flavored, with advice on which apples to use to achieve a tart, aromatic, astringent, or neutral quality in your cider.
