Grace Triumphant A Tale Of The Slave Trade:

Grace Triumphant Alicia A. Willis, 2015-11-18 Profligate London 1788 Slave ships haunt the seas bearing human cargos to further the wealth of the rich and destroy the souls of the slave traffickers Russell Lawrence is an avid skeptic Captain of the slave ship Barbados wealthy and a respected leader he views religion as a crutch for the weak But when the debauchery of the slave trade begins to destroy his good morals his battle becomes more than fighting pirates and mutineers What if there really is a God Impressed as a cabin boy Jack Dunbar sees his forced service on the Barbados as a God given opportunity to witness Christ to the crew But his efforts to influence the hardened slavers seems to be doing little good How is it possible to live as a Christian on the sin ravaged seas Can his light shine bright in Africa s dark interior Back in Grosvenor Square Elizabeth Grey battles opposition from society and her self seeking fiance Her work with John Newton to end the slave trade is being harshly attacked She faces life branded as a jilter and radical if she stands up for what she believes in Will she ever glean the strength to call sin by its rightful name A tale of adventure on the high seas redemption and faith Sin abounds Is grace enough to conquer doubt and triumph over evil

Basker,Richard Gilder Professor of Literary History James G Basker,2002-01-01

The Life of William Wilberforce, by his sons, R. I. W. and S. W. With extracts from his Diary, Journal, and Correspondence Robert Isaac Wilberforce, 1843 The Life of William Wilberforce Robert Isaac Wilberforce, Samuel Wilberforce, 1843 Race, Romanticism, and the Atlantic Professor Paul Youngquist, 2013-06-28 In highlighting the crucial contributions of diasporic people to British cultural production this important collection defamiliarizes prevailing descriptions of Romanticism as the expression of a national character or culture The contributors approach the period from the perspective of the Atlantic maritime economy making a strong case for viewing British Romanticism as the effect of myriad economic and cultural exchanges occurring throughout a circum Atlantic world driven by an insatiable hunger for sugar and slaves Typically taken for granted the material contributions of slaves sailors and servants shaped Romanticism both in spite of and because of the severe conditions they experienced throughout the Atlantic world The essays range from Sierra Leone to Jamaica to Nova Scotia to the metropole examining not only the desperate circumstances of diasporic peoples but also the extraordinary force of their creativity and resistance Of particular importance is the emergence of race as a category of identity class and containment Race Romanticism and the Atlantic explores that process both economically and theoretically showing how race ensures the persistence of servitude after abolition At the same time the collection never loses sight of the extraordinary contributions diasporic peoples made to British culture during the Romantic era Growing in Christian Morality Julia Ahlers, Barbara Allaire, Carl Koch, 1996 A Christian morality course designed to be part of the religion curriculum within a Catholic high school The course focuses on character development

Imperial Affliction Thomas Simmons, 2010 In many ways Robert J C Young writes colonization from the very first carried with it the seeds of its own destruction Imperial Affliction examines some ways in which Young's observation could be applied to problems of subjectivity and influence within the colonizing nations themselves particularly eighteenth century Britain How might these seeds of destruction manifest themselves as problems of identity How might the very selves with greatest access to self affirmation the idea of the empire the idea of British citizenry the idea of the British self actually find themselves vulnerable confused or damaged Using multiple forms of postcolonial critique this book turns back to salient eighteenth century British lives and work for a different kind of enlightenment Among its central subjects are the elusive subjectivity of William Collins the exilic religious experience of William Cowper and its multiple readings in the twentieth century by a self fashioned exilic Donald Davie the missed encounter between Christopher Smart and Samuel Johnson and the ways in which that problem was re inscribed in the work of W Jackson Bate and Lionel Trilling the problem of imperial fixity in James Cook's journals with a view to Gray's Elegy and Goldsmith's Deserted Village and the problem of purity as a paradoxically privileged and exilic force in the work of John Newton and Christopher Smart In these explorations this book illustrates both an expanded view of eighteenth century colonial liabilities and a new emphasis on postcolonial critique as a means of exploring the fissures always present in imperial ambition The Local Preachers' Magazine and Christian Family Record, 1877

Fieldwork of Empire, 1840-1900 Adrian S. Wisnicki, 2019-03-20 Fieldwork of Empire 1840 1900 Intercultural Dynamics in the Production of British Expeditionary Literature examines the impact of non western cultural political and social forces and agencies on the production of British expeditionary literature it is a project of recovery The book argues that such non western impact was considerable that it shaped the discursive and material dimensions of expeditionary literature and that the impact extends to diverse materials from the expeditionary archive at a scale and depth that critics have previously not acknowledged The focus of the study falls on Victorian expeditionary literature related to Africa a continent of accelerating British imperial interest in the nineteenth century but the study's findings have the potential to inform scholarship on European expeditionary imperial and colonial literature from a wide variety of periods and locations The book's analysis is illustrative not comprehensive Each chapter targets intercultural encounters and expeditionary literature associated with a specific time period and African region or location The book suggests that future scholarship especially in areas such as expeditionary history geography cartography travel writing studies and book history needs to adopt much more of a localized non western focus if it is to offer a full account of the production of expeditionary discourse and literature

The Encyclopædia Britannica, 1898 The American News Trade Journal, 1924 The Encyclopaedia Britannica, 1888 The New Slave Narrative Laura T. Murphy, 2019-09-17 A century and a half after the abolition of slavery in the United States survivors of contemporary forms of enslavement from around the world have revived a powerful tool of the abolitionist movement first person narratives of slavery and freedom Just as Frederick Douglass Harriet Jacobs and others used autobiographical testimonies in the fight to eradicate slavery today's new slave narrators play a crucial role in shaping an antislavery agenda Their writings unveil the systemic underpinnings of global slavery while critiquing the precarity of their hard fought freedom At the same time the demands of antislavery organizations religious groups and book publishers circumscribe the voices of the enslaved coopting their narratives in support of alternative agendas In this pathbreaking interdisciplinary study Laura T Murphy argues that the slave narrative has reemerged as a twenty first century genre that has gained new currency in the context of the memoir boom post 9 11 anti Islamic sentiment and conservative family values politics She analyzes a diverse range of dozens of book length accounts of modern slavery from Africa Asia the United States the United Kingdom and Europe examining the narrative strategies that survivors of slavery employ to make their experiences legible and to promote a reinvigorated antislavery agenda By putting these stories into conversation with one another The New Slave Narrative reveals an emergent survivor centered counterdiscourse of collaboration and systemic change that offers an urgent critique of the systems that maintain contemporary slavery as well as of the human rights industry and the antislavery movement
