The Politics of Education in Developing Countries Sam Hickey, Naomi Hossain, 2019-02-21 Why have many developing countries that have succeeded in expanding access to education made such limited progress on improving learning outcomes There is a growing recognition that the learning crisis constitutes a significant dimension of global inequality and also that educational outcomes in developing countries are shaped by political as well as socio economic and other factors The Politics of Education in Developing Countries focuses on how politics shapes the capacity and commitment of elites to tackle the learning crisis in six developing countries Bangladesh Cambodia Ghana Rwanda South Africa and Uganda The problem of education quality is serious across the Global South The Politics of Education in Developing Countries From Schooling to Learning deploys a new conceptual framework the domains of power approach to show how the type of political settlement shapes the level of elite commitment and state capacity to improving learning outcomes The domain of education is prone to being highly politicized as it offers an important source of both rents and legitimacy to political elites and can be central to paradigmatic elite ideas around nation building and modernity Of particular importance is the relative strength of coalitions pushing for access as against those focused on issues of higher quality education This book concludes with a discussion of entry points and strategies for thinking and working politically in relation to education quality reforms and critical commentaries

Mr. Lancaster's System Adam Laats, 2024-09-17 How a con artist reformer shaped America's modern public schools Two centuries ago London school reformer Joseph Lancaster swept into New York

City to revolutionize its public schools Pennsylvania and Massachusetts passed laws mandating Lancaster's methods and cities such as Albany Savannah Detroit and Baltimore soon followed In Mr Lancaster's System Adam Laats tells the story of how this abusive scheming reformer fooled the world into believing his system could provide free high quality education for poor children The system never worked as promised but thanks to real work done by students teachers and families Lancaster's failed reforms eventually led to the creation of the modern public school system Lancaster's idea was simple instead of hiring expensive adult teachers Lancasterian schools made children teach one another to read write and behave properly America's city leaders poured the equivalent of millions of dollars into the scheme built specialized school buildings featuring Lancaster's teaching machines and offered him a huge salary In London where Lancaster opened his first school the enthusiasm of city leaders was quickly and similarly followed by scandal and dismay Lancaster borrowed money even from the king of England and spent it on fancy carriage rides and cases of champagne Even worse Lancaster proved to be a sexual predator Kicked out of London Lancaster brought his simplistic plan to the United States His school model didn't work any better in US cities than it had in London and Lancaster himself never changed his abusive ways Mr Lancaster's System details how American cities created their first public schools out of the wreckage of Lancasterian failure In the end the most important people in this story are not self-proclaimed geniuses like Lancaster or elites like New York's mayor De Witt Clinton but rather the thousands of parents and children who forced urban public schools to assume their modern shape

The Parent Trap Nate G. Hilger, 2023-04-04 How parents have been set up to fail and why helping them succeed is the key to achieving a fair and prosperous society Few people realize that raising children is the single largest industry in the United States Yet this vital work receives little political support and its primary workers parents labor in isolation If they ask for help they are made to feel inadequate there is no centralized organization to represent their interests and there is virtually nothing spent on research and development to help them achieve their goals It s almost as if parents are set up to fail and the result is lost opportunities that limit children s success and make us all worse off In The Parent Trap Nate Hilger combines cutting edge social science research revealing historical case studies and on the ground investigation to recast parenting as the hidden crucible of inequality Parents are expected not only to care for their children but to help them develop the skills they will need to thrive in today s socioeconomic reality but most parents including even the most caring parents on the planet are not trained in skill development and lack the resources to get help How do we fix this The solution Hilger argues is to ask less of parents not more America should consider child development a public investment with a monumental payoff We need a program like Medicare call it Familycare to drive this investment To make it happen parents need to organize to wield their political power on behalf of children who will always be the largest bloc of disenfranchised people in this country The Parent Trap exposes the true costs of our society s unrealistic expectations around parenting and lays out a profoundly hopeful blueprint for reform

The Political Economy of Fossil Fuel Subsidy Removal Mariza Montes de Oca Leon,Achim Hagen,Franziska Holz,2024-11 We study the impact of fossil fuel subsidy removal on presidential popularity using difference indifference approaches and a stylized theoretical model Analyzing macro level data for two subsidy removal events in Mexico and Bolivia in the early 2010s we find evidence of a negative impact on presidential approval Our theoretical probabilistic voting model predicts that the decline in popularity is driven by high income groups if subsidies are regressive and that lack of trust in the government lowers popularity of the removal in all income groups We confirm these predictions using micro level data for the Mexican subsidy removal event
