four teams of researchers use different methodologies while analysing the same corpus of data collected in a South African mathematics classroom In the second part each of these teams makes a specific proposal about what can be done and how so that its research generated insights have a tangible beneficial impact on what is happening in mathematical classrooms Combining two discourses that of researchers speaking to one another and that of researchers communicating their insights to those responsible for educational practice the book deals with the perennial question of communication between those who study educational processes and those who are directly responsible for teacher education educational research and classroom practices This book will be key reading for postgraduates researchers and academics in education and particularly in the areas of mathematics education education research teacher education and classroom practice It will also appeal to teacher educators practitioners and undergraduate students interested in educational research
