Cross-Cultural Competence for a

Twenty-First-Century Military Robert Greene Sands,, Allison Greene-Sands,2013-12-24 Warfare in the 21st century is far different than warfare throughout the 19th and 20th centuries Conventional warfare was about kinetic force and bending an adversary by might and strength Skills valued were those related to mastery of weapons and placing ordnance on target Courage and valor were defined by conflict militaries were distinct from the population and occupation was an enduring stage of war Contemporary warfare besides continuing to be an exercise in military strength is composed of missions that depend on skills to forge interpersonal relationships and build sustainable partnerships with a host of actors that once had no voice or role in conflict s duration or conclusion Today final victory does not conclude directly from conflict in fact victory may be subsumed into the larger and more consuming equation of international stability Twenty first century warfare is about counterinsurgency and counter terrorism through an array of strategies that foster collusion and collaboration not acquiescence Cross cultural competence 3C is a suite of competencies and enablers that have been identified as critical to instill in expeditionary military and civilian personnel in the Department of Defense DoD Defined as a set of knowledge skills abilities and attitudes KSAs 3C promotes effective interaction across cultural divides through exchanging ideas and meaning across cultures facilitating effective cross cultural interactions to develop and sustain relationships and providing a means to discern meaning from foreign and culturally different behavior 3C permeates DoD policy doctrine strategy and operations and is now being institutionalized in DoD military and civilian education and training Cross Cultural Competence for a Twenty First Century Military Culture the Flipside of COIN is a volume edited by two acknowledged experts on 3C in military learning policy and research and explores the value and necessity of 3C to developing 21st Century warfighters This volume features chapters by the editors and a host of multidisciplinary experts that probes all aspects of 3C from concept to application The message carried throughout Cross Cultural Competence for a 21st Century Military is that contemporary and future security endeavors will be successful because winning wars ultimately rest on developing and sustaining cross cultural relationships as much as it does on weapons and force

The Conflict Paradox Bernard S. Mayer, 2015-01-05 Find the roadmap to the heart of the conflict The Conflict Paradox is a guide to taking conflict to a more productive place Written by one of the founders of the professional conflict management field and co published with the American Bar Association this book outlines seven major dilemmas that conflict practitioners face every day Readers will find expert guidance toward getting to the heart of the conflict and will be challenged to adopt a new way to think about the choices disputants face They will also be offered practical tools and techniques for more successful intervention Using stories experiences and reflective exercises to bring these concepts to life the author provides actionable advice for overcoming roadblocks to effective conflict work Disputants and interveners alike are often stymied by what appear to be unacceptable alternatives The Conflict Paradox offers a new way of understanding and working with these so that they become not obstacles but opportunities for helping people move through conflict successfully Examine the contradictions at the center of almost all conflicts Learn how to bring competition and cooperation avoidance and engagement optimism and realism together to make for more power conflict intervention Deal effectively with the tensions between emotions and logic principles and compromise neutrality and advocacy community and autonomy Discover the tools and techniques that make conflicts less of a hurdle to overcome and more of an opportunity to pursue Conflict is everywhere and conflict intervention skills are valuable far beyond the professional and legal realms With insight and creativity solutions are almost always possible For conflict interveners and disputants looking for an effective and creative approach to understanding and working with conflict The Conflict Paradox provides a powerful and important roadmap for conflict intervention

Cultural Encounters and Emergent Practices in Conflict Resolution Capacity-Building Tamra Pearson d'Estrée, Ruth J. Parsons, 2018-05-31 Undoubtedly the most comprehensive analysis of the role of culture and emergent practices in capacity building currently at hand d'Estrée and Parsons have produced a commendable amalgamation and scrutiny of local cultural and Indigenous mediation practices in a number of contexts that empower local people while interacting and integrating with Western mediation models in a blend of hybridity The book is beautifully structured and will attract a wide readership including graduate and undergraduate students Sean Byrne Director Arthur V Mauro Centre for

Peace Justice and Professor Peace Conflict Studies University of Manitoba Canada Since late 1990s conflict resolution field has recognized the need to integrate culture in its processes This book goes beyond such theoretical recognition and provides empirical evidence and solid concrete cases on how local actors from a wide range of cultural contexts integrated their cultural analysis and tools in their own sustainable conflict resolution processes It also offers an effective set of guidelines and lessons learned for policy makers and peacebuilding practitioners on the need to deepen their reliance on local cultural practices of peace Mohammed Abu Nimer Professor of International Peace and Conflict Resolution School of International Service American University and Founder and Director of the Salam Peacebuilding and Justice Institute in Washington DC USA The evolving identities of communities impacted by deep historical divisions and population migration in the context of life threatening resource shortages present opportunities and challenges for conflict transformation professionals at every level d Estr e and Parsons respond to this challenge with a remarkable collection of stories from around the world that amplify the innovation in the field while capturing its history and complexity It serves as the bridge between mediation and peacebuilding that is so necessary today Prabha Sankaranarayan CEO Mediators Beyond Borders International In this excellent book Tamra Pearson d Estr e and Ruth Parsons and their impressive collection of case study authors have analysed four generations of conflict resolution transformation theory and practice They highlight the diverse ways in which the burgeoning field of conflict resolution theorists and practitioners mirrored the ascendance and now decline of the neo liberal western project First and second generation efforts were based on notions of possessive individualism rational choice theory and a general acceptance of the status quo Culture was ignored or eliminated as were deeper questions of political and social inequality But more importantly there was an unwillingness to consider the power and the wisdom that resided in locality Third and fourth generation conflict transformers on the other hand have engaged these deeper questions and focused more attention on emancipatory creative partnerships social and economic justice co learning and hybridised models flowing from external engagement with local wisdom This is a book that needs to be read by anyone interested in the transformative power of conflict resolution and long term social and political change Kevin P Clements Professor Chair and Foundation Director The National Centre for Peace and Conflict Studies University of Otago New Zealand While waves of scholarship have focused either on the value of presumed universal models or of traditional practices of conflict resolution curiously missing has been the recognition and analysis of the actual intermingling and interacting of western and local cultural practices that have produced new and emergent practices in our global community In this compilation of case studies the authors describe partnerships forged between local practice expertise and bearers of western institutional models to build innovative approaches to mediation and conflict resolution Including stories of these experiences and the resulting hybrid models that emerged the book explores central questions of cultural variation and integration such as the perception of purpose and function of resolution processes attitudes toward conflict arenas and
