The Oxford Handbook of Identity Development Kate C. McLean, Moin U. Syed, 2015. Identity is defined in many different ways in various disciplines in the social sciences and sub-disciplines within psychology. The developmental psychological approach to identity is characterized by a focus on developing a sense of the self that is temporally continuous and unified across the different life spaces that individuals inhabit. Erikson proposed that the task of adolescence and young adulthood was to define the self by answering the question "Who Am I?" There have been many advances in theory and research on identity development since Erikson's writing over fifty years ago, and the time has come to consolidate our knowledge and set an agenda for future research. The Oxford Handbook of Identity Development represents a turning point in the field of identity development research. Various and disparate groups of researchers are brought together to debate, extend, and apply Erikson's theory to contemporary problems and empirical issues. The result is a comprehensive and state-of-the-art examination of identity development that pushes the field in provocative new directions.

Scholars of identity development adolescent and adult development and related fields as well as graduate students advanced undergraduates and practitioners will find this to be an innovative unique and exciting look at identity development

The influence of clients on the social identities within the audit profession Johanna Sylvander, 2020-03-02 The overall purpose of the thesis is to explore the meaning of professionalism and independence for the individuals within the audit arena Professionalism is defined as the occupational values that guide auditors professional behaviour and how independence is understood is assumed to be influenced by the social groups the auditors identify with The audit arena consists of several social actors i e the audit profession audit firms and auditors as well as external constituencies of the profession i e accountants and accountees The audit profession both serves the public interest by quality ensuring the information provided by the accountants to the accountees as well as conducts business in a state sanctioned monopoly like market Appearing independent and professional is therefore critical for the profession as independence and professionalism is the basis of society's trust in the profession and may particularly influence the profession's ability to recruit and retain staff The audit profession audit firms offices and audit teams are social groups which influence the values attitudes and behaviours of the auditors through the process of socialization into the profession and the audit firm However accountants i e clients and accountees i e stakeholders such as investors are also social actors who may influence the values attitudes and behaviour of auditors if auditors identify with these social actors Exploring the social identities at play within the audit arena enables us to more fully understand the values that guide professional work The thesis empirically investigates the social identity audit arena through potential current and former audit employees perceptions of the audit arena where the data is both qualitative interviews and quantitative surveys in nature The empirical material provides both pre socialized and post socialized perspectives on the audit arena where the bulk of the material stems from the pre socialized perspective The thesis suggests that there are two types of auditors namely small client auditors and large client auditors where the small client auditor group dominates the audit arena The role of the small client auditor is described differently from the large public client auditor s role The small client auditor is perceived as a teacher who helps the clients run their businesses better and avoid problems with tax authorities et cetera making it necessary for the auditor to have a good and close relationship with the client in order to fulfil her his role The large client auditor is described more as having the traditional guardians of the market role Hence it seems as the small client auditor is guided by other values and has a different understanding of independence compared to the large client auditor However the large client auditor is also perceived as having a counselling teacher role indicating that some professional values are shared by small client and large client auditors These different roles auditors are perceived to have where independence and working for the public interest seem to mean different things can influence how new audit employees perceive the profession If employees expect to work as large client auditors but instead experience work being guided by small client auditor values or vice versa it may influence the willingness to stay in the profession These two roles are also a potential factor influencing the expectation gap i e the gap between what society thinks the auditor does and what s he does in practice These two roles may therefore influence society s image of the auditor and where the profession may have issues in appearing independent in the relationship with small clients

sig med dessa sociala grupper Genom att utforska vilka sociala identiteter som verkar inom revisionsarenan kan vi få ett större kunskapskring vilka värderingar som styr det professionella arbetet Avhandlingen undersöker potentiella nuvarande och för detta revisionsmedarbetares uppfattningar om revisionsarenan där empirin består av kvalitativ intervjuer och kvantitativ enkäter natur Det empiriska materialet ger både ett försocialiserat och eftersocialiserat perspektiv på revisionsarenan där tyngden ligger på det försocialiserade perspektivet Avhandlingen tyder på att det finns två typer av revisorer nämligen små bolagsrevisorer och storbolagsrevisorer där små bolagsrevisorer är den största gruppen Små bolagsrevisorns roll beskrivs annorlunda jämfört med hur storbolagsrevisorns roll beskrivs Små bolagsrevisorn uppfattas som en lågkostnad som hjälper klienterna att driva sina företag bättre och undvika problem med Skatteverket med mera vilket innebär att revisorn måste ha en god och nära relation med klienten för att kunna uppfylla sin roll Storbolagsrevisorn beskrivs mer som revisorsrollen traditionellt beskrivs där såsom en marknadsvaktare och en oberoende granskare Det verkar alltså som att små bolagsrevisorn utgör en annan professionell värderingar och har en annan förhållningssätt jämfört med storbolagsrevisorn Dock uppfattas storbolagsrevisorn även ha en rådgivande roll vilket indikerar att små bolagsrevisorer och storbolagsrevisorer delar vissa professionella värderingar Dessa olika roller som revisorer upplevs ha är oberoende och arbete för det allmänna intresse verkar betyda olika saker kan påverka hur nya anställda upplever revision som yrke Om anställda förväntar sig att arbeta som en storbolagsrevisor men istället för att uppleva yrket som en små bolagsrevisor eller tvärtom så kan det påverka viljan att vara kvar i yrket Dessa två roller är även en potentiell aspekt som påverkar förväntansgapet dvs skillnaden mellan vad samhället tror att revisorn gör och vad hen faktiskt gör Dessa två roller kan alltså påverka samhällets bild av revisorn där revisionsprofessionen kan ha svårt att hålla sig vara oberoende gentemot dessa mindre klienter
