Understanding the potential for territorial markets to promote healthy diets - Evidence from Lebanon Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2023-08-28 Smallholder farmers are responsible for most of the food consumed in the world as well as most of the investments made in agriculture They operate largely in a range of local and national markets that are embedded in territorial food systems also known as territorial markets For consumers these markets serve as key retail outlets for access to the foods needed for healthy diets in particular fresh fruits and vegetables fish meat and staple foods However despite their importance data concerning territorial markets such as the availability of food groups food retailers and consumer profiles are not often collected As a result territorial markets can be neglected in strategies aimed at improving nutrition reducing poverty and fostering local economies In Lebanon the importance of territorial markets as an essential food retail outlet was studied using a survey conducted in nine territorial markets This study on mapping territorial markets aims to better understand the functioning of these markets via sound data and evidence generation with an emphasis on market inclusivity and access to healthy and diversified diets taking into consideration the impact of Lebanon's economic and financial crisis on these markets

Enhancing the operations of local and traditional food markets in the context of the transition to sustainable agrifood systems FAO,2024-09-17 The State of Food Security and Nutrition in the World 2023 highlighted that over three billion people globally could not afford a healthy diet due to high costs and income inequality Local and traditional food markets especially in lower middle income countries are vital in providing access to fresh nutritious foods and supporting small scale producers Local and traditional food markets play a significant role in urban food environments particularly in Africa and Asia where urban populations increasingly rely on purchased food rather than self production These markets despite facing competition from supermarkets offer critical links between producers and consumers and foster market access for small enterprises Local and traditional food markets are pivotal in promoting sustainability and inclusivity within agrifood systems although they often lack proper infrastructure and organization leading to food losses and reduced nutritional quality This publication explores how subnational governments can enhance local and traditional food markets management to improve food safety storage and social inclusion Drawing on case studies and expert exchanges it offers practices for integrating sustainability into market operations It emphasizes the need for collaborative governance between local regional and national authorities to ensure local and traditional food markets support resilient sustainable agrifood systems

Towards Healthy Settlements Tianyao Zhang,2024-04-30 This book aims to formulate recommendations for achieving a healthy neighborhood living environment for the middle income people in China s suburbs In China the expeditious urbanization triggers the prosperous commodity housing development which further grows with the spatial restructuring and socioeconomic transition Residential suburbanization is generated accompanied with the emergence of new middle class and the change of lifestyle However the health effects of suburbanization in China are overlooked This book investigates the health performance of suburban residents and the effects of suburban living on residents health This book also examines the resident environment transaction modes to unfold the underlying mechanism of suburban living affecting residents health Suburban residents had to passively adapt to their residential environment which is the obstacle for achieving a health promoting environment The institutional dynamics determining the health performance of suburban living environment were addressed with the roles of governments developers planners housing managers residents committee and ordinary residents in commodity housing development The book found no institutional support for the creation of health promoting environments especially with default of governments and excessive dependence on developers for public service facilities and the absence of civil society Thus the book proposes that institutional innovations are necessary in term of embedding the health dimension in all sectors of the society enlisting collaboration between public and private sectors and between health and non health sectors and thus cultivating the optimization of residents environment transactions to create health promoting environments

Healthy Markets Healthy Markets: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a noteworthy surge in literary brilliance, with numerous engrossing novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of top-selling books, exploring the engaging narratives that have charmed audiences this year. Healthy Markets Healthy Markets : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This poignant tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover expertly weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can triumph. Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This spellbinding historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids captivating storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This captivating coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens weaves a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, entrancing readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These bestselling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of engaging stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and thrilling novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
