Many Lives Intertwined A Memoir:

Many Lives Intertwined Hyun Sook Han, Kari Ruth, 2004 Hyun Sook Han was born in Korea during a time when the Japanese occupied her country prior to World War II. She was still only a child when the Korean War broke out and she had to flee Seoul with her family. In the horror of that experience passing thousands of abandoned and dead children, she made a promise that she would come back to them as soon as she could. In the chaos and poverty of post-war Korea, she started on her path to fulfill that promise. In this book, Hyun Sook Han relates the very distinct lives she has led and how they've all come together in one amazing whole. Daughter, student, refugee, wife, emigrant, social worker, mother, Korean American, and adoption pioneer. Those who know only one of her lives will be fascinated to read about the others from the publisher.

Until I Find You Rachel Nolan, 2024-01-09 During Guatemala's decades-long civil war, tens of thousands of children, many of them Indigenous Maya, were coerced or kidnapped from their homes. They became commodities in a booming private adoption business and most wound up in the United States. Rachel Nolan explores the human toll of a global industry that thrives on exploitation.

Twin Memoirs Volume 1 Robert W. W. Parsons, 2017-09-21. Do you know your ancestry, your parents, grandparents, great grandparents, and great great grandparents? Have you taken the time to document your life since the day of your birth? I do, and I did. In Volume 1, I'll take you back to the old countries of France and Italy where my story begins with my great great grandparents. Their offspring came to America, the first generation of Americans. I'll guide you through the second generation who gave birth to our parents, the third generation. And then Michael and I, Matlin and Michael DeMarco, were born. We write about our lives, the ups and downs, the good and bad, the rags to riches journey. I'll introduce you to my life-long friends in a future volume and how each one impacted our lives. Coincidences and mysteries are constantly being revealed through our story. If you have a question about our journey, wait for it; it will be revealed. Myths and legends come to life and no longer are the fiction we thought them to be. Twin Memoirs is a series of 10 books in 5 volumes. The series began with the publication of a dream I had about mortality and space travel that was eventually fulfilled in my senior years. The dream was interrupted by a phone call. This book, The Flight of the Revelation, elaborates on the unfinished dream in the style of fiction. Between volumes 4 and 5, Revolution will be published, going into detail about the dream Michael had about immortality while on his death bed. Will the fifth generation come to fruition? You might wonder when you learn of the lifestyles that Michael and I led. But like I said, our lives, especially mine, were ever evolving. Will I have grandkids, them being of the sixth generation? Volume 1, Books 1 and 2, will tell you of my ancestry and bring you up to date through our high school years. These are the years that those mysteries pile up.

A Poetics of Arabic Autobiography Ariel M. Sheetrit, 2020-02-27. This book examines the poetics of autobiographical masterpieces written in Arabic by Leila Abouzeid, Hanan al-Shaykh, Samuel Shimon, Abd al-Rahman Munif, Salim Barakat, Mohamed Choukri, and Hanna Abu Hanna. These literary works articulate the life story of each author in ways that undermine the expectation that the self, the auto of autobiography, would be the dominant narrative focus. Although every autobiography naturally includes and relates to others to one degree or another, these autobiographies tend to foreground other characters, voices, places, and texts to the extent that at times it appears as though the autobiographical subject has dropped out of sight, even to the point of raising the question: is this an autobiography? These are indeed autobiographies. Sheetrit argues, albeit articulating the story of the self in unconventional ways. Sheetrit offers, in depth, literary studies that expose each text's distinct strategy for life narrative. Crucial to this book's approach is the innovative theoretical foundation of relational autobiography that reveals the grounding of the self within the collective, not as symbolic of it. This framework exposes the intersection of the story of the autobiographical subject with the stories of others and the tensions between personal and communal discourse Relational strategies for self representation expose a movement between two seemingly opposing desires the desire to separate and dissociate from others and the desire to engage and integrate within a particular relationship community culture or milieu This interplay between disentangling and conscious entangling constitutes the leitmotif that unites the studies in this book The Autobiography of Alice B.
