Indian Cinema Today and Tomorrow S. V. Srinivas, Ratheesh Radhakrishnan, Subhajit Chatterjee, GOYAL, OMTA, 2024-08-22 Cinema has been and is a powerful tool for social mobilisation. The political importance of cinema was of course always well known and has continued to evolve and grow. However, with innovations in modern technology, there has been the exponential growth of television alongside the movies, with content made especially for TV as well as social media. This volume covers developments in Indian Cinema over the last decade. It explores an array of changes which have dramatically changed cinema: a surge of new filming and broadcasting technologies from the camera phone to the most sophisticated digital equipment; an avalanche of talent from trained to completely untrained actors; and a volume of content difficult to document and categorise. It also studies cinema growth and reactions to the onslaught of home entertainment and discusses its changing formats over the years from TV to satellite to VCRs and DVDs, serials to OTT streaming platforms. This book will be of great interest to scholars and researchers in film studies, performance studies, cultural studies, media studies, and popular culture. It will also interest professionals working in media and entertainment industries.

Spaces and Places in Western India Bina Sengar, Laurie Hovell McMillin, 2019-09-05 This book studies places and spaces in Western India both as geographical locations and as imagined constructs. It uncovers the rich history of the region from the perspective of places of pilgrimage, commerce, community expression, and indigeneity. The volume examines how spaces are intrinsically connected to the lived experiences of people. It explores how spaces in Western India have been constructed over time and how these are reflected in both historical and contemporary settings in the art, architecture, political movements, and in identity formation. The rich examples explored in this volume include sites of Bhakti and Sufi literature, Maharashtrian Sikh identity, Mahanubhav pilgrimage, monetary practices of the Peshwas, and the internet as an emancipatory space for the Dalit youth in Maharashtra. The chapters in this book establish and affirm the forever evolving cultural topography of Western India. Taking a multidimensional approach, this book widens the scope of academic discussions on the theme of space and place. It will be useful for scholars and researchers of history, cultural studies, geography, the humanities, city studies, and sociology.
