CHEETAH POEM QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS GRADE 12

Cheetah - Charles Eglington

Indolent and kitten-eyed,
This is the hunter's innocent
The stealthy leopard permitted
With growling, gurgling purr-content.

Slouching through the ferny grass,
Or hunched-backed sitting in the shade,
Purring for the sun to glow,
And bask in twilight barmade.

Around the vast arena wherein,
In scattered herds, the grazing prey
Do not suspect in what and how
They'll join with him in fatal play.

His hunger drives stark others tight
And vibrant as a hunter's blow,
Then, like a flash of molten light,
He slurs across the still plain.

A noise takes the herd: they coast
The pungent breath of his admission;
Heads rear and look in sight
Complacent with the game of chance.

In which, of thousands, only one
Is caught in the cheetah's eye;
They retreat and then stampede, for none
Suspect which it is that has to die.

His death and stiffness fling a noise
And as his flying whiskers begin
To blur with speed, he rears the lower
Back on the mid horizon.
