Seeking Identity Nancy Mae Antrim, 2021-03-04. Seeking Identity: Language in Society looks at how we define and create identity, both as individuals and as a society, through language. Our language choices reflect not only how we view ourselves but how we are viewed by society. An individual's identity is reflected in various language-constructed identities: ethnicity, gender, and cross-cultural/counter-cultural. In turn, these identities are projected by society on the individual ethnic group by the language choices society makes in describing and addressing these individuals. In the first section, Language and Identity, an ethnolinguistic approach is used to address the areas of language, identity, loyalty, gender, and ethnic pride. Section two, Language and Advertising, looks at how society in turn uses language to relate to different groups by appealing to ethnic pride, language, identity, and the power/prestige that using a particular language variety entails. Section three, Language and the Media, explores how the media contributes to our construction of identity. Section four, Language and Discourse, shows how written discourse can appropriate, construct, and parody identity.
