Handbook of Social Work in Health and Aging Barbara Berkman, 2006-02-09 The Handbook of Social Work in Health and Aging is the first reference to combine the fields of health care aging and social work in a single authoritative volume These areas are too often treated as discrete entities while the reality is that all social workers deal with issues in health and aging on a daily basis regardless of practice specialization As the baby boomers age the impact on practice in health and aging will be dramatic and social workers need more specialized knowledge about aging health care and the resources available to best serve older adults and their families. The volume's 102 original chapters and 13 overviews written by the most experienced and prominent gerontological health care scholars in the United States and across the world provide social work practitioners and educators with up to date knowledge of evidence based practice guidelines for effectively assessing and treating older adults and their families new models for intervention in both community based practice and institutional care and knowledge of significant policy and research issues in health and aging. A truly monumental resource this handbook represents the best research on health and aging available to social workers today.

Post-Qualifying Mental Health Social Work Practice Jim Campbell, Gavin Davidson, 2012-03-22. Social workers and other professionals working in the area of mental health often face complex and difficult practice dilemmas shaped by increasingly demanding policy and legal contexts across the UK. Jim Campbell and Gavin Davidson focus on the post qualifying role played by mental health social workers in this book. The authors draw on theoretical and research perspectives on the subject before outlining how professionals can achieve best practice. Topics covered include Models of mental health and illness, Discrimination and social exclusion, Addressing service user needs, Carer perspectives, Working with individuals, families and communities. The chapters are accompanied by exercises which encourage readers to critically reflect on their own professional and personal experiences. Case studies are also included so that students can reappraise the knowledge they have learned in the text. The book will be essential reading for social work practitioners taking postgraduate courses in mental health and for those training to become Approved Mental Health Professionals.
