Womanist Pastoral Theology Against Intimate and Cultural Violence Stephanie M. Crumpton, 2014-10-02 This book is about Black women s search for relationships and encounters that support healing from intimate and cultural violence Narratives provide an ethnographic snapshot of this violence while raising concerns over whether or not existing paradigms for pastoral care and counseling are congruent with how many Black women approach healing Midwifing--A Womanist Approach to Pastoral Counseling Myrna Thurmond-Malone, 2019-08-01 Midwifing A Womanist Approach to Pastoral Counseling Investigating the Fractured Self Slavery Violence and the Black Woman is an investigation of intergenerational trauma Exploring the impact of slavery violence racism sexism classism and other isms on the self of the Black woman This examination of the complexity of pain speaks to the multidimensional reality of some Black women and the necessity for a therapeutic technique that invites the fullness of the Black woman s historical narrative Dr Thurmond Malone s work exposes hidden pain in a safe and sacred space that speaks to the deep rooted anguish experienced through generations of Black women and invites her readers to understand the necessity for a rebirthing to occur This work also empowers women of African descent to become unarmored through the naming claiming and reauthoring of their story and empowers therapists to become midwives adept at empathizing with the intense pain carried by some Black women Lastly the book provides clinicians with insight into how to become midwives capable of holding the accounts of Black women while illustrating the author s approach as a method of interdependence communal and cultural competency Taking an analytical look at the counselee s past then births hope for their future as a whole and transformative self

Doing Therapy with Intercultural Couples Sunita Noronha, 2022-04-28 Marital concord between couples from different racial and ethnic backgrounds is an issue that needs serious attention to bridge the vast chasms America welcomes people from all over the world People of all religions and ethnic backgrounds come here to study and migrants arrive here to work Interracial marriages are common but the radically different background of each couple can create discords and prove to be bumps on the highway of conjugal life This can have serious repercussions on the offspring and on the couple and their lives as well This book seeks to investigate how cultural realities can be addressed within intercultural premarital couples counseling Using a cultural focus approach couples stories around their particular culture and relationship were analyzed Themes related to relationship family and social ties and parenting bi cultural and bi racial children were examined Issues of religious and social influence money race ethnicity extended family immigration and biases in family of origin are explored as are roles and responsibilities communication respect trust and gender stereotyping The book adopts a pastoral theological approach in working towards a deeper understanding of premarital relationships of partners who represent cultural difference and diversity In conclusion recommendations to therapists and care givers for counseling intercultural couples are made

Practicality of Grace in Protestant Theology Michael G. Maness, Kevaghnn Mattis, 2021-05-20 These 15 articles were chosen by Testamentum Imperium Founder Kevaghnn Mattis with Michael G Maness from among 163 articles published in the 2011 online journal Each author was chosen for their expertise and decades of experience in the practice of pastoral care in their unique fields

How the practicality of grace applies in suicide sex addiction sexual assault shame hospital or prison chaplaincy even in eschatology and forgiveness is covered by these veterans in the field The articles touch a broad scope of affliction from physical to moral dilemmas And part of the choice was not to find from the 163 those who see eye to eye We desired to share the unique expertise Each author is a weathered captain who has ferried souls across tumultuous waves of grief confusion self control and internal torment to a port of healing and peaceful victory With contributions from Peter Lillback Glenn R Kreider Terry Ann Smith Timothy J Demy Patricia Cuyatti Chavez Leon Harris Christopher D Surber Keith A Evans Alan M Martin LaVerne Bell Tolliver John DelHousaye Enrique Ramos Sabrina N Gilchrist D J Louw Decentering Relational

Theory Lewis Aron,Sue Grand,Joyce A. Slochower,2018-06-13 Decentering Relational Theory A Comparative Critique invites relational theorists to contemplate the influence overlaps and relationship between relational theory and other perspectives Self critique was the focus of De Idealizing Relational Theory Decentering Relational Theory pushes critique in a different direction by explicitly engaging the questions of theoretical and clinical overlap and lack thereof with writers from other psychoanalytic orientations In part this comparison involves critique but in part it does not It addresses issues of influence both bidirectional and unidimensional Our authors took up this challenge in different ways Like our authors in De Idealizing writers who contributed to Decentering were asked to move beyond their own perspective without stereotyping alternate perspectives Instead they seek to expand our understanding of the convergences and divergences between different relational perspectives and those of other theories Whether to locate relational thought in a broader theoretical envelope make links to other theories address critiques leveled at us or push relational thinking forward our contributors thought outside the box The kinds of comparisons they were asked to make were challenging We are grateful to them for having taken up this challenge Decentering Relational Theory A Comparative Critique will appeal to psychoanalysts and psychoanalytic psychotherapists across the theoretical spectrum Neuroplasticity, Performativity, and Clergy Wellness

William D. Roozeboom,2016-12-24 This book invites readers particularly clergy members to rethink their understandings of the human person in light of recent developments in neuroscience In addition to bringing together religion and neuroscience it engages narrative theory exercise physiology and constructions of wellness to raise crucial questions about human identity and relationality and argue for a model of care that connects self care and care for with others Furthermore it claims that human beings are whole intra inter relational dynamic plastic and performative agents who have the capacity to story themselves neurophysiologically in both top down and bottom up ways through their regular practices of wellness

Recognizing Other Subjects Katherine E Lassiter,2017-01-26 How do we care justly when the self suffers because of the identity that they inhabit Pastoral theologian Katharine E Lassiter approaches this interdisciplinary question from a feminist perspective in order to understand how suffering subject formation and social injustice are connected Lassiter identifies the challenges of identity in developing a pastoral theological anthropology reflecting on tensions in her own experiences of caring for selves Drawing from theories of recognition she argues that doing just care requires recognizing the need for recognition as well as acknowledging the impediments to receiving interpersonal social and theological recognition Bringing together resources from pastoral theology and social theory she develops a feminist pastoral theology and praxis of encounter in order to advance a care that does justice Scholars social justice practitioners and pastoral caregivers will be able to use this resource to discover not only how and why recognition affects human development but also how we might implement a liberative theological praxis that is attentive to the role of recognition in subject formation Bringing Religion and Spirituality Into Therapy Joseph A. Stewart-Sicking, Jesse Fox, Paul J. Deal, 2019-06-25 Bringing Religion and Spirituality into Therapy provides a comprehensive and timely model for spirituality integrated therapy which is truly pluralist and responsive to the ever evolving World of religion spirituality This book presents an algorithmic process based model for organizing the abundance of theoretical and practical literature around how psychology religion and spirituality interact in counseling Building on a tripartite framework the book discusses the practical implications of the model and shows how it can be used in the context of assessment and case formulation research clinical competence and education and the broad framework ties together many strands of scholarship into religion and spirituality in counseling across a number of disciplines Chapters address the concerns of groups such as the unaffiliated non theists and those with multiple spiritual influences This approachable book is aimed at mental health students practitioners and educators In it readers are challenged to develop richer ways of understanding being and intervening when religion and spirituality are brought into therapy Postcolonial Practice of Ministry Stephen Burns, Kwok Pui-lan, 2016-07-13 Postcolonial studies has challenged the Eurocentric frameworks and methodologies in the fields of biblical studies and theology Postcolonial Practice of Ministry is a groundbreaking anthology that enables a new engagement between postcolonial and practical theologies focused on three key areas of the practice of ministry pastoral leadership liturgical celebration and interfaith engagement Postcolonial Practice of Ministry will make an impact in at least two areas of theological reflection first among postcolonial scholars it will stretch postcolonial theology into an area where it has been neglected second it will provide a comprehensive resource for rethinking the practice of ministry Contributors to this volume are well known scholars from different racial national and denominational backgrounds bringing with them experiences of hybrid identities and multicultural churches Many of them are pioneers in introducing postcolonial discourse to their fields A Perichoretic Pastoral Theology Jim Horsthuis, 2022-09-08 This book articulates a perichoretic pastoral theology offering a pastoral theological response to the question of how ministering persons practice ministry in communion with the triune God Key elements from contemporary pastoral theology theologies of human experience concern for human suffering and situational attentiveness are drawn into conversation with the doctrine of perichoresis Jim Horsthuis provides a vision for life and ministry in relational participational and spiritual communion with the Father Son and Holy Spirit The chapters explore four spiritual movements that foster this vision 1 the move from experience to relationship 2 the move from concern to presence 3 the move from competence to communion and 4 the move from practice to prayer The book represents a unique academic contribution to both pastoral theology and Trinitarian theology The Formation of Pastoral Counselors Duane R. Bidwell, Joretta L. Marshall, 2012-11-12 Explore the concept of formation in pastoral counseling from a variety of perspectives Two dozen of the most prominent clinicians and scholars in the field reflect on The Formation of Pastoral Counselors from clinical theological and theoretical perspectives This unique book explores the challenges to the personal and professional formation of pastoral counselors in a cultural and historic context that is radically different from the era when the profession first emerged as a specialized ministry Contributors examine formation from a variety of contexts and perspectives including spirituality and gender address theological education and intercultural issues and present emerging models for pastoral counselors The Formation of Pastoral Counselors is a practical guide for educators working to shape curricula and training programs to the shifting context in which pastoral counselors are formed for ministry service and lifelong learning This unique book examines ideas about appropriate content and processes for the formation of pastoral care professionals and looks at specialized contextual training models that form their emerging identities The book's contributors call on extensive experience in pastoral theology care and counseling to explore the essential components of formation across different contexts how those contextual realities change the delivery systems the epistemological nature of formation reasons for the limited roles that formal theological education and spiritual experience seem to play at the moment and why formation is rarely formally addressed in pastoral counseling training Topics discussed in The Formation of Pastoral Counselors include the turn to formation the goals of theological education core elements of pastoral theology developing spiritual practices diversity pastoral counseling training programs race and ethnicity in the formation of pastoral counselors cultural identity intercultural contexts practical relevancy in training gender identity and sexual orientation economic disparity Models and practices examined in The Formation of Pastoral Counselors include parallel charting clinician narratives group supervision Benedictine spirituality academic and clinical training at the Claremont School of Theology the model of formation at the Virginia Institute of Pastoral Care VPCare and much more The Formation of Pastoral Counselors is an essential guide for pastoral counselors faculty in pastoral theological care and counseling and training directors in pastoral counseling centers

Moving Beyond Individualism in Pastoral Care and Counseling Barbara J McClure, 2011-10-27 Despite astute critiques and available resources for alternative modes of thinking and practicing individualism continues to be a dominating and constraining ideology in the field of pastoral psychotherapy and counseling Philip Rieff was one of the first to highlight the negative implications of individualism in psychotherapeutic theories and practices As heirs and often enthusiasts of the Freudian tradition of which Rieff and others are critical pastoral theologians have felt the sting of his charge and yet the empirical research that McClure presents shows that pastoral counseling practitioners resist change Their attempts to overcome an individualistic perspective have been limited and ineffective because individualism is embedded in the field's dominant theological and theoretical resources, practices and organizational arrangements. Only a radical reappraisal of these will make possible pastoral counseling practices in a post individualistic mode. McClure proposes several critical transformations broadening and deepening the operative theologies used to guide the healing practice, expanding the role of the pastoral counselor, reimagining the operative anthropology, reclaiming sin and judgment, nuancing the particular against the individual, rethinking the ideal outcome of the practices and reimagining the organizational structures that support the practices. Only this level of revisioning will enable this ministry of the church to move beyond its individualistic limitations and offer healing in more complex, effective and socially adequate ways.

The Entangled God Kirk

Wegter-McNelly, 2012-03-12 In The Entangled God Kirk Wegter McNelly addresses the age old theological question of how God is present to the world by constructing a novel scientifically informed account of the God-world relation. Drawing on recent scientific and philosophical work in quantum entanglement, Wegter McNelly develops the metaphor of divine entanglement to ground the relationality and freedom of physical process in the power of God's relational being. The Entangled God makes a three-fold contribution to contemporary theological and religious discourse. First, it calls attention to the convergence of recent theology around the idea of relationality. Second, it introduces theological and religious readers to the fascinating story of quantum entanglement. Third, it offers a robust plerotic alternative to kenotic accounts of God's suffering presence in the world. Above all, this book takes us beyond the view of theology and science as adversaries and demonstrates the value of constructively relating these two important areas of intellectual investigation.

Opening the Red Door Hae-Jin Choe, 2022-04-14

Many second generation Korean Americans (SGKAs) are living lives of marginality on the edge of Korean American and American cultures. This double life often leads to heightened mental health concerns. The rise of Asian hate crimes in this country in recent months have added to the distress in this population. Due to cultural stigma, however, SGKAs may not seek out counseling or other mental health services. If they do, their unique cultural formation is often not fully addressed, impeding growth and healing. Red Door Ministry (RDM), a pastoral counseling center that started at a local Korean American church, serves as a model for addressing this issue. Built from a postcolonial understanding of third space, RDM is constructed with various culturally sensitive elements that allow SGKAs to move from places of shame on the margins to empowered new centers. This transformation is examined by four in-depth interviews of RDM clients. These clients show that healing and empowerment were possible because their complex cultural hybridity was addressed in the process of counseling. This process is analyzed using concepts from Western psychological theories, Korean American theology and postcolonial theory.

The Cry of Tamar Pamela Cooper-White, 2013-06-24

In this comprehensive practical and gripping assessment of various forms of violence against women, Pamela Cooper White challenges the Christian churches to examine their own responses to the cry of Tamar in our time. She describes specific forms of such violence and outlines appropriate pastoral responses The second edition of this groundbreaking work is thoroughly updated and examines not only where the church has made progress since 1995 but also where women remain at unchanged or even greater risk of violence Can You Hear My Pain Now? Michael G. Maness, Kevaghnn Mattis, 2022-05-05 Pastoral care and its theology get a gentle boost from some of the best in the business of caring for the soul When a person hurts they often look to God Several pathfinders give new light from their specialties each one speaking powerfully uniquely and artfully from decades of experience Dr Amos Yong's article on disability forwards the amazingly helpful term temporarily able bodied Greek Orthodox Dr Vasileios Thermos and Roman Catholic Dr Robert Fastiggi enlighten next to the powerful testaments of Professor Godfrey Harold on South Africa and Dr Samuel Yonas Deressa on Ethiopia Each weathered author contributes universal insights into the grace of our great God and challenges pastors throughout the Christian world to kindly consider the heart of the afflicted These finely hewn stones can be used by anyone in the ministry to sharpen their serve Mattis and Maness offer this third collection from Testamentum Imperium with a prayer that these will open new avenues of sensitivity to the hearts and souls of those in travail and aid those who are called by God to serve those in pain Gender, Violence, and Justice Pamela Cooper-White, 2019-03-20 Gender Violence and Justice is a volume of collected essays by an expert in the field of violence against women and pastoral theology It represents over three decades of research advocacy and pastoral theological reflection on the subject of sexual and domestic violence Topics include intimate partner violence sexual abuse and trauma and clergy sexual misconduct controversial theological issues such as forgiveness and as well positive frameworks for fostering well being in families church and society Framed by a foreword and an introduction that place this work in the context of new and contemporary challenges in theory and practice these essays show an evolution of issues and frameworks for theology care and activism arising over time from the movement to end violence against women both within and beyond religious communities while at the same time demonstrating an unchanging core commitment to gender justice
