Marbles Mania Depression Michelangelo And Me A Graphic Memoir:

Marbles Ellen Forney, 2012-11-06 Cartoonist Ellen Forney explores the relationship between crazy and creative in this graphic memoir of her bipolar disorder woven with stories of famous bipolar artists and writers Shortly before her thirtieth birthday Forney was diagnosed with bipolar disorder Flagrantly manic and terrified that medications would cause her to lose creativity she began a years long struggle to find mental stability while retaining her passions and creativity Searching to make sense of the popular concept of the crazy artist she finds inspiration from the lives and work of other artists and writers who suffered from mood disorders including Vincent van Gogh Georgia O Keeffe William Styron and Sylvia Plath She also researches the clinical aspects of bipolar disorder including the strengths and limitations of various treatments and medications and what studies tell us about the conundrum of attempting to cure an otherwise brilliant mind Darkly funny and intensely personal Forney s memoir provides a visceral glimpse into the effects of a mood disorder on an artist s work as she shares her own story through bold black and white images and evocative prose Marbles: Mania, Depression,

Michelangelo and Me Ellen Forney, 2013 Tegneserie graphic novel Shortly before her 30th birthday Forney was diagnosed with bipolar disorder She then began a long struggle over many years to find mental stability while retaining her creativity Darkly funny and intensely personal her memoir provides a humorous but authentic glimpse into the effects of a mood disorder on an artist s work as she shares her own story through black and white graphic images and prose Marbles

Harpin, 2018-01-19 How is madness experienced treated and represented How might art think around and beyond psychiatric definitions of illness and wellbeing Madness Art and Society engages with artistic practices from theatre and live art to graphic fiction charting a multiplicity of ways of thinking critically with rather than about non normative psychological experience It is organised into two parts Structures psychiatrists institutions treatments illuminates the environments figures and primary models of psychiatric care reconsidering their history and contemporary manifestations through case studies including David Edgar's Mary Barnes and Milos Forman's One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest Experiences realities bodies moods problematises diagnostic categories and proposes more radically open models of thinking in relation to experiences of madness touching upon works such as Richard Kelly's Donnie Darko and Duncan Macmillan's People Places and Things Reading its case studies as a counter discourse to orthodox psychiatry Madness Art and Society seeks a more nuanced understanding of the plurality of madness in society and in so doing offers an outstanding resource for students and scholars alike

101 Outstanding Graphic Novels Stephen Weiner, Ellen Forney, 2015-04-01 The popular primer on the best graphic novels initially called The 101 Best Graphic Novels is back in its third updated edition Expert librarian Stephen Weiner with the crowdsourcing help of professionals in the field from artists to critics to leading comic store owners has sifted through the bewildering thousands of graphic novels now available to come up with an outstanding not to be missed 101 With an all encompassing variety of genres including both fiction and nonfiction this serves as a great introduction to this increasingly influential world of pop culture and entertainment while also serving as a reference list for fans on what they may have possibly overlooked

The Lived Experience in Mental Health Gary Morris, 2016-09-15 The importance of recognising the knowledge and the needs of service users and engaging them more proactively within the care process is now widely acknowledged but it is not always clear how this can come about The Lived Experience of Mental Health highlights individuals own lived and felt mental health experience in order to share their expertise about mental health problems and the care offered This text begins by exploring the importance of engaging with the internal world of those living with various mental health problems and reflecting upon personal narratives as means of expressing and sharing experience as well as the status of these narratives as evidence The central section of the book looks at five commonly experienced mental health states anxiety problems depression mood extremes states of altered reality linked for example with psychosis and schizophrenia and impaired cognition linked for example with dementia The chapters look at how the mental state in question is experienced including the experience of it in the context of the wider world where health and social care services and the responses of other people play a part Drawing on personal narratives from a wide range of sources this text foregrounds the voices of experts by experience and relates them to the academic literature The narratives collectively convey a breadth of experience including both concepts of struggling and living well with mental health issues The book ends by outlining resources where a range of first person narratives can be accessed from online forums to films and providing a strategy for teaching and learning associated with the exploration of lived experience narratives Designed for health professionals working with people experiencing mental health problems this illuminating text uses personal narratives to emphasise the importance of person centred care and participation by service users in their own care It will also be an interesting read for experts by experience themselves as well as their families and friends
