Reconstructing American Historical Cinema J.E. Smyth, 2006-10-27 In Reconstructing American Historical Cinema From Cimarron to Citizen Kane J E Smyth dramatically departs from the traditional understanding of the relationship between film and history By looking at production records scripts and contemporary reviews Smyth argues that certain classical Hollywood filmmakers were actively engaged in a self-conscious and often critical filmic writing of national history Her volume is a major reassessment of American historiography and cinematic historians from the advent of sound to the beginning of wartime film production in 1942 Focusing on key films such as Cimarron 1931 The Public Enemy 1931 Scarface 1932 Ramona 1936 A Star Is Born 1937 Jezebel 1938 Young Mr. Lincoln 1939 Gone with the Wind 1939 Stagecoach 1939 and Citizen Kane 1941 Smyth explores historical cinema's connections to popular and academic historiography historical fiction and journalism providing a rich context for the industry's commitment to American history Rather than emphasizing the divide between American historical cinema and historical writing Smyth explores the continuities between Hollywood films and history written during the first four decades of the twentieth century from Carl Becker's famous Everyman His Own Historian to Howard Hughes's Scarface to Margaret Mitchell and David O. Selznick's Gone with the Wind Hollywood's popular and often controversial cycle of historical films from 1931 to 1942 confronted issues as diverse as frontier racism and women's experiences in the nineteenth century South the decline of American society following the First World War the rise of Al Capone and the tragic history of Hollywood's silent era Looking at rarely discussed archival material Smyth focuses on classical Hollywood filmmakers adaptation and scripting of traditional historical discourse and their critical revision of nineteenth and twentieth century American history Reconstructing American Historical Cinema uncovers Hollywood s diverse and conflicted attitudes toward American history This text is a fundamental challenge the prevailing scholarship in film history and cultural studies Library 2.0

Initiatives in Academic Libraries Laura B. Cohen,2007 Film Adaptation and Its Discontents Thomas

Leitch,2007-06-15 Most books on film adaptation the relation between films and their literary sources focus on a series of close one to one comparisons between specific films and canonical novels This volume identifies and investigates a far wider array of problems posed by the process of adaptation Beginning with an examination of why adaptation study has so often supported the institution of literature rather than fostering the practice of literacy Thomas Leitch considers how the creators of short silent films attempted to give them the weight of literature what sorts of fidelity are possible in an adaptation of sacred scripture what it means for an adaptation to pose as an introduction to rather than a transcription of a literary classic and why and how some films have sought impossibly close fidelity to their sources After examining the surprisingly divergent fidelity claims made by three different kinds of canonical adaptations Leitch s analysis moves beyond literary sources to consider why a small number of adapters have risen to the status of auteurs and how illustrated books comic strips video games and true stories have been adapted to the screen The range of films studied from silent Shakespeare to Sherlock Holmes to The Lord of the Rings is as broad as the problems that come under review The Making of... Adaptation and the Cultural Imaginary Jan Cronin,2019-11-25 This book explores Making of sites as a genre of cultural artefact Moving beyond making of documentaries the book analyses novels drama film museum exhibitions and popular studies that re present the making of culturally loaded film adaptations It argues that the Making of genre operates on an adaptive spectrum orienting towards and enacting the adaptation of films and their making The book examines the behaviours that characterise Making of sites across visual media it explores the cultural work done by these sites why recognition of Making of sites as adaptations matters and why our conception of adaptation matters Part one focuses on the adaptive domain presented by the Making of John Ford s The Quiet Man Part two attends to Making of Gone with the Wind sites and concludes with Making of The Lord of the Rings texts as the acme of the cultural risks and investments charted in earlier chapters
