poetry They farmed kept guest houses conducted schools and maintained networks of learning In other capacities they were involved in political assemblies and memorializing dynastic histories in landscape This book presents a framework for identifying and interpreting the settings and built heritages of their estates in lordship borderscapes It shows that a more textured definition of what this learned class represented can be achieved through the material record of the buildings and monuments they used and where their lands were positioned in the political map Where literati lived and worked are conceived as expressions of their intellectual and political cultures Mediated by case studies of the landscapes of their estates dwellings and schools the methodology is predominantly field based using archaeological investigation and topographic and spatial analyses and drawing on historical and literary texts place names and lore in referencing named people to places More widely the study contributes a landscape perspective to the growing body of work on autochthonous intellectual culture and the exercise of power by ruling families in late medieval and early modern northern European societies

Ribbon Societies in Nineteenth-century Ireland and Its Diaspora Kyle Hughes (Lecturer in British history), Donald M. MacRaild, 2018 This is the first full length study of Irish Ribbonism tracing the development of the movement from its origins in the Defender movement of the 1790s to the latter part of the century when the remnants of the Ribbon tradition found solace in a new movement the quasi constitutional affinities of the Ancient Order of Hibernians Placing Ribbonism firmly within Ireland s long tradition of collective action and protest this book shows that owing to its diversity and adaptability it shared similarities but also stood apart from the many rural redresser groups of the period and showed remarkable longevity not matched by its contemporaries The book describes the wider context of Catholic struggles for improved standing explores traditions and networks for association and it describes external impressions Drawing on rich archives in the form of state surveillance records show trial proceedings and press reportage the book shows that Ribbonism was a sophisticated and durable underground network drawing together various strands of the rural and urban Catholic populace in Ireland and Britain Ribbon Societies in Nineteenth Century Ireland and its Diaspora is a fascinating study that demonstrates Ribbonism operated more widely than previous studies have revealed
